NO. 245—SEVENTY-FIRST YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1929 | TWENTY-FOUR PAGES

THREE MEN KILLED IN ACCIDENT TO SEAPLANE

Merger of Boards With Councils Is Strongly Opposed

Convention of B.C. School Trustees Objects to Consolidation of Local Authorities—Discussion on American Textbooks Draws Our Conflicting Opinions as to Effect on Young Canadians

Problems Face Extension Of Normal School Course

(By Staff Representative)

NANAIMO, Sept. 23.—The British Columbia School Trustees' Association, which opened it annual convention here this afternoon, emphatically opposed the merging of its duties with those of municipal councils. The convention passed a resolution without dissent against any system of joining the school boards with the municipal councils, which it was stated was to form the subject of a resolution to be taken up by delegates of the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention next month at Harrison Hot Springs.

NORMAL SCHOOL COURSE

A resolution submitted by North Vancouver District in favor of asking for the extension of the Normal School course to two years was defeated.

Mr. J. W. Berry, M.P.P., said the Department of Education had been giving this subject a lot of attention. He did not think the time ripe for the move yet. Many things had to be taken into consideration with such a subject, and more money must have to be found. As a former teacher, he suggested something along the lines of the old Model School system in Ontario. Teachers might take the first course in the Normal School and after teaching say three years, obtain a lot of valuable practical experiences. If they were suited to the profession they might then be required to take an advanced course in pedagogy.

AMERICAN TEXTBOOKS

Party in in proceedings the subject came up of eliminating American books from the schools and substituting therefore Canadian and British books. It was raised on the resolution coming from the Burnaby School Board, which read as follows: "That the Department of Education be asked to train the teachers in Normal Schools to use Canadian readers, and discourage American silent and supplementary readers." After discussion the motion was carried.

The subject was dealt with by Inspector Stewart, representing the department, in the absence of the minister and the superintendent.

Mr. Stewart explained that the production of books was an economic one. There were in the United States some 20,000,000 children in the public schools utilizing, under a national system, largely the same textbooks. Canada in proportion of text books for the schools duration of grade should be three. In comparatively easy, inasmuch as it was made worth while for writers to prepare books to be used in such quantities.

In this country, with a small population, there was not the same incentive to the preparing of suitable books by educationists here. His experience with succeeding heads of the Department of Education had convinced him that these men had been just as good Britishers as were to be found anywhere.

There was this economic side to the situation that had to be faced.

LT.-GOVERNOR PRAISES WORK OF TRUSTEES

His Honor Opens School Trustees' Convention — Recognition of Service to the State

MR. F. V. HOBBS OCCUPIES CHAIR

NANAIMO, Sept. 23.—Under the guidance of Mr. Frank V. Hobbs, chairman of the Saanich School Board, the British Columbia School Trustees' Association opened its annual meeting here made splendid progress on its opening day.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, with Miss Mackenzie, arrived at 2 o'clock and they were heartily welcomed.

His Honor said he came as the representative of the Crown to convey thanks to them for the service they were rendering to the state. It was a noble work that of training the youth, and it was only right that the state should recognize it. "You are the Empire builders," said His Honor, "in that in these children's lives are shaped, the future of the state depends. Bring up the children the way you believe you should have gone yourselves." He advocated teaching the children to love trees and look to their protection. He also advocated the approaching of the subject to be discussed from the standpoint of the whole of Canada rather than provincially.

The convention was welcomed by Mayor Busby, Senator Planta and Mrs. John Shaw, the chairman of Nanaimo School Board.

Vice-President Lefroy, of Vernon, replied.

Mr. Hobbs, in his opening address, referred to the kindly way in which the Minister of Education and deputy minister had received the representation made to them. He was sorry neither of them was able to be present.

Exchange Is Excited but Not Panicky

LONDON, Sept. 23.—An air of suppressed excitement permeated the Stock Exchange this morning over the Hatry collapse, but there was no evidence of panic. The city was due largely to the action of the Stock Exchange Committee, which decided that settlement of differences in the affected stocks would be postponed to a later date. The time thus allowed will enable the necessary financing arrangements to be made.

Following a week-end of investigations by a special accountant, Sir Gilbert Garnsey, and assistants into the affairs of the Hatry company, Sir Gilbert this morning met the directors and officials of the Hatry group. Afterwards the doors locked doors. Later, solicitors for "Corporation" and "General Securities" announced that application would be made for compulsory liquidation of that company. It is understood that application will be made for a similar winding up of three other companies.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Convening after an all Summer recess, the House held a nine-minute session and recessed until Thursday without transacting any business.

BIG INFLUX OF CAPITAL IS COMING

Sir John Sandeman Allen, M.P., Says British People Are Keenly Interested in Canadian Development

PARLIAMENTARIAN VOICES OPTIMISM

Says Old Country Must Adapt Itself to Needs of Today—Studying Immigration in Canada

"I EXPECT to see a large influx of British capital into Canada within the next few years. The keen interest which the Old Country is taking in this Dominion is indicated by the number of important people who are now visiting it.

"In my tour across Canada, I have been very impressed with the great possibilities of this Dominion, but with the fact that Canada is truly grasping these opportunities, and is making rapid strides in every direction.

"I want to see British capital and British business men come to this country in association with Canadian development, instead of that of the United States.

"These comments were made by Sir John Sandeman Allen, M.P. for Liverpool, one of the leading shipping men in Great Britain, in an interview with a Colonist representative yesterday at Government House, after his arrival here with Lady Allen from Vancouver.

AT CANADIAN CLUB

Sir John and Lady Allen are guests at Government House during their stay in Victoria. Sir John will address a luncheon of the local Canadian Club today at 12:15 p.m. in the Empress Hotel on "The Activities of the Royal Empire Society." His subject was chosen with Premier S. F. Tolmie and other members of the cabinet in an invitation matinée while in the city.

Sir John is chairman of the Royal Empire Society, for sixty years known as the Royal Colonial Institute.

SHRINERS TO OPERATE UNIT AT SOLARIUM

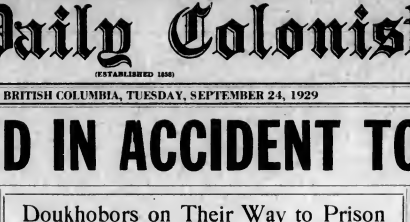
PART OF GREAT WORK SUSTAINED

The Queen Alexandra Solarium, Mill Bay, is linked up with one of the biggest child welfare movements of modern times and enters on a new phase in its history as the result of a decision given in public yesterday by Mr. Edward E. Leason, recorder for Oreh Temple of the Ancient Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, whereby arrangements are made for the completion of negotiations whereby the Shriners will operate the Mill Bay Solarium a separate $15,000 unit to their great orthopedical section of hospitals for the treatment of crippled children.

The matter has been under negotiation between the Shriners and Solarium officials for some time, and during the last few days, however, has a definite decision been arrived at, following the visit here last week of Dr. Dillon Glover, chief surgeon of the Shrine Hospital at Portland, Ore., and the unanimous approval of the Mill Bay site as an ideal one for the purpose. Following the intimation yesterday, Mr. Leason stated that the Shriners were hurrying forward the plans so that as much possible and hoped to begin building operations shortly in order to have the new unit completed and ready for occupancy by this time next year.

To be built under the auspices of Oreh Temple, the new institution extends over the whole of British Columbia and the Yukon, the new Solarium unit for the present will be limited to ten beds, until additions as an addition to the accommodation is found advisable or feasible. While the unit will be operated in strict conformity with the regulations of the Order of the Mystic Shrine (and these are practically identical with those of the Queen Alexandra Solarium) everything in connection with the operation of the hospital will be under the management of the Solarium board, subject, of course, to the approval of the shriners, who are already represented on the Board.

Doukhobors on Their Way to Prison



BRITISH Columbia Doukhobors sentenced to six months in jail for indecent exposure in a parade, went from one extreme to the other, as these photographs, taken when they were entering the jail, show. Entirely unclothed in the parade, they were swamped with clothing when they entrained at Nelson for the journey to Oakalla Prison Farm, near New Westminster. The photograph shows a group of the Doukhobor women.

DOUKHOBORS TO BE TRIED WEDNESDAY

Will Be Charged With Obstruction of Police in the Execution of Their Duties

STILL REFUSING TO OBEY LAWS

NELSON, Sept. 23.—Doukhobors in custody as a result of the arrest of 34 here on Saturday when they defied the order of the provincial police to remove from their camp before Nelson, were today lessened by three. The 206 adults in jail were all offered freedom to go to their homes on condition of promising compliance with law in future and two young women accepted the offer and were released. A fourteen-year-old boy among the thirty-six minors in custody at the Salvation Army was released into the charge of his father, who is a community Doukhobor, and who came up from Brilliant to apply for him, the mother, who is a Son of Freedom, being among those in jail.

MANY STILL REMAIN

Information against the 206 adult Doukhobors remaining will be laid by the provincial police on Tuesday, charging them with obstructing peace officers in the discharge of duty, and the trials will start Wednesday morning before Stipendiary Magistrate John Cartmel, who also presided at the nudity trials a few weeks ago which resulted in the sentencing of 104 adults to six months in Oakalla. Mr. E. C. Matthew, of Nelson, who was assistant prosecutor at the nudity trials, will be Crown prosecutor for the new batch.

WILL TRY LEADER

KAMSACK, Sask., Sept. 23—Bill Popoff, Doukhobor of the Pelly district, is expected to come up for trial at Yorkton, November 20, charged with publishing and distributing seditious literature. Popoff is now free on $1,500 bail.

The arrest of Popoff about three weeks ago occasioned the march of the Sons of Freedom on Kamsack, flailed by the police at Kamsack. Popoff proceeded to Yorkton to Mikado where they staged the mide parade, resulting in the arrest of fifty-seven adults who were later sentenced to six months in Prince Albert jail.

Damage by Frost Is Not Serious Through Ontario

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—Frosts during the past week caused considerable damage to potatoes, tomatoes and other tender plants, but the crop will not be of serious proportions, according to the weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture issued today. Rains have been general throughout the province and have been welcomed.

Ploughing and late crops are progressing rapidly.

ACCLAIM MINISTERS

SASKATOON, Sept. 23.—The executives of the Liberal Association and Women's Liberal Association decided here tonight not to put forward a candidate to oppose Premier J. T. M. Anderson and Hon. Howard McConnell at the forthcoming provincial by-election.

Officials Think Fire Menace Is Over for Season

As a result of continued wet and cool weather, forest fires on Vancouver Island and Lower Mainland have practically all been extinguished or are well under control, according to reports from the British Columbia Forest Service offices yesterday. No new fires have been reported recently and the forests are no longer in a hazardous condition. The British Columbia Forest Service has discontinued broadcasting the forest fire bulletin, as dangerous fires have been regarded as over for the year.

MINING BOOMS OBSERVED BY MR. McKENZIE

Minister of Mines Drives Over New Skeena Highway—Burns Lake Residents Staking Claims

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN MINING

Continuing his tour of Central British Columbia, Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, yesterday motored 200 miles through Bulkley and Nechako Valleys from Smithers to Vanderhoof, according to a message received yesterday from Smithers.

On Saturday he made history by driving with Mr. O. T. Sundall, of Terrace, over the newly-built Skeena Highway in the first car to reach Usk. At this important mining centre he received the latest information on the progress of the Columbaxie mine from Dr. V. Dolmage, consulting engineer until recently head of the Dominion geographical survey in British Columbia.

At every place the minister was surprised to encounter intense activity in mining, with many prominent engineers examining for various companies, and a large party of directors visiting the famous Cronin mining in the Bulkley Mountain. He was also shown ore from the new rich strikes of the Bainbow Copper at Smithers, Chimineas Creek, Oak Silver Creek, Pacific, Boom Mountain and Pailing.

At Pailing there is reported a large force showing what is attracted the whole town of Burns Lake today, staking claims on it. Government Engineer Douglas Lay proceeded this afternoon to the scene.

Today Mr. McKenzie is proceeding to Fort St. James, where an important conference is being built north to Manson Creek.

City Council Will Pay Bill Of Mr. McGeer

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—With Aldermen Angus MacInnis and P. O. Gibbons consistently maintaining their stand to refuse payment of the account of Mr. G. G. McGeer, K.C., for $1,500 for services rendered Chief W. J. Bingham in the reorganization of the police department, the City Council on Monday reversed its former decision and passed the bill for settlement.

AUSTRALIA IN TURMOIL OVER HARD CONTEST

General Election Being Bitterly Fought With Three Parties Strenuously Striving for Office

GROUPS SPLIT INTO FACTIONS

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 23.—Extraordinary interest is being taken in the present Australian General Election, the second within a year which will culminate in the Federal Parliament to determine whether the people are in support of the Bruce Government's decision to abolish the Federal Arbitration Court, turning over arbitration jurisdiction to the States, or instead are in favor of the Labor Opposition's policy of Commonwealth jurisdiction.

The Nationalist or Government party is confining itself to the arbitration issue, while Labor candidates, while stressing this, at the same time emphasize the Ministry's increased assessment tax proposals.

The Nationalist fight was carried into the enemy's camp last night when Premier Bruce opened the campaign in North Sydney, speaking for the candidate against Right Hon. William M. Hughes, wartime Prime Minister and now a member of the Country Party which failed to support the Government in the last House and thereby precipitated the election.

Sir Little Croom Spmker in the Federal House, must stand for re-election in Darling Downs as an unindorsed candidate, because he declined to use his casting vote to help the Government. The Nationalists consequently refused to accept his candidature. Mr. James Scullin, Leader of the Labor Party, is the chief opponent of Premier Bruce.

Reported That C. N. R. Chief Not to Leave

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—Tomorrow's meeting of the Cabinet will bring together again the majority of the ministers who are now in Canada. Three absentees, however, will be Hon. Mr. Lapointe, Minister of Justice; Hon. C. J. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Mines.

Hon. Charles Dunning has gone on an inspection trip of the work done in connection with the Hudson Bay Railway and the Churchill terminals. The departure of Mr. Dunning increases that rumors, which have been hanging fire for some time, will be definitely settled. It gives support to the reiterated rumor that Sir Henry Thornton's contract with the Government has been renewed for another three-year period. Official announcement of the renewal of arrangements between Sir Henry and the Government have not yet been made, but it was intimated recently, when there were suggestions that Sir Henry might go to England, that there was little possibility of such a move. It is not improbable that the new contract carries with it an increase in salary Sir Henry has been in receipt of $60,000 a year.

MACHINE CRASHES IN SLIGHT WATER DEPTH

Most Disatrous Accident in Air Annals of Manitoba—Pilot Is Lead Astray by Foggy and Smoky Weather and Tries to Land Within 200 Yards of Shore—Novelist Is Killed

All Passengers Are Dead As Settlers Reach Scene

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—Manitoba's air annals today listed their most disastrous plane accident. Three lives, it was disclosed today, were lost when a Western Canada Airways machine nosed into the sandy bottom of Lake Manitoba, yesterday afternoon. A pilot, a mechanic and a novelist were the victims. The dead are: George McKee, thirty, Toronto, pilot; Arthur Roach, twenty-eight, Winnipeg, mechanic, and Arthur Hunt Chute, thirty-nine, Wolfeville, N.S., novelist.

MISTOOK DISTANCE

Deceived by foggy and smoky weather, it is believed, Pilot McKee attempted to taxi his machine to the lake, about 200 yards from shore. Unable to gauge correctly the distance to the surface, it is thought he brought his pontooned plane too sharply on to the surface. The wreckage was found in little more than five feet of water by the fisher folk of Reykjavik, 130 miles north of Winnipeg.

All three passengers were dead when Indians found the twisted mass after rowing out from the shore. The dead plane had crashed nose down into the sandy lake bottom, and could be seen below the surface. The bodies of Chute and Roach were immediately recovered by the fishermen, but they were unaware of the fact that McKee was in the machine until notified from Winnipeg.

CRUELTY OF FATE

Fate moved cruelly in the case of Chute, the writer who had campaigned in the Balkans, in Mexico, and in the Great War. He had traveled through Europe and had been stationed in most of the hot spots of the world. Returning to the Labrador Journeyings in the north he had planned to go through to Churchill to see material for a series for a prominent weekly magazine.

Only the day before his demise, Chute had chatted with fellow writers, telling them of his anticipated visit to the barren north. He boasted of his knowledge of the rail waste land of the Northwest and believed that he would be able to use his experience well in his travels. He had intended to proceed to the Peace River country, following his visit to the Hudson Bay ports.

Dr. Young Urges Preventive Work Among Children

NANAIMO, Sept. 23.—At this evening's session of the British Columbia Trustees' Convention, Dr. H. E. Young, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, made a very strong plea in favor of the work being carried out, looking to preventive work among school children. This, he considered, made for national wealth. He showed that examination revealed the fact that one-third of the school children were defective, not in the sense of mentality, but in a physical way, which prevented the best work being done.

This could all be avoided. He told of what was being done by the Rockefeller Foundation, but believed Canada should do its part.

Hon. Dr. King had agreed with this suggestion, and he felt it should be done. The work of the health nurses in Saanich he cited, and the good work done there highly praised.

LOST FLYERS' FATE IS YET IN BALANCE

SEARCH PARTY IS PREPARING

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—Fears for a party of flying fitness, believed to be the missing Stinson plane with plans in the vast Northwest, were set at ease for a time today. A radio message to the Government radio station announced the arrival of a two-plane party, safe and sound at Stoney Rapids on Athabaska Lake.

Tonight air authorities at Winnipeg endeavoring to confirm the message, had begun again to worry that the plane with the Dominion explorers party in which Colonel MacDonald, head of the Dominion Explorers' organization, is included in Mr. J. A. Macdougall, treasurer of the Western Canada Airways, might be the missing plane. Officials expressed a doubt that the Prince Albert radio message referred to the arrival of the McAlpine party.

But this evening a curious Winnipegger endeavoring to confirm the message, had lagged again into the office of the Dominion Explorers' organization, and Major-General D. M. Ruggles, director of the company, and "Doc" Oakes, flying director of the Western Canada Airways Exploration Company, were preparing to leave tonight for Winnipeg. On their arrival here they were to direct the search for the McAlpine party.

According to word from Prince Albert, the radio report referred to the presence of Rodgers and Blanchet in the party which reached Stoney Rapids, a northwest Saskatchewan point. It was pointed out in the message that the two planes, full of geologists, pilots, mechanics and officials, eight or nine in all, were leaving their itinerary in coming to the point on Athabaska Lake.

Identification of the machines in the missing pair was lacking, said the Prince Albert report.

With many sisters of Winnipeg's air folk, Mr. Macdougall hopes pro-consular that the McAlpine flyers are safe at Stoney Rapids, but he is highly apprehensive that the party has been confused with some other party of Dominion explorers' planes. He corroborates the statement that Stoney Rapids was not on the itinerary of the party which left Winnipeg nearly a month ago.

Premier Now Making Ready For U.S. Trip

LONDON, Sept. 23. — Premier Ramsay MacDonald is energetically clearing up as much pressing business as possible prior to his departure for the United States on Saturday.

Official announcement was made today that he and his daughter will be accompanied on their American tour by Mr. Robert O. Vansittart, who has had a varied career in the foreign service. Mr. Thomas Jones, Deputy Secretary of the Cabinet, Mr. R. I. Craigie, head of the American department of the Foreign Office, and Miss Rosenberg, personal lover the safety of the Dominion Premier Lord Arnold, personal friend of Mr. Macdonald, is leaving unofficially with the party.

On Wednesday Mr. Macdonald is expected to preside at a long cabinet meeting for full discussion of current business and to make arrangement for matters during his absence.

"Need It Worse Than You" Was Thief's Excuse

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Father J. O'Sullivan, a negro priest of Chicago, and his brother, Timothy O'Sullivan, were robbed of $4,000 in a holdup of the brothers' home, taking $40 from the priest and $20 from his brother.

In the dim light the robbers apparently noticed one clergyman was a priest. "I'm sorry, Father, but I am out of work and desperate," said one of the bandits, according to the priest reported. "I need it worse than you" was the bandit's reply.

The priest's request for his return later to Division was willingly granted by the robbers, who then fled.

PAPERS CHANGE HANDS

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—Announcement was made here today that J. F. MacKay & Co., Ltd., in association with Mr. James Playfair, had acquired The Guelph Daily Mercury and The Chatham Daily News, including the real estate and buildings in both cities.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

SHRINERS TO OPERATE UNIT AT SOLARIUM

PART OF GREAT WORK SUSTAINED

The Queen Alexandra Solarium, Mill Bay, is to be run with one of the biggest child welfare movements of modern times and enters on a new phase in its history as the result of plans drawn up at a meeting yesterday by Mr. Edward E. Leason, recorder of Ghiass Temple of the Ancient Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, who announces the completion of negotiations whereby the Shriners will build at the Mill Bay Solarium a complete $15,000 unit in their great continental system of hospitals for the treatment of crippled children.

The matter has been under negotiation between the Shriners and Provincial Government for some time, during the last few days, however, has a definite decision been reached to, following the visit here last week of Dr. Dillehunt, chief surgeon for the Shriners' Hospital at Portland and his enthusiastic approval of the Mill Bay site as the ideal one for the purpose. PARLIAMENTARIAN VOICES OPTIMISM

Says Old Country Must Adapt Itself to Needs of Today—Studying Immigration in Canada

"I EXPECT to see a large influx of British capital into Canada within the next few years. The keen interest which the Old Country is taking in this Dominion is indicated by the number of important people visiting it," he said.

"In my tour across Canada, I have been very impressed with the way with the great possibilities of this Dominion, but with the fact that Canada is truly grasping these opportunities, and is making rapid strides in every direction.

"The ties between British capital and British business men come to the front in association with Canadian development, instead of that of the United States."

These comments were made by Sir John Sandeman Allen, M.P. for Newcastle, one of the leading shipping men in Great Britain, in an interview with a colonist representative yesterday at Government House, where he arrived here with Lady Allen from Vancouver.

AT CANADIAN CLUB

Sir John and Lady Allen are guests at Government House during their stay in Victoria. Sir John will address a reception at the Canadian Club today at 12:15 p.m. in the Empress Hotel on "The Position of the Royal Empire Society." He purposes conferring with Premier King and several members of the cabinet on immigration matters while in Ottawa.

Sir John is chairman of the Royal Empire Society, which was formerly known as the Royal Colonial Insti-

Doukhobors on Their Way to Prison

BRITISH Columbia Doukhobors sentenced to six months in jail for indecent exposure in a parade, were first from one extreme to the other, as these photographs, taken when they were entering the jail, show. Entirely unclothed in the parade, they were swamped with clothing when they entrained at Nelson for the journey to Oakalla Prison Farm, near New Westminster. The photograph shows a group of the Doukhobor women.

DOUKHOBORS TO BE TRIED WEDNESDAY

STILL REFUSING TO OBEY LAWS

NELSON, Sept. 23.—Doukhobors in custody as a result of the arrest of 264 here on Saturday when they defied the order of the provincial police to remove from their camp before Nelson, were today lessened by three. The 209 adults in jail were all offered freedom to go to their homes on condition of promising compliance with law in future, and two young women accepted the offer and were released. A four-year-old boy among the thirty-six held in custody at the Salvation Army was released into the charge of his father, who is a non-resident Doukhobor, and who came up from Brilliant to apply for him, the mother, who is a Son of Freedom, being among those in jail.

MANY STILL REMAIN

Information against the 206 adult Doukhobors remaining will be laid by the provincial police on Tuesday, charging them with obstructing peace officers in the discharge of duty, and the trials will start Wednesday morning before Stipendiary Magistrate John Cartmel, who also presided at the nudity trials a few weeks ago which resulted in the sentencing of 104 adults to six months in Oakalla. Mr. E. D. Matthew, of Nelson, who was assistant prosecutor at the nudity trials, will be Crown prosecutor in this new batch.

WILL TRY LEADER

KAMSACK, Sask., Sept. 23.—Bill Popoff, Doukhobor of the Pelly district, is expected to come up for trial at Yorkton, November 20, charged with publishing and distributing seditious literature. Popoff is now free on $1,500 bail.

The arrest of Popoff about three weeks ago occasioned the march of 200 Sons of Freedom on Kamsack Heights, the site of the Kamsack Co-operative. The Doukhobors proceeded to Minitonas where they staged the nude parade resulting in the arrest of fifty-seven adults who were later sentenced to six months in Prince Albert jail.

Damage by Frost Is Not Serious Through Ontario

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—Frosts during the past week caused considerable damage to tomatoes, potatoes and other tender plants, but the loss will not be of serious proportions, according to the weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture issued today. Rains have been general throughout the province and have been welcomed. Threshing and late crops are progressing rapidly.

ACCLAIM MINISTERS

SASKATOON, Sept. 23.—The executives of the Liberal Association and Women's Liberal Association decided here tonight not to put forward a candidate to oppose Premier J. T. M. Anderson and Hon. Howard McConnell at the forthcoming provincial by-election.

Officials Think Fire Menace Is Over for Season

As a result of continued wet and cool weather forest fires on Vancouver Island and Lower Mainland have practically all been extinguished or are well under control, according to reports from the British Columbia Forest Service office yesterday. No new fires have been reported recently and the forests are no longer in a hazardous condition. The British Columbia Forest Service has discontinued broadcasting the Forest Fire Weather, as dangerous forest fires are regarded as over for the year.

AUSTRALIA IN TURMOIL OVER HARD CONTEST

General Election Being Bitterly Fought With Three Parties Strenuously Striving for Office

GROUPS SPLIT INTO FACTIONS

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 23.—Electioneering of intensity never before taken in the present Australian General Election, the second within a year which will culminate in voting on October 12, and determine whether the people are in support of the Bruce Government's decision to abolish the Federal Arbitration Court, turning over arbitration jurisdiction to the States, or instead are in favor of the Labor Opposition's policy of Commonwealth jurisdiction.

The Nationalist or Government party is confining itself to the arbitration issue, while Labor candidates, while stressing this, at the same time emphasize the Ministry's increased assistance to tax proposals.

The Nationalist fight was carried into the enemy's camp last night when Premier Bruce opened the campaign in South Sydney, speaking for his candidate against Right Hon. William M. Hughes, various Prime Minister and now a member of the Country Party which failed to support the Government in the last session and thereby precipitated the election.

Sir Lyttle Groom, Speaker in the Federal House, must stand for re-election in Darling Downs as an undisbursed candidate, because he declined to use his casting vote to help the Government. The Nationalists consequently refused to accept his candidature. Mr. James Scullen, Leader of the Labor Party, is the chief opponent of Premier Bruce.

Reported That C.N.R. Chief Not to Leave

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—Tomorrow's meeting of the Cabinet will bring together once again the majority of the ministers who are now in Canada. Three absentees, however, will be left. Mr. Lapointe, Minister of Justice, Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Mines.

Hon. Charles Dunning has gone on an inspection trip of the work done in connection with the Hudson Bay Railway from The Pas to Churchill terminals. The departure of Mr. Dunning suggests that matters, which have been hanging fire for some time, are now definitely settled. Cabinet sources in Ottawa have been

MINING BOOMS OBSERVED BY MR. McKENZIE

Minister of Mines Drives Over New Skeena Highway—Burns Lake Residents Staking Claims

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN MINING

Continuing his tour of Central British Columbia, Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, yesterday motored 200 miles through Bulkley and Nechako Valleys from Smithers to Vanderhoof, according to a message received yesterday from Smithers.

On Saturday he made history by driving with Mr. O. T. Sundall, of Terrace, over the newly-built Skeena Highway in the first car to reach that point. At this important mining centre he received the latest information on the progress of the Columbario mine from Dr. V. Dolmage, consulting engineer and recently head of the Dominion geographical survey in British Columbia.

At every place the minister was surprised to encounter intense activity in mining, with many prominent engineers examining claims for various companies, and a large party of directors visiting the Central Copper mining in the Babine Mountain. He was also shown over the new rich strikes of the Rainbow group at Smithers, Chimmens Creek, the Oliver Creek, Pacific, Boom Mountain and Falling.

At Falling there is reported a large amount of work being contracted the whole town of Burns Lake appearing alive with the Government Engineer Douglas Lay proceeded this afternoon to the scene.

Today Mr. McKenzie is proceeding to Fort St. James, where an important mining area is being built north to Manson Creek.

City Council Will Pay Bill Of Mr. McGeer

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—With Aldermen Angus MacInnis and F. O. Gibbons consistently maintaining their stand to refuse payment of the account of Mr. O. G. McGeer, K.C., for $1,500 for services rendered Chief W. J. Bingham in the reorganization of the police department, the City Council on Monday reversed its former decision and passed the bill for settlement.

MACHINE CRASHES IN SLIGHT WATER DEPTH

Most Disatrous Accident in Air Annals of Manitoba—Pilot Is Lead Astray by Foggy and Smoky Weather and Tries to Land Within 200 Yards of Shore—Novelist Is Killed

All Passengers Are Dead As Settlers Reach Scene

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—Manitoba's air annals today listed their most disastrous plane accident. Three lives, it was disclosed today, were lost when a Western Canada Airways machine nosed into the sandy bottom of Lake Manitoba, yesterday afternoon. A pilot, a machinist and a novelist were the victims. The dead are: George McKee, thirty, Toronto, pilot; Arthur Roach, twenty-eight, Winnipeg, mechanic, and Arthur Hunt Chute, thirty-nine, Wolfeville, N.S., novelist.

MISTOOK DISTANCE

Deceived by foggy and smoky weather, it is believed, Pilot McKee attempted to land his machine on the lake about 200 yards from shore. Unable to gauge correctly the distance to the surface, it is thought he brought his pontooned plane too sharply on to the surface. The wreckage was found in little more than three feet of water by the fisher folk of Rhyjavik, 130 miles north of Winnipeg.

All three passengers were dead when settlers reached the tented mass after rowing out from the shore. The steel pipe had crashed close down into the ship's bottom, burying the prow below the water line. The bodies of Chute and Roach were immediately recovered by the fishermen, but were unaware of the fact that McKee was in the machine until notified from Winnipeg.

CRUELTY OF FATE

Fate moved cruelly in the case of Chute, the writer who had campaigned in the Balkans, Mexico and in the Great War. He had traveled through Europe and had written many a tale of the hard life in the Barren Lands of Labrador. Journeying in the north he had engaged to go through to Churchill to seek material for a series for a prominent fiction magazine.

Only the day before his demise Chute had chatted with fellow writers, telling them of his anticipated trip into the barren north. He boasted of his experience in the vast waste land of the Northwest and promised that he would be able to use his experience well in his novels. He had intended to proceed to the Peace River country following his visit to the Hudson Bay ports.

Dr. Young Urges Preventive Work Among Children

NANAIMO, Sept. 23.—At this evening's session of the School Trustees' Convention, Dr. H. E. Young, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, made a very strong plea in favor of the work being carried out, looking to preventive work among school children. This, he contended, made for national wealth. He showed that examination revealed the fact that one-third of the school children were defective, not in the sense of mentality, but in a physical way, which prevented the best work being done.

This could all be avoided. He told of what was being done by the Rockefeller Foundation, but believed Canada should do for itself.

Hon. Dr. King had agreed with this suggestion, and he felt it should be done. The work of the health nurses in Saanich was cited, and the good work done there highly praised.

LOST FLYERS' FATE IS YET IN BALANCE

SEARCH PARTY IS PREPARING

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—Fears for a party of flying miners, believed to be in the vicinity of their two planes in the vast Northwest, were set at rest for a time today. A radio message to the Government radio station at Norway House said that a two-plane party, safe and sound, at Stoney Rapids, on Athabasca Lake.

Tonight air authorities at Winnipeg endeavoring to confirm the message, and begin again to worry for the safety of the Dominion explorers' party in which Colonel McAlpine, president of the Dominion Explorers' organization, is included.

Mr. J. A. Macdougall, treasurer of the Western Canada Airways, owner of one of the missing planes, expressed a doubt that the Prince Albert radio message referred to the arrival of the McAlpine party.

But this evening a curious Winnipegger, endeavoring to confirm the message, had lapped again into worry for safety of the Dominion mining group, and Major-General D. M. Hogarth, a director of that company, and "Doc" Oakes, flying director of Western Aerial Minerals Exploration Company, were preparing to leave tonight for Winnipeg. On their arrival here they were to direct the search for the McAlpine party.

According to word from Prince Albert, the radio report referred to the presence of Rodgers and Blanchet in the party which reached Stoney Rapids, a northwest Saskatchewan point. It was said that out in the message that the two planes, fully equipped, piloted by mechanics and officials, right or left in all, had carried out their itinerary in coming to the point on Athabasca Lake.

Identification of the machines as the missing party was absolute, said the Prince Albert report.

With many others of Winnipeg's air folk, Mr. Macdougall hopes profoundly that the McAlpine flyers are safe at Stoney Rapids, but as is highly apprehensive that the party has been confused with some other pair of Dominion explorers' planes. He corroborates the statement that Stoney Rapids was not on the itinerary of the party which left Winnipeg nearly a month ago.

Premier Now Making Ready For U.S. Trip

LONDON, Sept. 23. — Premier Ramsay MacDonald is energetically engaged up to the last minute on business as possible prior to his departure for the United States next Monday.

Official announcement was made today that he and his daughter will be accompanied on the transatlantic tour by Mr. Robert O. Vansittart, who has had a varied career in the foreign service. Mr. Thomas Jones, Deputy Secretary of the Cabinet, Mr. R. L. Craigie, head of the American Department of the Foreign Office, and Miss Rosemary, personal private secretary to the Premier. Lord Arnold, personal friend of Mr. Macdonald, is leaving unofficially with the party.

On Wednesday Mr. Macdonald is expected to preside at a long cabinet meeting for full discussion of current business and to make arrangement for matters during his absence.

"Need It Worse Than You" Was Thief's Excuse

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Father J. O'Sullivan, of Edmonton, Alberta, and the wife and brother of Father Hall, of Chicago, with whom he was visiting, were robbed of $1,000 in cash upon their return from a visit with Father Hall's parents, it was told here into the vestibule of Timothy O'Sullivan's home, by the bandit's report. The priest's request for his return to Edmonton was willingly granted by the robbers, who then fled.

Exchange Is Excited but Not Panicky

LONDON, Sept. 22.—An air of suppressed excitement pervaded the Stock Exchange this morning after the Hatry collapse, but there were no evidences of panic. This was due largely to the action of the Stock Exchange Committee, which decided that settlement of differences in the affected stocks would be postponed to a later day. The time thus allowed will enable the necessary financial arrangements to be made.

Following a week-end of investigations by a special accountant, Sir Gilbert Garnsey, and assistants into the affairs of the Hatry company, Sir Gilbert this morning met the directors and officials of the Hatry group companies behind locked doors. Later, solicitors for "Corporations" and General Securities announced that application would be made for a similar winding up of three other companies.

HURRY WORK IS REBUKED BY POWERS

Great Britain, Canada and Norway Make Vigorous Protest Against Hurriedly Closing Assembly

RUSHING OF WORK BECOMES SCANDAL

GENEVA, Sept. 23.—The League of Nations Assembly moved on toward adjournment at such a pace today that it drew rebukes from the delegations of Great Britain, Canada and Norway.

The rushing of the Assembly's work during the last few days of the session has become a scandal, Lord Cecil told the disarmament committee, while Sir George Foster condemned the "haste to get home or to other places." He had heard criticism from countries south of Canada, Sir George asserted, that when the big lights of the Assembly had been extinguished or removed, and the real work of the League in committees is begun, there is a tendency to reach for hats and scurry away.

HALTS THE PACE

Dr. Lange, of Norway, insisted that the three items under consideration today by the committee should not be considered as proposed, in a plenary session this afternoon, and this move for retarding the pace of the proceedings was adopted.

The Disarmament Committee voted to instruct the Secretary-General to take steps for providing a radio telegraph station for the use of the League and under League control. This station would be equipped with facilities for communication with all countries of the world.

The committee then considered its final report on its attitude to the work of the Preparatory Disarmament Commission as represented in the compromise proposal adopted on Saturday.

INTERNATIONAL BANK

The League will not seek, for the present, to establish a close relationship between itself and the international reparations bank provided by the Young plan.

This became clear today when a resolution envisaging the establishment of an intimate connection between the two was withdrawn from consideration in the Assembly's committee that deals with economic questions, but its authors, Norway and Denmark, in withdrawing, are believed to have gained part of their purpose.

Their move was interpreted in some quarters as a signal by the countries not concerned directly with reparations payments that they will not be greatly pleased if the proposed bank seeks to assume too dominant a function in the economic life of Europe.

OPPOSITION SHOWN

The solid opposition of the countries receiving reparations discouraged further agitation of the proposal.

Speaking for France, Great Britain, Belgium, Italy and Japan, M. Louis Loucheur, French Cabinet Minister, declared that adoption of the Norwegian idea would be dangerous to the chances for organizing the bank.

But the minutes of the committee's discussion on the subject of the bank will be communicated to the financial experts who will meet to organize the institution.

Advocates of a close connection between the League and the bank were eager that this be done, and M. Loucheur solved the delicate problem of procedure by promising to convey the minutes to the French experts.

TRANSCANADA PHONE COMPLETE

Fifty Miles of Poles and Sixty of Wires Keep Lines of B.C. Telephone Company in Province

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—By placing about fifty miles of poles and stringing about sixty miles of wire, the British Columbia Telephone Company has united the Okanagan Valley and the West Kootenay district by circuits which bring into existence an all-Canadian telephone route from Vancouver to Nelson, Trail and Grand Forks.

Hitherto calls traveling to the West Kootenay over the company's lines have had to dip into American territory from Osoyoos, in the Okanagan Valley, and then across the border back into the West Kootenay. Now calls will stay in British Columbia all the way.

Palling Having Latest Boom in Mine Discovery

PRINCE RUPERT, Sept. 23.—Palling is the latest British Columbia town to have a mining boom. The finding of a copper vein from forty to sixty feet wide and half a mile long, on Boo Mountain, three miles from there in the direction of Decker Lake, has caused a rush to stake the mountain, the whole of which is blanketed with mining claims.

Mr. V. S. Bels is primarily responsible for the excitement. He was accompanied on the trip by Mr. P. Sandnas and Mr. Knute Nysven, all of Burns Lake, and they have some very rich looking surface ore which has not yet been assayed.

The find is causing much excitement throughout the district.

Over $2,000 to Cathedral Funds Given Yesterday

A STEADY flow of callers yesterday at the Synod Office, Memorial Hall, bringing subscriptions to the New Cathedral building and furnishing funds, resulted in the amounts required to open the New Cathedral nave on Saturday next free of debt, being reduced to $6,608.27, for the building fund, and to $3,975.36 for the furnishing fund. The names of all contributors received up to Friday afternoon, will be added to the original list of "Cathedral Builders," to be presented "at the time of offering" during the Consecration service on Saturday, as "a record of the gifts of the people."

tute, whose task has been to educate the Empire about the Empire, and to draw all closer together in mutual understanding.

Sir John said that conditions in the Old Country were improving, and a spirit of optimism prevailed among the people. The amazing thing is that "we faced the difficulties and are making such good progress."

NEEDS TO TODAY

"There is no doubt, in my mind, that the Old Country has got to adapt itself to the needs of today, more than it has done in the past. We must see that our goods are at the door of the buyer, and are of the type that suits him and his environment. It is not enough to make the best article; we must make it in the way that the buyer wants, and must see that when parts need to be replaced they are available in the land where the buyer lives," Sir John said.

The distinguished visitor considered that Inter-Empire trade would be far more advanced now had more British firms in the past sent out more representatives to the self-governing Dominions of the Empire, acquainting the business men of the Dominions of the merchandise and goods which Great Britain has to sell.

"The British manufacturers should send out their agents and best salesmen to Canada and the other parts of the Empire. If they did that, British trade would increase enormously," he continued.

IMMIGRATION VIEWS

Sir John observed that he came to Canada to talk about the British Empire, and to study the immigration question. "I promised both sides of the House of Commons that I would find out unofficially all I could concerning immigration matters in this country. And considering my illness of five weeks when I reached Montreal, I feel I have done that to a considerable extent."

"The British Government is very anxious to assist Canada in bringing out immigrants from the Old Country to settle in this Dominion. I think our whole methods of migration work must be reorganized. You in Canada need immigrants of the right sort, a bigger proportion of good Britishers or Scandinavian stock.

"I cannot stress too strongly the importance of the right kind of immigrants. There are plenty of the right kind of people you want as settlers in Canada. You don't want those whose sole aim in life is to lean on the state. I believe in more selective immigration for Canada, and think the sixty voluntary societies in the Old Country can assist in this work."

Sir John expressed the view that Great Britain should give her emigrants assistance during their first year in this country. If newcomers are to get a foothold, they require some assistance and supervision, and he was of the opinion that Britain would be prepared to give this necessary aid.

NO POLITICS NEEDED

Conservative member for the West Derby division of Liverpool in the British House of Commons since 1924, Sir John declared that politics should play no part in the immigration problems, and stated that he was just as prepared to give the benefit of his experience to the Labor Government as to the Baldwin administration.

Sir John, who retired from business in 1920, when he operated the largest marine insurance underwriting business in England, was knighted for his public service activities. He has devoted the past eight years to Great Britain and the Empire, and has been entrusted with numerous public and private missions in that connection.

At present Sir John is an officer, chiefly president or vice-president, in eighteen internationally-known societies in Great Britain.

As a member of the council of the Federation of the Chamber of Commerce of the Empire, of which body he is also honorary treasurer, Sir John attended the meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce recently at Calgary, where he gave an address on "The Empire—Our Responsibilities as Well as Our Privileges."

UNVEILS MEMORIAL

In his capacity as chairman of the Royal Empire Society, Sir John paid tribute to the early pioneers of the British Empire for their work of exploration and empire building, when he unveiled last Sunday night, in Christ Church Pro-Cathedral in Vancouver, a memorial plaque in honor of Captain James Cook, world navigator, the gift of the Royal Empire Society to the people of British Columbia.

In performing the unveiling ceremony, Sir John said, in part:

CLOSER UNDERSSTANDING

"Today the sense of mutual interedependence of the Empire as a whole in every sphere, political, economic and social is being more fully realized so that while each must work out its own salvation we must increasingly seek at the same time to work for the good of the whole.

"If we are thus to fulfill the destiny, there must be an increasing appreciation of the necessity of a closer understanding of each other and of the particular difficulties of each, as well as a fuller grasp of the lessons of the past.

"The main task of the Royal Empire Society is to promote this better understanding and to keep alive the great history and traditions of the past; therefore as chairman of the society and in the name of our beloved president, His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, known and loved by all in Canada, I present to you people of British Columbia this tablet as a lasting record of that great man to whom you owe your existence as a part of the British Empire, and as a reminder of our common heritage.

"May God keep us true to our trust."

Sir John comes from stock which farmed in Yorkshire since 1537. His son has reverted to the family characteristic and is operating a mixed farm near Prince Albert on the Canadian Prairies. His daughter, who has been visiting her brother, has announced that she is to marry a Canadian farmer. Sir John and Lady Allen will return to Saskatchewan next week for the wedding of their daughter.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion
CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well-known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis or stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestants that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little Bisurated Magnesia, and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. Your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive. (Advt.)

Merger of Boards With Councils Strongly Opposed

The department, he said, was always ready to place the books suitable for the purpose that were prepared here on the curricula.

DRIVING YOUNG PEOPLE AWAY

This statement from Mr. Stewart brought Mr. Charles M. Woodworth, of Vancouver, to his feet with a counter declaration.

He said he agreed that there was an economic situation, that was what he quarreled with. The matter should be dealt with, he argued, as a patriotic one. The use of these American books in the schools of Canada, he said, was educating the young people of Canada to go to the United States later. It had resulted in sending 750,000 of these young Canadians to the country south of the line in seven years.

He moved that the resolution be referred to a committee to deal with, and with all other matters of a patriotic kind, and report later. His amendment so to deal with the subject was lost.

WHAT IS LITERATURE

Miss Jamieson, of Vancouver, while a co-delegate with Mr. Woodworth, took objection to his position. She took the ground as a former teacher, that nationalism was not taught in literature.

"Literature was literature, no matter where it was published," she said. She went on to tell of buying good British books in San Francisco cheaper than in London. "And American books in London cheaper than in the United States," came a voice from the floor of the convention.

Mr. H. Manning, of Revelstoke, a past president and life member, took the position that there was a lot of claptrap talked in connection with these subjects. He referred to the articles published in McLean's Magazine showing that in spite of the talk about British books and the move in favor of these, some of these books showed a lamentable amount of misinformation on questions affecting Canada. He supported strongly the resolution.

Mr. George Harbord firmly supported the fostering of the British Canadian sentiment. He had found from consulting British delegates to the National Council that hundreds of American books were made use of the British schools.

Referring to Gage's Canadian History, he described it as "a disgrace to Canada." The resolution carried.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION

A resolution was passed urging the Department of Education to take over the enforcement of the rule for compulsory education, instead of the school trustees in rural municipalities and districts, as it was urged that the present system made for the creation of trouble among neighbors.

MUNICIPAL INSPECTORS

Another resolution was passed giving to school boards, where a municipal inspector was appointed, the same power to direct such inspector as to "other duties," as existed in city school districts at present, instead of leaving this to the department to decide. Inspector Stewart and Mr. Joe Harwood opposed the change, while Col. W. N. Winsby supported it.

CLERGY BEGIN TO ARRIVE HERE

Bishops in City for Consecration Ceremony—Bishop of Winchester Is Expected Today

Clergy who are to attend the consecration of Christ Church Cathedral on Saturday have begun to arrive here. Bishop Williams and Archdeacon Scott, of Quebec diocese; Rev. Canon Davies, of Guelph; Bishop Rowe, of Alaska, and Bishop Roper, of Ottawa, are among those already in the city.

There will be a considerable influx today, as the Bishop of Winchester, who is due this afternoon, plans to conduct two quiet days for the clergy at St. John's prior to the consecration.

Dr. Woods, as representative of the mother Church of England, has been warmly welcomed across Canada, and is assured of a hearty reception here. He will be a guest of Bishop Schofield at Bishopsclose.

Owing to illness neither of the Archbishops of Huron and Nova Scotia will be able to attend. It is expected that two metropolitans will be here, the Archbishop of Rupert's Land, as Primate of Canada, and Archbishop de Pencier, metropolitan of this province.

A full list of the Canadian bishops to come will be issued in a day or two. The only absentee at present known will be Bishop Stringer, of the Yukon.

WOULD ABROGATE TREATY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, said in the Senate today the United States should abrogate the Washington Armament Treaty placing a limit on battleships when it expires in 1936, and "for the present make no other agreement."

Annual Meeting — The annual meeting of the Victoria West Parent-Teacher Association will be held tonight in the Assembly Hall of the Victoria West School at 8 o'clock. A special programme has been arranged, and all people of the district are invited to attend.

LAST SERVICE IN CATHEDRAL HELD SUNDAY

Anglicans of Victoria Say Farewell to Long Familiar Place of Worship—Formal Declaration Made

BISHOP OF OTTAWA PREACHES SERMON

"I call upon you, dear people, before we depart hence bearing these sacred vessels and books and these historical records, to join with me, in rendering devout thanks to Almighty God for all the benefits and associations of the past, and in prayer to Him that He will bless us in the new spiritual home to which we are going, as He has blessed us in this place."

With these words did the Bishop of Columbia address the congregation that filled the old Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday evening and bid them to join in thanksgiving and prayer at the conclusion of the last service of public worship held within those walls.

After pronouncing the benediction and reading a formal declaration releasing the building from the purposes for which it had been set apart, the bishop of the diocese, accompanied by the Bishop of Ottawa, led the last solemn procession from the sanctuary to the vestry. The churchwardens, Dr. J. S. Plaskett and Mr. J. H. Hinton, followed, carrying the sacred vessels and service books. Then came the choir, walking out in silence.

First Shipment Of McIntosh Red Now on Market

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Six cars of McIntosh Red apples, the first shipment of the new season's crop, were spotted at Water Street warehouses this morning, and the fancy variety, which comprised most of the shipment, was selling to the retail trade at $3.50 per box.

Dealers reported a strong demand for this Okanagan fruit, which has attained much popularity all over Canada as an excellent eating and cooking apple. Further supplies are expected this week.

Reports from the Okanagan tell of feverish activity towards the end of last week in preparation for the outward movement of the first train-loads early Saturday morning.

ADMIRAL HELD POST ON THIS NAVAL STATION

Romantic Career of Admiral Sir Hedworth Lambton, Who Inherited Meux Fortune

AS CAPT. LAMBTON, WAS ON WARSPITE

Admiral Sir Hedworth Meux, who died last week at Danbury, Hampshire, England, at the age of seventy-three was captain of H.M.S. Warspite on the Pacific Station, 1890 to 1893.

As Captain Lambton, a son of the second Earl of Durham, he commissioned the Warspite at Chatham on February 4, 1890, the vessel becoming the flagship on this station, being relieved by the Royal Arthur, which was commissioned at Portsmouth, March 2, 1893. Oldtimers of nearly forty years ago will remember the gallant officer, who became famous in the South African War for the work of the Naval Brigade at Ladysmith.

In 1911 the world was surprised, to learn that Sir Hedworth Lambton had been made the heir of the millions of Lady Meux, wife of the famous brewer. Those more intimate in the knowledge of the relations of the people chiefly concerned, knew that Sir Hedworth and his wife had been specially courteous to Lady Meux, who had been a Gaiety girl in her young days and had also appeared on the vaudeville stage. She had been spurned in social circles and was particularly appreciative of the kindnesses shown by Sir Hedworth and Lady Lambton. The brewer's widow insisted in her will that the naval officer should change his name to Meux, so that for the last eighteen years of his life he was known as Sir Hedworth Meux. This fortune enabled the Admiral to take the important post of commander at Portsmouth, one of the most desired posts in the Navy, although only possible to be held by men of means, owing to the social obligations involved. Lady Lambton received the splendid jewels of Lady Meux as her part of the legacy.

AUTO CLUB SEEKS SAFETY OF PUBLIC

Persons Who Drive While Under Influence of Liquor Held Unfit to Have Licence

Strong measures in the handling of automobile drivers convicted of being under the influence of liquor when in charge of a motor car were advocated by the directors of the Victoria Branch of the Automobile Club at a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce on Monday in submitting the subject for discussion, Rev. Montagu Bruce, chairman of the Victoria Branch, stated that accidents of a serious character, due to this cause, were apparently increasing and if the public was to be adequately protected against this menace, more stringent penalties should be provided and strictly enforced.

UNANIMOUS

The members of the board were unanimous in the approval of a resolution which will be forwarded to the provincial executives in Vancouver, requesting that body to recommend strongly to the Provincial Legislature at its next session the passage of legislation providing for the imprisonment without option of a fine of any and all drivers of automobiles found to be under the influence of liquor while driving a motor car, and that, in addition, their driver's licence should be cancelled for a period of one year in the first instance and that in the case of a second offence there should be imprisonment and the cancellation of the driver's licence for five years. It was felt by the members of the board that these issues cannot be handled in too strong a manner and that most forceful steps should be taken now in order to cope with the situation.

NON-PROPERTY OWNERS PAY TAX

Mr. George Okell, City Assessor, Compares Municipal Matters of Calgary With Those Here

A service tax which applies to those who are not called upon to pay rates in other ways is levied in Calgary, says Mr. George Okell, city assessor, who has been spending part of his holiday in that city, which for some time has been operating under a commission form of government, with a Mayor and council and one commissioner.

By this service plan, states Mr. Okell, an individual in receipt of $1,100 a year who does not own property pays an income tax of $7.20 a year to the city, if without dependents. For those with dependents incomes of up to $2,000 a year go free, but become taxable for the service levy at that point.

In Calgary the mayor and commissioner transact the bulk of the city's business, but must refer to the Council on questions of general import. Despite a forty-five mill rate, and some inflation from a lively oil boom, it is a fast-growing centre, with considerable commercial development to insure its future, says Mr. Okell, who is impressed with the public spirited activity shown in the city.

The business licence system is based on rental values, with 8 per cent of the rental value being the rate of taxation for this purpose. The court of appeal on the assessment roll is also arranged in a different way from that in force here, a board of three members, all independent of civic or other control, being appointed for a fixed term, at an annual retainer of $100 per annum and $15 daily for each day of sitting. The advice of the board is utilized by the city in assessment work, and it operates as a court of revision in times of appeals.

BELLA COOLA LINK PROPOSED

Mr. Michael Manson Is Here to See That Connection Is Made to Chilcotin Road

SURVEYS HAVE MADE PROGRESS

Along the famous route followed by Alexander Mackenzie when he crossed the continent, and graced by the first time on the Pacific in 1793, British Columbia will commence next Spring to build its second road from the Coast to the Interior.

Plans for this road, running from Bella Coola to the Chilcotin country through the Coast mountains, are almost completed now following surveys by engineers who have been in the field all summer. It was announced at the Public Works Department. Mr. Michael Manson, member of the Legislature for Mackenzie, has come here to discuss the matter with Hon. N. S. Lougheed, Minister of Public Works.

"The Bella Coola road is one of the most important under consideration by the Province at this time," Mr. Manson said at present the country east of Bella Coola has no direct communication with the Coast, except by a rough trail. The main road of the Chilcotin runs west of the Fraser only as far as Alexin Creek, and from there on the very country is isolated by a gap in the highway system of some hundred miles.

"I am gratified to learn that as a result of surveys conducted this year the Public Works Department is getting the location for a road to be built along the standards required by modern traffic."

THE New PACKARD EIGHTS

Built in three complete and luxurious lines—at three distinct ranges of price

The new series Packard Straight Eights are outstandingly more advanced, more beautiful, more comfortable and convenient than any Packard car in history. They embody all the engineering improvements and the enriched luxury which the world naturally expects from Packard.

Whether you desire the supreme luxury of custom designed coach work—fitted, trimmed and upholstered according to your personal tastes—or the comfort, beauty and distinction of a Packard in the usual full measure, you will find among the new series Packard Eights a car to meet your exact requirements.

THE DE LUXE EIGHT

The Packard Eight De Luxe is the largest, roomiest and most perfectly appointed car which Packard has ever produced. It is practically an individual custom creation, for fittings, appointments, and upholstery—as well as colors and trim—are usually the individual specifications of the purchasers.

Prices at Victoria range from $6910 for the Roadster to $8005 for the Seven-Passenger Sedan Limousine. The finest masterpieces of the world's most famous individual custom-body builders are also available to order at prices up to $12,000.

THE CUSTOM EIGHT

For those who desire the power and speed of the De Luxe engine, Packard also provides the Custom Eight. It is powered with the same motor—the famous Packard Straight Eight, with its nine-bearing crankshaft, improved and developed to new standards of performance. Save for the Packard De Luxe Eight, it is truly the world's finest motor car.

Prices at Victoria range from $4920 for the Roadster to $5910 for the Seven-Passenger Sedan Limousine. A wide choice in color and upholstery is available for the eleven beautiful body types.

THE STANDARD EIGHT

The Packard Standard Eight is a smaller edition of the larger and costlier Packard cars. It is provided for those who desire the luxury and distinction of Packard transportation in cars of modified wheelbase and lower price.

Eleven distinguished models are available—each one a Packard through and through. Nothing to provide for the comfort and convenience of owners has been omitted from these new Packard cars.

Prices of the Packard Standard Eight at Victoria, including a wide choice of colors, range from $3785 for the Five-Passenger Sedan to $4330 for the Seven-Passenger Sedan Limousine.

All new series Packard Eight cars include the new, invisible, adjustable sun visors, adjustable driver's seat and steering gear, newly perfected shatter proof glass, dashboard lockers and new beauties of fixtures and upholstery. All provide the improved powerplant with its new four-speed transmission and still further refined straight-eight engine. Let us show you, with pencil and paper, how you can enjoy the luxury and distinction of Packard transportation—very likely at no greater expense than you are paying for your present motoring.

BETTER PLAYING FIELDS

The movement for the provision of better playing fields for Victoria and district, which has been advocated again and again by this newspaper, is now taking shape. A meeting for the formation of a Playing Fields Association is to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow night. At it not only every sporting organization interested in sporting development should have its representatives, but all other public-spirited sportsmen should make a point of attending. This is a movement about which there can be no two opinions. It is one calling for enthusiastic municipal co-operation, for widespread public support, and its objects should be to promote the welfare of both players and spectators in all games which are played in this vicinity.

Properly organised, and with a substantial directorate or committee, as may be decided, there is no reason why the Playing Fields Association should not command the immediate support of all sport-lovers. Men of standing who inspire public esteem should be at its head, and if they are, the co-operation secured on all sides will launch the movement in the most effective fashion. The immediate concentration on improvements should be in connection with the existing municipal fields. The City Council can be induced to realize that public opinion is calling for better playing fields, and that, as matters have developed up to the present, altogether insufficient attention has been given to this demand. There is the question, too, of providing new playing fields either in particular localities for district use or else centrally for the general benefit. It will require diplomacy in management to prevent jealousies developing as between the different branches of sport, but if the purpose in view is whole-heartedly for the benefit of sport then sportsmanship will enter into the problem and make its solution easy.

In England so great is the success of the playing fields movement that large sums of money have been subscribed and large acreages of land donated towards the purpose. In Victoria and district there is no reason why the same spirit of enthusiasm should not be shown. To achieve, to the best advantage, the purpose in view, a Playing Fields Association will need funds and lands to supplement the playing facilities supplied by the municipality. That is why we say that those who are likely to enroll themselves in the movement as public beneficiaries will be concerned to see that what is proposed is being directed by men of standing in the community. The Playing Fields Association has a great opportunity in such a sport-loving community. What is proposed should appeal to the people as a whole for it is worth while to build up a reputation here of one of the best playing fields' centres in the Dominion.

WEATHER FORECASTING

Although there is still a tendency among the uninformed to mock at weather predictions, it is unquestionable that real advances are being made and the greatest of these in recent years has been the development of the dynamics of the atmosphere. The subject is dealt with by Dr. G. C. Simpson in an article in The Geographic Journal. The article, prepared for the Research Committee of the Royal Geographic Society, deals particularly with "Meteorology in Polar Regions," but permeating it there is a good deal to indicate that knowledge about weather conditions is constantly on the increase. For instance, Dr. Simpson says that "the interplay between masses of air of tropical and polar origin has been shown to be the prime factor in the genesis and development of cyclonic depressions and the source of the energy of the winds associated with them." The advance made in weather forecasting has been partly mathematical, and the study of synoptic charts and the investigation of the upper atmosphere "have been the touchstones by which the progress has been tested."

The development of meteorological study, aided by the co-operation of ships at sea, makes it possible to plot synoptic charts for the greater part of the northern hemisphere north of latitude 40 degrees. These charts, however, present a blank from 20 degrees, more or less, around the North Pole. Weather forecasting can never be satisfactory until it is possible to get observations from all points of the earth's surface. At present the lack of knowledge relates to the changes in temperature and humidity which masses of air undergo while they are in Arctic regions. This, Dr. Simpson says, is especially the case in Winter, "for it is these changes which transform tropical into polar air. There was a time, not so long ago, when meteorologists believed that they knew all about the circulation of the atmosphere and when diagrams were drawn purporting to show the paths of the main air currents between the equator and the poles. Dr. Simpson points out that now no meteorologist is prepared to draw such a chart. In other words, knowledge has advanced to the extent of realizing that "the problem of the general circulation of the atmosphere cannot be solved by work in the study. The only way is to go out into the field and observe the motion of the air in all layers of the atmosphere." It is really a problem to be solved by simultaneous observations at a number of stations, including ones established in the Arctic.

One of the most interesting points made in Dr. Simpson's paper relates to long-range weather forecasting. This, he says, is a matter of correlation, and such a method is only possible when there are long series of homogeneous data extending over many years. At present there is no such data typical of the general conditions in either the Arctic or the Antarctic. Dr. Simpson does not necessarily believe, with some meteorologists, that the polar regions hold the key to seasonal forecasting. He realizes, however, that the atmospheric conditions there are of importance, but that they have a predominating influence on the weather of the world is open to serious question. In other words, the poles play a rather passive part in the general circulation of the atmosphere. The great changes are imposed by conditions arising in the tropical, rather than in the polar regions. Dr. Simpson thinks Mr. Hunt, the head of the Australian meteorological service, is right in his estimate that where seasonal forecasting is concerned it is the deserts rather than the poles that should be investigated. Meteorologists, however, will never be satisfied until there are polar observation stations. Their desire to extend their knowledge, and the manner in which it is being extended, present a hopeful view of progress towards a solution of one of Earth's most fascinating problems.

WIRELESS FEAT

Great Britain is not a good advertiser of her own triumphs in the scientific, or in any other field. In an age when self-advertisement has come to play such a large part in securing business Great Britain has not yet overcome a reticence which is characteristic of her people. The other day, because of British enterprise and invention, a wireless telephone talk was carried on between Somerset and Australia, a distance of 13,000 miles. The incident has been passed by almost unnoticed, whereas, if some other nations had accomplished this feat it would have been echoed and re-echoed around the world. Nobody seemed to think it worth while to inform the newspapers of what had been done. It was regarded as just an incident in the day's work, and yet it was a remarkable feat in wireless telephony. It was well worthy of world notice and was news of the first class. What is more, such progress is being made by Great Britain that the time is approaching when a British telephone user will be able to call up any part of the civilized world.

A correspondent draws attention to the fact that the claim for Victoria's new Anglican Cathedral that its width of ninety-three feet between outside walls makes it wider than any English cathedral except York Minster, is incorrect. Manchester Cathedral, he says, has an extreme width of 115 feet and it includes the width of the nave and side aisles. The Manchester Cathedral was built in the twelfth century.

One of the hall marks of democracy is the fact that governments commence to die as soon as they are born. Luckily, however, for the well being of democratic countries, there are permanent officials who are able to carry on the business of administration.

Le Droit, of Ottawa, says that "the school is, or should be, always the extension of family influence. It is the duty, therefore, of all parents to maintain a constant watchfulness so that the school shall be the hearth of science, virtue, religion and patriotism."

In the Pleistocenic Age hunters were safe in the woods. There was little danger then of a man being mistaken for a dinosaur, or a diprotodon. Human life may not have been of much account, but it ran far fewer chances of being extinguished than it does today.

THE RAIN

O hear it! It has come at last—the rain
Tap-tapping, splashing on the window-pane,
Surging and rushing down the iron roofs,
Insistent, thunderous like beating hoofs.
The sound pervades the air; it ebbs and flows
In tides of music as the north wind blows.
Now murmuring and whispering, again
Tempestuously beating on the pane,
Rapping and pelting stormily—the rain!

Beat down, beat down! Wash clean the dusty air!
Refresh, restore what once was green and fair.
Those parching paddocks! Fill the falling creek
For pity of the cattle starved and weak,
And patient sheep! Still fall, still fall, sweet rain!
Sweep down the roofs and flood the window-pane!
The birds begin to twitter soft and sing,
And earth herself makes happy haste to bring
Rich odors, incense of thankoffering.

Note and Comment

By R. R. D.

Dreamers and pacifists, well-meaning but impractical, tell us that the world was mad when it went to war about eleven years ago. If the world has recovered from its fit of madness, it appears to have fallen into a state of silliness. The chief of the dreamers and pacifists is of course our own Ramsay MacDonald, who appears to be the last of the Highland seers. In another day and generation every Highland clan had its seer. The seer used to drop into a light sleep or into a trance and see things that were hidden from ordinary mortal eyes. When he woke from his sleep or came out of his trance, he made the flesh of his brother clansmen creep and the blood of them run cold by his revelations of the terrible things that were to come to pass sooner or later.

* * *

Ramsay MacDonald is not that kind of a seer. He is a dreamer, but he dreams of nothing but sweet and beautiful things. He has been dreaming for years of an ideal world in which there would be no more war, of a world in which men "would brithers be for a' that." And so he has begun to reorganize the world on a basis of common brotherhood. He began his job at Geneva and he is going to finish it at Washington. He proposed to Europe that it should disarm and thus deprive itself of the means of fighting if it ever should be tempted to fight. He will propose to Washington that it shall reduce its present naval armaments and refrain from increasing its naval strength beyond a certain point in the future lest it should be tempted to assert its right to proclaim "freedom of the seas" if other nations were silly enough to engage in war.

* * *

Almost as soon as Mr. MacDonald turned his back upon Europe, no doubt confident that his dream would come true, Europe began to ask itself the meaning of the dream of this British dreamer. France declares that her defensive armies are to be disbanded and she is to be left to the tender mercies of her enemies. Italy says the same thing. Both nations assert that if their submarines are scrapped they will be at the tender mercies of their enemies on the sea as well as on the land. The voice of Europe is raised in a cry that there is a conspiracy between Great Britain and the United States to achieve Anglo-Saxon world dominion.

* * *

We do not know what Mr. MacDonald expects to accomplish at Washington, but we do know that whatever he accomplishes, much or little or nothing at all, he will be delighted with his accomplishments. When he returns home he will dream that he has obliterated all national boundary lines and gassed all national sentiment and established a world-encircling international federation. But human institutions are peculiar institutions. They never amount to much or accomplish a great deal unless they are ruled by firm hands or guided by competent heads. That is the rule, and it is an absolute rule. The guiding hand and brain may be those of an autocrat, as in the cases of the great nations of the past or in the cases of the great business institutions of the present, but the hand must be firm and the brain competent.

* * *

In what manner in this grand dream commonwealth of the nations going to select its presiding officer, and from what part of the international dreamland is the president to be chosen? Mr. MacDonald may be dreaming that as the organiser of the new movement he should be the logical head of it. But the new political dream world is divided against itself before it is established. Its organiser is charged with conspiring not only against the interests, but against the lives, of some of the nations which are expected to join the wonderful international merger.

* * *

When the idealistic Socialist leader became Prime Minister of Great Britain he found his own country in a fairly settled and tranquil condition and Europe slowly but surely recovering from the effects of the war and returning to a normal state. But the Prime Minister's dreams and Utopian schemes have unsettled Britain and set Europe and some other parts of the world "by the ears." Representatives of the nations are meeting together, talking in a babel of tongues (which few of them understand) and passing resolutions which are without effect. They are interfering with the business of all nations, and possibly neglecting the business of their own nations. For a time the discussions were amiable; now they are becoming bitter and vindictive. If the farce be permitted to continue, the situation may become dangerous. Mr. Snowden, who is a practical man and no dreamer, should stick a pin in a sensitive part of his chief, awake him from his dream or bring him out of his trance, and tell him to look around and "see things as others see them." The job of governing an Empire should be sufficient to satisfy the ambitions of any man. The job of governing the world may prove beyond the capacity of any man, whether his vision be normal or abnormal.

WELL KNOWN MANUFACTURER TO SPEAK HERE

Mr. R. J. Hutchings, of Calgary, Will Pay Visit Today as President of Manufacturers' Association

MANY INTERESTS THROUGHOUT WEST

Mr. R. J. Hutchings, of Calgary, recently elected president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, will be here today with Mr. J. E. Walsh, general manager of the association, and will speak at a joint meeting of the Kiwanis Club and Island branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

A big figure personally, his has been a large influence in the industrial progress of the West. Born at Westport, Ont., on November 13, 1866, of an old Canadian family, which for ninety years had been engaged in farming in that vicinity, he went to Winnipeg in 1884 at the age of eighteen. For a time he worked on a farm, later entering the leather business, at which he labored for four years. Then, with his brother, Fred, he took over a saddlery business in Calgary, which grew from a small retail to a large manufacturing and wholesale establishment, and became in 1900 one of the units of the Great West Saddlery Company, Limited, organized with E. F. Hutchings and himself as principals and with plants in Calgary and Winnipeg. With the rapid growth of the Prairie Provinces, this business has expanded tremendously, and today is one of the outstanding manufacturing concerns in Western Canada.

But Mr. Hutchings has by no means confined his energies to the one line of activity. His other business connections are numerous and important. He is president of General Supplies, Limited, Calgary; director of the Motor Car Supply Company of Canada, Limited; President of the McLeod Oil Company; vice-president of the McDougall-Segur Oil Company (new); vice-president of the McDougall-Segur Exploration; vice-president of the Commonwealth Petroleum, Limited; vice-president of the Regal Oil & Refining Company; director of Regal Distributors; president of E. M. Carson Saddlery & Leather Goods Company, Lethbridge; director T. H. Hutchinson Company, Limited, Medicine Hat; director of the Crowfoot Farming Company, and director of the Western Stock Ranch.

Mr. Hutchings was one of the first to become interested in gas and oil development in Alberta. Away back in 1892 he was one of the backers of a company which drilled for gas at the corner of Fourth Street East and Seventh Avenue, Calgary. Then in 1908 he was interested with A. W. Dingman and others in drilling for gas in the Sarcee Reserve and also in East Calgary, where enough gas was encountered to light the streets in that portion of the city. In 1914 he became heavily interested in oil development in Turner Valley.

His social, religious and civic interests have also been numerous and have attested to the all-round character and public service of the man. For many years he was a member of the Calgary City Council and for sixteen years a member of the Calgary School Board. He is a charter member and past president of the Calgary Board of Trade, which was established in 1891, and when the Associated Boards of Trade of Western Canada were functioning at the beginning at the beginning of the century was president of that body. He is an active member of the Alberta Development Board (Southern Section) and one of the mainstays of the Alberta branch, C.M.A. He has for seventeen years been a member of the session of Knox Church, now Knox United Church. He is an energetic Rotarian and is keen on Masonry.

Mr. Hutchings was married in 1894 to Anna Hunt, of London, Ont. They have five sons and two daughters, all grown up.

TURNED COLD BY RUSSIAN VISIT

Two English Miners Return Home With Harrowing Tales After Soviets at Work

EYTHORNE, Kent, England, Sept. 22.—Two English coal miners, W. Roone and J. Crane, who recently visited Soviet Russia at the expense of their employer, Mr. Tilden Smith, owner of the Tilmanstone Colliery, near Dover, have returned home with such harrowing tales of life in Russia, that none of their fellow workers would accept free trips to Moscow.

Addressing crowds of miners gathered at Mr. Smith's home, Roone and Crane described their experiences in the Soviet capital and at the Broski mine. Roone said their experience turned them cold.

MUSICIAN DIES

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—An outstanding figure in Western Canada music circles, Professor James Morgan, fifty-seven, died this morning at the family residence, Argyll Street, West Vancouver.

Professor Morgan, teacher of music, was conductor of the West Vancouver Choral Society and West Vancouver Ladies' Choir. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his widow, one nephew, Watkins Williams, of Cumberland, B.C.

REALTOR IS DEAD

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—William A. Campbell, outstanding in the mining and real estate life of the West for many years, died here last night aged sixty-seven. He had been a resident of Winnipeg since 1908.

Five special concerts at the Empress Hotel this season, November 14, December 11, January 23, March 26, April 17.

Jots From Geography

THE Red Fortress of the Alhambra, at Granada, is the chief architectural glory of Spain. The Alhambra was inherited from the Moors, and for many years remained in ruins, sadly neglected. In 1828 the buildings were renovated and reconstructed and now the towers and halls of the palace are the show places of the country. The towers rest upon a mountainside that overlooks the verdant countryside. The Alhambra has been immortalized in song and story. Washington Irving wove many intriguing tales around its existence.

SUNSHINE CAMP CLOSES AT LAST

Social Service League Resort Provides Holiday to 218 Mothers and Children

With the coming of beautiful Autumn days, the sound of the school bell, and the call of the daily task, has come the end of the holiday season and the closing of the Social Service League's Sunshine Camp at Sooke Harbor.

"No less than 218 mothers and children enjoyed a two weeks' holiday at this delightful seaside resort," writes Mr. R. S. Anderson, president of the board. "Added to the great gifts of nature was that peculiar type of sympathy for which Victoria is noted, and which goes out in gifts to all that are in need. Approximately $18,000 was given for the purchase of three acres of land and the construction of the camp. And to that must be added the time and energy of the board members who entered into the scheme of planning and building with a zeal never before experienced by the writer in a similar undertaking. The crowning event of their efforts of the past year was the opening day of the camp, at which were present representatives of the Provincial Government, among them the Premier, and many from the city, including the Mayor, together with representatives of Esquimalt, Saanich and Oak Bay. Then came the days of administration. The camp was to be open for three months, and more money would be required for the operating expenses. Again our friends came to our help, and gave nearly $2,000 to provide what was required for our guests.

"A mere 'Thank you' to our people seems so inadequate to express our feelings, and yet what more can be done? Perhaps some day you will talk to one of those little tots who has enjoyed the rich milk on the table and the sand pies on the beach, and you will feel something creep into your soul that will be a reward that will be real. This is all over now and the doors of the camp are locked for 1929. But what of the future? Let me say it in plain words, 'Our Social Service League is broke, and some of our staff have not had their salary for two months.' They are not complaining, but are still carrying on. For six months our people have been giving so liberally to the camp that nothing has been going into the general fund, and we find it necessary to say, 'Help us again.'

"We ask, in the interests of those we have cared for in the camp, and in the interests of those who are passing through our medical clinic every month, as well as for the 200 people that our case workers care for continually."

The Rhyming Optimist

TRUST TOMORROW

Today is good. The sunlight gleams
On peaceful meadows, tranquil streams.
The problems that with dawning came
Have vanished in the noonday's flame.
Enough of toil and love is ours
To fill with joy the flying hours;
Enough of daily bread and meat,
Enough of laughter, brave and sweet.
And yet we cannot be content
With all this bounty on us spent:
This wealth of song, these skies of blue,
We needs must ask, "Tomorrow, too?
Tomorrow will we find delight,
Tomorrow will our way be bright?"
Ah, thankless heart and foolish mind!
This is enough; today is kind.
Forget the rest, thus it was planned,
And trust tomorrow to God's hand.

Victoria Choirs To Go to Seattle Choral Festival

Four of Victoria's choral organizations will represent this city in the forthcoming choral festival which will be held at the Civic Auditorium, Seattle, on Wednesday evening, October 30. The leading choirs of the Northwest will compete and it is expected that the huge auditorium, which will accommodate 10,000, will be filled to capacity. The following choirs, First United Church Ladies' Choir, Schubert Club, First United Church Choir and Victoria Male Choir, have already brought much favorable attention to the city through their past successes and they will carry the best wishes of all local musicians for their success. A special boat is being arranged for, to leave Victoria about 1 p.m., returning from Seattle the same night. Special fares will be in force and persons desiring to make this trip should immediately notify Miss Burlton, c/o Willis Piano Co., Government Street, as there are only a very limited number of tickets available.

Mess Meeting

All members of the 16th Battalion, Canadian Scottish Sergeants' Mess, are requested to attend an important mess meeting at 8 o'clock, in the Drill Hall. Dress: blue patrols and trousers.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist, September 24, 1879)

A lengthy public meeting was held last evening to discuss the expenditures voted in the estimates at the last session for Victoria. Much discussion took place with regard to the suggested swing bridge across the harbor at Johnson Street, and the opening up of the 118 acres and the reserve to settlement.

Hon. W. Hamley, Collector of Customs, has been granted leave of absence for six months and will shortly leave for England.

Prices are low for canned salmon at San Francisco.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23—Mrs Charlotte Nelson, Winnipeg, committed suicide early on Sunday morning, when she walked into the Assiniboia River at the back of her home and was drowned. A sufferer from mental illness, Mrs. Nelson took her life while she was unaware of her actions, police stated.

Bishop's Wife Will Speak Here Friday

The Mothers' Union is holding a special meeting on Friday next in St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, at which Mrs Woods, wife of the Bishop of Winchester, will speak. The society is rarely privileged to have so notable a guest, and, in order that any who are interested may have the privilege of hearing Mrs. Woods the meeting is being thrown open to the public.

Mrs Woods is diocesan president in Winchester of both the Mothers' Union and the Girls' Friendly Society, so a special invitation is extended to all members of either of these organizations and to W.A. members also to attend. Mrs Sumner, of Winchester diocese was the founder of the Mothers' Union, which gives an additional intimate interest to the visit here of Mrs. Woods.

TWO MINISTERS WILL FORMALLY OPEN SCHOOLS

Hon. S. L. Howe and Hon. J. Hinchliffe to Officiate at Ceremonies in Vancouver and Royal City

NATIVE SONS TO GIVE PORTRAIT

Ministers of the Crown will officiate at the formal opening of two scholastic institutions on the Mainland.

Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, will formally open the new Point Grey Junior High School in Kerrisdale, Vancouver, next Friday evening. The building is a complete unit, and is the fourth junior high school to be erected in Vancouver. It was opened for operation with the commencement of the Fall school term on September 3.

More than forty teachers are employed in the institution, and 1,250 pupils have registered there this year.

The Fairview Junior High opened on the King Edward grounds in 1922 was the first junior high school to be operated in the terminal city. In 1927 Kitsilano and Templeton Junior High Schools were opened, and this year Point Grey Junior High has been added to the list.

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, who is at present on a trip in Eastern Canada will formally open the new Richard McBride School in New Westminster on Friday night, October 4, on his return to the Pacific Coast.

An interesting feature of the ceremonies in the Royal City will be the presentation to the school of a portrait of the late Sir Richard McBride, native son of New Westminster and former Premier of British Columbia, by New Westminster Post No. 4, Native Sons of British Columbia.

The portrait of Sir Richard McBride was painted during his lifetime, and has been obtained from its owner for the purpose of being made a gift to the school which bears its name.

Obituary

PROESTLER—There passed away in this city on Friday Edmund Proestler, late of Tofino, Vancouver Island. Aged sixty-five years and born in Germany, the late Mr Proestler had spent most of the past forty years at Long Beach, on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, where he was a rancher. The remains are reposing at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, from where the funeral will take place this morning at 8:45 o'clock proceeding to St. Andrew's Cathedral, where mass will be conducted by Rev. Father Evans at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

WILSON—There passed away on Sunday morning at the residence of Dr Harry Dier, 531 Linden Avenue, Margaret Elizabeth Wilson, wife of the late J. Hamilton Wilson, resident of Victoria for twenty-five years, formerly of London, Ontario. She leaves to mourn her loss her only daughter, Mrs. Harry Dier, and four grandchildren, Mrs Clifford Prescott, H. Branwood, Misses Patricia and Enid Dier. The funeral will take place from the B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Dean Quainton will conduct the service, after which the interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

GOUGH—There passed away at the family residence, 2309 Quadra Street, on September 23, Thomas Gough, a resident of Victoria for the past forty-one years, aged sixty-nine years, and born in Manchester, England. He is survived by his widow and two sons, Thomas and Richard, both of Victoria. The late Mr Gough was a member of the Orange Lodge, No 1610; the Foresters Lodge, Court Northern Light; the Sons of St. George Lodge, No. 311, and the Masonic Lodge, Britannia, No. 73. The remains are reposing at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, from where the funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick will officiate. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

MARKS—The death occurred at Duncan, B.C., on September 21, of Charles L. F. Marks, son of Mr and Mrs L. Marks, of 135 Medina Street, Victoria, aged forty-three years, and born in Victoria, B.C. The late Mr. Marks was a member of the Elks Lodge, B.P.O.E., Victoria, B.C. A private funeral will take place from the above residence this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. A. deB. Owens will officiate. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

DEAN—A large number of friends gathered at the Thomson Funeral Home yesterday to attend the funeral of the late Mrs Sarah Emma Dean, wife of Rev George Dean, of Ganges Harbor. The casket and hearse were covered with floral tributes, testifying to the great esteem in which Mrs. Dean was held by her many friends. Rev. W. J. Sipprell, D.D., assisted by the Rev W. A. Guy, officiated. The hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Peace, Perfect Peace." Mr Lawton Partington presided at the organ. The remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park. The following acting as pallbearers: Dr S. G. Clemence, E. R. Whittington, H. W. Grant, E. Sherrett, R. S. Anderson, D. Sinclair.

"DR. CHARLIE" HAS TO PAY A FINE

Parts With Five Dollars for Selling "Hot Dogs" Without Hawker's Licence

There was a mixed docket for Magistrate Jay to dispose of in the Victoria police court yesterday morning. Several cases following charges in connection with crossing a fire hose with motor cars, remanded from a previous hearing, came up for final disposal. Mrs J. Macaulay stated that there must have been a mistake in so far as she was concerned as she had not been near the place stated on the day mentioned. City Prosecutor Harrison asked His Honor to accept the statement and withdrew the case. T. Rhodes pleaded guilty to a contravention of the fire by-law in crossing a fire hose at Beacon Hill Park and was fined $10.

For allowing visitors to his house to become intoxicated on the premises, D. McKenzie, who lives at 636 Pembroke Street, was fined $50 or in default thirty days. Chief of Police Fry and Constable Kremer testified to entering the house on Sunday evening and finding several women intoxicated, a bottle containing a small quantity of gin, several glasses containing the same fluid and two unopened bottles of loganberry wine, the liquid being produced in court. Accused admitted ownership of the liquor, part of a supply he had laid in on Saturday, but couldn't recollect his guests drinking any of it.

Peter Landchick, who had been warned to take out a hawker's licence in his own name and not do business under a licence issued in his daughter's name, pleaded misunderstanding of the circumstances. The Chief of Police, Sergeant Bishop and Constable Woolsey all gave evidence as to the nature of the business carried on by the defendant. He sold "hot dogs" on the street corners under the style of "Dr Charlie, Hot Dog King." Descriptions of the article peddled cause some merriment, many things going to make up the "dog," sausage being a principal item, which His Honor remarked "might consist of anything, too." Because of the apparent misunderstanding, Landchick was fined $5, which was paid.

The outcome of a collision which occurred at the corner of Douglas and Broughton Streets between two motor cars at 12:15 o'clock September 18, brought L. Eton and W. Hitchin into court, together with counsel and a number of witnesses. Eton, while proceeding from Broughton Street into Douglas Street was hit by a car driven by Hitchin, the former's car sustaining considerable damage.

There was considerable difference in the testimony of the various witnesses called by counsel, His Honor regarding the testimony of disinterested witnesses for the plaintiff as important, and the fact that they had been impressed with the speed at which Hitchin was proceeding along Douglas Street convinced him that the driver was not exercising proper care and was driving to the common danger. He was fined $20. Mr R. C. Lowe appeared for Eton and Mr. O. J. Boulton for Hitchin.

SEEK LOWER CABLE RATES

CANADIAN PRESS WRITES TO HON. N. W. ROWELL ON TRANSPACIFIC CHARGES

Japanese News of Greater Import to Canada With Establishment of Legation

Hon. N. W. Rowell, chairman of the Canadian delegation to the Institute of Pacific Relations, shortly to meet at Tokio, Japan, has been approached by the Canadian Press with regard to the high rates for cables between Canada and Japan.

Mr. J. F. B. Livesay, general manager, has furnished Mr. Rowell, who sailed on Saturday on his mission to Japan, with the following data:

"The lowest press cable rate, Tokio to Vancouver, offered by either the Canadian Pacific or Canadian National Company is twenty-one cents a word. This is via Commercial Pacific Cable Company to San Francisco, and includes land tolls from San Francisco to Vancouver. There is a Pacific radio press rate, Tokio to San Francisco, 18.5 cents, which with land tolls amounts to 20 cents day rate to Vancouver, or 22 cents to New York, as against five cents from London and seven cents from Paris.

"While the quoted radio rate from Tokio to Vancouver, via San Francisco, is a little lower than the cable rate, even the former is much too high to permit the use of the service for press purposes to the extent demanded by the news available.

HAS OWN CORRESPONDENT

"The recent appointment of Hon. Herbert Marler as Canadian Minister to Japan and the establishment of a Canadian legation at Tokio has materially increased the importance of Japan as a source of news for Canada. To meet the situation the Canadian Press appointed Mr Percy Whiting its resident correspondent in Tokio. But the high cable tolls are in effect prohibitive, and thus we are compelled to depend largely on the mail from Tokio to Vancouver for Japanese news of special Canadian interest. For routine news we have access to the cabled reports of the Associated Press, of New York, and Reuters, of London, but naturally such are not compiled for Canadian consumption.

"Might the writer venture to suggest you be good enough to apprise the Canadian delegation of this situation, which, in fact, prevents us carrying an adequate report of its activities at the forthcoming convention?"

Cloudburst Halts Brush Fire Near Prospect Lake

Hunters and others who were out in West Saanich Sunday had a real glimpse of how it can rain in Vancouver. Shortly after 3 p.m. a black cloud appeared from the West and for about fifteen minutes a deluge of water came from the sky. Some idea of the amount of rain which fell in that period may be had from the fact that it completely put out a fire near Prospect Lake, which had taken a firm hold in the underbrush west of the lake.

Hunters and others who were caught by the cloudburst were soaked to the skin within a few minutes, while the streams and rivulets nearby took on the aspects of torrents for about an hour. The tail end of the cloud passed over Royal Oak, and parts from there on to Victoria escaped the downpour.

Work is being rushed on the full-size model of the cigar-shaped trains which are to be suspended from an overhead track in Scotland and be driven by an airplane propeller. George Bennie, the Scottish inventor, believes that speeds up to 100 miles an hour will be possible. At high speeds the streamline cars will rise slightly, taking their weight from the overhead rails. A double line of overhead airplaneways is estimated to cost about $85,000 a mile, which is about one-third the cost of ordinary rail tracks.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—From Herschel Island and other remote sections of the Arctic the Ms. Pattersons arrived here today, laden with a valuable cargo of furs. The major part of the cargo was composed of white fox pelts. The total shipment was valued at over $300,000. Captain O T Pederson, master of the vessel, declared this year's trip was his best for many years.

Patronage Against Merit In Government Positions Discussed at Convention

The following letter from Mr. F. Grierson, former president of the Civil Service Association, was read at the recent convention of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada at Toronto. It caused considerable discussion on the merit and patronage systems of promotion, and is reproduced through Mr. Aubrey H. O. Jones, secretary-treasurer of the local branch of the A.C.S.:

"The Civil Service of Canada uses up over twenty-five per cent of the annual Federal expenditure. It is a $100,000,000 affair—$84,000,000 for personnel and about $16,000,000 for material. The public interest and the welfare of individual civil servants are closely related in such a large concern. It is fair to assume that these mutual interests require an honest and energetic organization of the staff side which it lacks at present in the East.

"Since the beginning of staff side organization (and until quite recently) its activities have turned upon the battle between patronage and the merit system. The abolition of patronage and all its works was the motive in the founding of the Civil Service Federation. This letter is written in the belief that the rank and file of civil servants are 100 per cent for the merit system, and that this principle has not been supported by the present leaders of the staff organizations in the East, as I shall presently show.

"During my term of office on the executive of the Civil Service Federation I had many examples of the pathos and tragedy of patronage upon the lives of civil servants and their dependents. On this question I am satisfied the escutcheon of the Amalgamated is pure. I am equally sure that the record of the management of the parent body has deteriorated during the past several years in this most vital respect, that it has compromised its previous reputation; that it has yielded to opportunism, and that before the Parliamentary committee of 1923 evidence was actually given, with its approval, in favor of the patronage system.

"Patronage is the sole topic of this writing. I am herewith placing before you certain records, as statements of facts, in this regard, believing that you may thereby be all the more determined to enter this field and, in so doing, bring relief to the thousands of civil servants who are suffering from disloyal leaderships. The following typical examples of betrayal are submitted as grounds for this communication.

"1. In the year 1919 I was president of the Civil Service Federation of Canada. The law of May 24, 1918, and the classification were in force. In December, 1918, an appointment was made to the collectorship of Vancouver of an outsider, thereby passing over the whole customs staff for promotion. The law was violated. The wording of the qualifications (fixed by law) was changed from five years' customs to five years' business experience. I called a meeting of the executive and read a resolution calling for Dominion-wide protest in the press against this violation of the law, the invasion of the rights of the customs staff to promotion, and the injury to the public interest in placing an unqualified man in a responsible position.

"Not a man on the executive would second the resolution. The representative of the Dominion Customs Association (Mr. T. H. Burns) actually opposed the motion emphatically. The resolution went to the waste basket. I then published all the facts of the case in The Civilian, of which fortunately I had sole control.

"2. In the session of 1928 four bills of major importance to civil servants were presented in the House of Commons: (a) A business manager for the service; (b) public purchasing; (c) the return of all positions exempted from the act; (d) personnel councils.

"Not the least attention was paid to any of these bills by the Ottawa societies, not even in regard to councils. It was not until the Prime Minister moved, in a following session of Parliament, that the council bill be sent to the committee on industrial relations that the federation felt it was polite and safe and politic for it to express an opinion.

"3. During the session of 1929 a bill was introduced (Chap. 38, 1929) providing that all private secretaries of Prime Ministers, of ministers and Leaders of the Opposition shall be entitled to: (a) Exemption from the Civil Service Act at appointment; (b) permanent appointment at retirement of minister instead of retirement from the service, as was previously law; (c) a permanent rank not less than chief clerk upon the retirement of said minister, etc.

"Two prominent civil servants of Ottawa called on a well-known member of Parliament and asked his support against the bill. He asked them to get their association, the Civil Service Association of Ottawa and the Civil Service Federation at work on the bill. They said they would do that and they left him, but never to return because there was nothing of that kind being done by the present home-keeping officials of these Ottawa organizations.

"4. At the same time, another member of Parliament wrote two letters, one to the Civil Service Federation of Ottawa and the other to the Amalgamated Civil Servants. He asked each one for their support in opposing this bill. The Amalgamated wrote a letter of nine paragraphs, each one a declaration of war against patronage in general and this bill in particular. The closing paragraph reads: 'We are opposed to Bill No. 7 because it is patronage, and we see no merit in it.'

"The letter from the member of Parliament to the federation on this subject was dated March 30. The reply of the federation bore the date of May 4. After mentioning the delay, the letter states that 'had any emergency intervened we would have communicated with you.' The federation did not consider that the stoppage of promotion to scores of high positions to be filled by private secretaries constituted an emergency. One sentence only in their reply deals with the problem. Note this pious apology for not taking up arms: 'Application of the merit system in precise circumstances is always a question requiring careful consideration of civil service organizations and such consideration we endeavor to give when the application of the merit system is in question.'

"This dictum upon the merit system was signed by Mr. V. C. Phelan, 1929 president of the federation.

"5. In its evidence before the Malcolm Parliamentary Committee of 1923 the Civil Service Federation of Canada came out bluntly in favor of patronage: (a) Patronage for all rural postmasters and labor positions, both skilled and unskilled; (b) patronage for all technical and professional positions, subject to minimum qualifications; (c) patronage to all positions over $2,400; (d) all promotions to be exempted from the Civil Service Act and handed over to departmental and patronage manipulations, without even the outworn minimum qualifications.

"The president of the federation, Mr. D. L. MacKeand (1923), gave the evidence as to the foregoing, which will be found between pages 213 and 250 of the Malcolm Committee Report, 1923. This evidence was authorized and approved by the unanimous vote of the executive of the Civil Service Federation of Canada.

"The federation in preaching patronage for the civil service is false to its manifest mission. It has failed in its responsibility. This word responsibility contemplates enthusiasm. D'Artagnan had it. There is no D'Artagnan visible in these Ottawa organizations. The dictionary meaning of responsibility is duty, a trust, courage, faith. These qualities do not stand out in the record of these organizations for the past several years.

"It may be a surprise to some of your members to learn that the officer of the federation who gave this evidence, destructive of the Civil Service Act, declared in the opening part of his evidence that he 'believed in the merit system.' You must make allowance for the schools of training and the bureaucratic atmosphere flourishing in the political capitals of the world. As Polonius said at Elsinore, 'We are much to blame in this, 'tis too oft proved that with devotions visaged and pious action we do sugar o'er the devil himself.'

"It can, I believe, be truly asserted that it is a long time since there have been so many personal grievances as to conditions as there are today in Ottawa, the home of these two organizations.

"Therefore, I hate to believe that when the members of the Ottawa civil service find out how firmly you stand on the basic principle of merit and the aid you are affording to your membership, who may be working under unfair conditions, you will be made welcome in this capital city. If your record is kept as true as I believe it has been so far, you will displace a body that usurps a position of trust—that has been unfaithful in its stewardship.

"The merit civil service law, by its name and its very nature, is a moral principle; if properly administered it might be termed a divine principle. It is a matter of public record that this law has been defiled and corrupted, yet these Ottawa organizations emit no sound or sign of life. Innumerable cases of unjust individual terms and conditions go unredeemed. It is essential that some power should arise to drive these timeservers from their places, even as the Divine Master drove from the temple those who desecrated its sacred precinct."

City & District

Last Touring Party—What is believed to be the last touring party of the season will be the Colpitts Pacific tour, to be in the city next Wednesday.

Seaplane Base—A meeting of the Aviation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be held at 10:30 this morning to discuss the question of the seaplane base for Victoria.

Festival Week—The public meeting called by Mayor Anscomb to consider the question of holding a festival week in Victoria next Spring will be held in the City Hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Baychimo Coming—From Point Barrow and Hudson's Bay Company posts in the Arctic, the steamer Baychimo is expected at Esquimalt some time tomorrow. It is not known yet whether she will winter here or return to England.

Touring Parties — During the week-end a delegation of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite Masons, who have been in session at Edmonton and have continued through to the Coast, is expected to visit the city. The party has stayed over at Jasper Park en route to Prince Rupert, and came thence by steamer to the south.

To Discuss Peace River Matters—The Vancouver Board of Trade sent a delegation here by the night steamer for the purpose of taking up with Premier Tolmie today the development of the Peace River area, the need of a rail outlet, and the possibility of a visit by Coast members of the Legislature to the area before threshing is completed.

Sustains Crushed Finger—Mr. James Armour, 944 Fairfield Road, an employee of the Victoria Waterworks, sustained a badly crushed finger on his right hand yesterday while placing a stone under the rear wheels of a truck as it was backing up. Dr. Gordon Kenning attended the injured man at St. Joseph's Hospital.

To Support Apple Show—Associated Growers of British Columbia have given their support to the International Apple Show to be held in connection with the Vancouver Winter Fair, November 26 to 29. The Winter Fair will be held earlier this year than in recent Winters, to avoid the adverse weather which has militated against attendance on several occasions.

Immigration Building—The iron grill work in the immigration detention building on Dallas Road is to be bricked in, and work upon the project will start immediately. The ironwork extends from the first floor to the roof, forming a closed-in space for Orientals to promenade. For some time the bars have been showing ravages of the sea air, in spite of numerous coats of paint.

Liberal Election—The annual general meeting of the Victoria Liberal Association will be held tonight, at 8 o'clock, in the Liberal headquarters, corner of Government and Broughton Streets. Business will include the election of president and other officers for the 1929-30 term. The chair will be taken by Mr. C. J. V. Spratt, president of the organization.

Bush and Grass Fires—Bush fires at the rear of the Protestant Orphanage Home, Empire and Mount Stephen Avenue, were handled yesterday by the Victoria Fire Department. In the first instance they were out for about one and a half hours, and in the second about forty minutes. A grass fire at Victoria and Denman Streets gave them half an hour's work before being extinguished. No damage resulted.

Ogden Point Work—The Edward Rinalda Company will start work on raising the ends of Piers A and B, Ogden Point docks, with four-foot concrete parapets on Monday. The William Greenlees Company is expected to start soon on provision of dolphins and fender logs. A start has been made on replanking the south and north sides of Pier A with 4 x 12-inch timbers as part of the Dominion Government's $46,000 programme of improvements.

Victoria College—The anticipated number of 240 students was obtained when Victoria College opened its doors to the students yesterday. Last year the number was 233. The scholars were addressed by Dr. E. B. Paul, principal emeritus of the college, who welcomed the new pupils and extended greetings to the second-year students. Professor O. Black, the new instructor in classics, was introduced by Professor P. H. Elliott, the principal. Night classes will commence on Thursday.

Regimental Orders

The M.T. Section of H.T. Company, 11th Divisional Train, C.A.S.C., will parade on Tuesday, September 24, at 8 p.m., for drill and lectures on the work of the mechanical transport.

UNDER THE CLOCK
City Hall Activities in Brief

At last night's meeting of the City Council the recommendation of the finance committee that a grant of $600 be made to the Young Women's Christian Association to assist with their work was approved.

For sinking fund investment the Council approved the purchase from Messrs. Ames & Co. of $6,000 Province of British Columbia guaranteed Vancouver and District Joint Sewerage and Drainage Board, 5½'s, due September 1, 1962, to yield 5.25 per cent.

An offer of the list price of $1,000 for lot 998 (except the easterly seven feet thereof), Block 17, between Vancouver and Cook Streets, as recommended by the finance committee, on terms, was approved by the Council.

The resolution of the City Council of September 9, approving the construction of a sidewalk on Richmond Avenue, on a sixty-forty basis was, in accordance with the recommendation of the public works committee, rescinded by the Council last night. The city engineer was authorized to proceed with the construction of a concrete sidewalk, at an estimated cost of $600, on the east side of Richmond Avenue, from Fort Street, north to the entrance to the Jubilee Hospital grounds.

The Council, in consideration of the owner of Section 38 conveying to the city a strip of land along the northerly boundary of that section, will agree to build a five-foot board fence on the southerly boundary of the section and move the existing fence there ten feet to the south, the owner conveying to the city all land between the new fence on the south and Balmoral Road.

The Council decided to discontinue the present agreement between the city and the C.P.R. under which a certain amount of power for street lighting on the Causeway is supplied from the Empress Hotel, and in future will absorb the whole cost of street lighting on the Causeway in consideration of an annual payment by the company of $150.

It was recommended to the Council by the public works committee that the cluster lighting system throughout the city be operated in full service until 11 o'clock p.m. daily. The recommendation was approved.

The board of police commissioners are to be advised that there are no funds available for moving the forty-seven electric light and telephone poles from the roadway on Fernwood Road, the cost of which would be $2,930.

In regard to the application of the J. Kingham Coal & Dock Company, Limited, for a lease of land covered by water, fronting Lot 14, Block 1, Victoria harbor, the Department of Marine and Fisheries, Ottawa, wrote to the city asking if it had any objection to the application being approved and what was the value of the water lot and the real and assessed value of the land on which it fronted. The communication was referred to the city engineer, city land commissioner and city assessor for report.

Notice of motion was given by Alderman Dewar of his intention to move that Messrs. L. E. Gower, N. H. Lord and John Baxter be appointed by the Council to administer oaths and take and receive declarations in connection with the registrations of householders and licencees for the municipal voters' list for the years 1929-30. The purchasing agent is to be instructed to call for tenders for the printing and binding of the list.

The secretary of the Provincial Exhibition wrote the Council stating that the executive of the British Columbia Agricultural Association was satisfied with the conditions of the lease of the motor building at the exhibition grounds to the Victoria Automobile Dealers' Association. The Council assented to the execution of the lease.

The request of the Civic Employees' Protective Association that holidays should be granted to Mr. R. S. McIlmoyl, caretaker at the Royal Athletic Park, who, it was stated, had been in the employ of the city for four years without having had any holiday, was referred to the Royal Athletic Park committee with power to act.

That Christmas Day should be observed by a display of flags upon civic and other public buildings in Victoria, was the suggestion received by the City Council from Mr. W. A. Edwards, of Liverpool, England. Mr. Edwards stated that the movement had been adopted by many city councils and boroughs in England, as well as by a large number of commercial firms. The writer is to be informed that the display of flags on civic buildings here at Christmas is customary.

Sunset Chapter

A most delightful card party was held Friday evening in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Duncan, under the auspices of the Sunset Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Warrick as Worthy Matron, with Mrs J. T. Brown, Mrs. W. B. Powell and Mrs. N. McIver, took charge of the general arrangements. Progressive bridge and progressive five hundred were played. In the one room there were thirteen tables of bridge, Mrs. R. Waldon (Chemainus) won the ladies' first prize and Mr. N. McIver (1)ok the high score for the gentlemen, and Mrs. A. E. Green and Mr. Pelch the consolation prizes. In each room there was a "lucky" chair, and in the bridge room Mrs Buckham was the fortunate occupant. There were also thirteen tables of progressive five hundred. Mrs G. Taggart carrying off ladies' first prize honors and Mr. A. H. Peterson high score for the gentlemen. The consolation prize went to Mrs. D. Tait and to Mr. Cummins. Mrs. Chester won the "lucky" chair prize in this room. The vocal solo, "Think Ond for a Garden," with "Roebud" for an encore contributed by Mrs. D. Tait, with Mrs. J. T. Brown as accompanist, was much enjoyed.

Chemainus Review W.B.A.

The usual monthly meeting of the Chemainus Review, No. 19, Women's Benefit Association, was held on Thursday evening. Business in connection with the resignation of two of the members who are leaving the district was gone into. For the office of sergeant, held by Mrs. Beltman, retiring, Mrs. Baker was proposed and elected, whilst that of financial secretary, held by Mrs. Clyne, retiring, was filled by Mrs. C Cave. The several committees for the apron sale to be held on October 10 were appointed as follows: The home cooking stall, Mrs. Murray; apron and work table, Mrs F. Work, Mrs. Hallberg, Mrs. C. Cave and Mrs. Ethridge; tea servers, Mrs. Cherrington, Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. J. Cook; candy stall, Mrs. O. Neal, assisted by Miss Mabel Cook. The selling of tea tickets will be managed by Mrs. O. Jacobson. Following the business meeting a social time was spent, this being the last meeting in Chemainus to be attended by Mrs. Beltman and Mrs Clyne. The hostesses were Mrs. F Work, Mrs. H. Hansen and Mrs. O. Neal.

Duncan United W.A.

The W.A. of the United Church met in the church parlors on Friday afternoon, Mrs. T. C. Robson presided. The Scripture lesson was read by Miss Hall, plans for the Winter season were discussed. The Get-Together and Martha Circles will be in charge of the supper to be held on Monday evening, October 7, in connection with the harvest services of the church. Decorations of the hall and tables will be arranged by the Unedue Circle, and the musical programme by the Priscillas. It is hoped to have an address by a prominent speaker from Victoria. The annual bazaar will be held on November 20. Sympathy was expressed with Mrs. Robert Mann, who was called to San Francisco owing to the illness of her son, Mr. A. D. Mann, who resides there. The treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Browsey, reported a good financial standing, and the sum of $250 will be handed the church stewards to be paid on the manse mortgage. Encouraging reports were received from the Circle leaders, each Circle having started work again after the Summer vacation.

BLACK FOX IS CAPTURED AT LARGE ON GORGE ROAD

At about 10.45 o'clock yesterday morning the neighborhood of the Gorge Road resounded to such cries as "Tally-ho," "Tallyho" and "Mark Forrard," the cause of the excitement being a black fox; as the field joined the hunt from neighboring houses and gardens.

The hunt, which lasted twenty minutes, began when Mr. B Martin, driving his car towards town, suddenly saw his quarry trotting down the middle of the road towards him. He immediately gave chase, and eventually it was possible to throw a coat over him. The fox was brought back to town and has since been claimed by the owner.

Autumn Influences Season's New Hats

WITH the falling of the leaves comes an urgent desire to change costumes, and nothing puts victory in the autumn like a new hat. Above are recent models. It is worn with a smart tweed suit in soft shades of brown and tan with flecks of cream. (3) The beret type, favorite of Paris.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

SOUTH SAANICH

The regular monthly meeting of the South Saanich Women's Institute was held in the rooms, Temperance Hall, on Thursday evening, with an excellent attendance of members. Mrs. H. Lawrie presiding.

Matters of interest under discussion were plans for the Winter's activities, it being decided to start the regular card parties on Saturday evening, October 5. These will be continued fortnightly throughout the Winter, and later on it is expected a tournament will be started.

The first wool comforter making bee will be held on Thursday afternoon, October 10, and any member wishing a wool comforter made is asked to get in touch with any of the directors of the institute.

* * *

Correspondence received included a notice from Mrs. V. B MacLachlan of the places at which the various district conferences throughout the Province will be held. Mrs. Robson (ro)s reminding the members of the annual potato fair to be held in Vancouver the latter part of November, and asking that any entries, individual as well as institute, reach her on time. The sum of $3 was voted towards the prize money to be given at the potato fair. A letter from the Vancouver Exhibition committee expressing regret that no entry had been sent in from the institute was read.

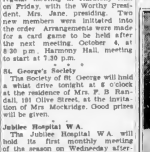
In conjunction with the wool bees, it was hoped to have a practical demonstration on the making of home-made dressmakers' forms. If possible, it is hoped to make one for each member who wishes it at the wool bees throughout the Winter.

Copies of the play "The Rebellion of Youth" were distributed among the members, and Miss M. MacKenzie and Mrs. J. R. Warner were appointed to select the players and direct.

It will be presented some time before Christmas. It is expected.

At the next meeting there will be a demonstration on cake icing, and a general discussion will be led by Mrs. R. F. Nimmo.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mesdames J. J. Young, E. Oakes and J. N. Wood.



Was In Bed All Summer

"I have to work in the store and do my own housework, too, and I got nervous and run-down and was in bed nearly all summer. The least noise would make me nervous. I was told to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken seven bottles. It has made me strong and put more color into my face. FILM PROPAGANDA FINDS SUPPORT

Views of British Picture Producers of Victoria Call Forth Favorable Comment in English Press

The Morning Post, one of the leading London newspapers, in its issue of September 6 refers to the following vigorous statements which appeared in the first number of the magazine of the British Picture Producers, of Victoria, at the same time commenting upon the corroboration given by these statements to the contentions of The Morning Post that cinema is of enormous value in spreading British propaganda throughout the Empire.

"Undoubtedly the cinema is the greatest and best form of advertising in the world today, as it is universal.

"President Hoover, in recent speeches, has definitely stated that the movies have done more in boosting American manners, fashions and trade than any other medium.

"Are we Britishers doing this for our Empire?

"On are we apathetic and allowing the United States to get all the benefit of the film industry, and grabbing the trade of the world, part of which should be ours?

"Are we letting the Americans come in with their money, buying up our theatres as the great advertising centres, in which to disseminate their propaganda, boosting their flag, their army and their navy?

"The answers to these questions are unfortunately obvious.

"Let us wake up then and get right down to business and boost our own goods. Our own Empire with its wonderful resources, our navy and our flag.

"The opportunity is at our door. Let us then be up and doing, grasping it with all our might, and going through as Britishers to the end."

CRUISE SOUTH ON 350-TON VESSEL

Son of Chicago Multimillionaire Leads Expedition for American Museum

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—A 30,000-mile voyage in a sailing ship to the glamorous equator packed with the thrills of animal trapping in snake infested jungles of Borneo, Dutch East Indies and New Guinea was described here by Mr. Cornelius Crane, Ipswich, Mass., son of Mr. R. T. Crane, Chicago multimillionaire manufacturer, and four other members of a scientific expedition which, since last November, has been engaged in the work of collecting zoological specimens for the Chicago Field Museum.

Burned and hardened by tropic heat, Mr. Cornelius Crane slim youthful, organiser and leader of the expedition, discussed his adventures in a matter-of-fact way which belied the perils which so recently faced his little band of scientists and sportsmen. His companions, Messrs. M. N. Fairbank, Charles B. Peary, Sidney W. Shurtleff and Dr. W. L. Moss, of Harvard Medical School, who was medical officer and anthropologist of the journey, spoke praise for the initiative and organizing ability of the youthful Crane who, not a scientist but a keen sportsman, was responsible for the entire expedition.

Success attended the efforts of the scientists and sportsmen in their 30,000-mile voyage over unknown and little known areas of the world. Fraught with perils from unfriendly natives, poisonous reptiles, fever-ridden swamps, ferocious beasts, their forays inland from the seaboard were productive of much in the way of scientific discovery. They secured and forwarded to the museum several hundred species of fish, reptiles and animals, all of them interesting and many of them new.

There is a "Treasure Island" touch to the story of their preparations for their romantic cruise. Scorning the up-to-date powered craft which they easily might have secured, they set out from Boston on November 16 last year in a 350-ton sailing vessel, the brigantine Ilyria. Sailing through the canal they cruised to the Galapagos Islands, 600 miles southwest of Panama, and than on to Halita, Borneo, Marquesa Islands, Tahiti, Fiji Islands, New Hebrides, Solomon Islands, New Guinea and the Dutch East Indies. Altogether they crossed the equator six times.

Mr. R. T. Crane who journeyed from Chicago in his private car over the Canadian Pacific Railway joined his sportsman-son, celebrating a reunion after a year's separation.

HELEN WHITTIER HERE FOR CARGO

Arrow Line Freighter Has Men of Many Nations in Crew of Thirty-Five

To load 550,000 feet of lumber for Camden N.J., and other United States Atlantic Coast ports, the Los Angeles Steamship Company's Arrow Line freighter Helen Whittier docked at Ogden Point to King Brew, at 8.15 o'clock yesterday morning and will leave some time this morning in command of Capt. GOLDEN FOREST CREW ARRIVES

Admiral Evans Is at Seattle With Thirty-Three Men From Wreck at Far-Off Cape Likiligutak

INVESTIGATION TO BE HELD FOR SHIP

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—Aboard the steamer Admiral Evans, thirty-three seafaring men from the freighter Golden Forest, abandoned in Bheliikof Strait, Southwestern Alaska, after being dogged by misfortune for many days, arrived here today. The Golden Forest is supposed to have been wrecked by mistaking the echo of her whistle for the signal of the U.S. coastguard cutter Haida.

She was refloated and was on her way to Seattle for repairs when, on September 5, she went ashore at Cape Likiligutak. The fishing schooner Explorer rescued the officers and men from the Golden Forest and transferred them to the Admiral Evans, a short distance from the scene of the wreck.

The men, after attending an investigation into the wreck of the Golden Forest here will be sent to San Francisco, where they signed on the freighter.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

Fur trimming, it seems, is determined to be as radically different this season as the silhouette. Admitting that this is an ambitious feat, there are many indications that it is being accomplished. Fur is appearing in any number of unexpected places with new decorative habits

The smart yellow-beige broadcloth coat sketched today evidences one of the latest clever tricks of fur trimming Black galyak forms the round stand-up collar which terminates in a luxurious scarf. The low placed ripple flare at the back and sides developing the new coat silhouette is accentuated by wide bands of the same fur. The effect repeated on the cuffs, and additionally provided with an extended flare also of galyak, sounds a warning that fur trimming innovations are eminent.

DANCE FOR GYRO CAST OCTOBER 8

Miss Mabelle Stick Outlines Plot of "Keep 'Em Smiling"—Clubmen Inspect Esquimalt Drydock

A dance for members of the cast of "Keep 'Em Smiling," the big musical comedy which Victoria Gyros are staging at the Royal Victoria Theatre next week, will take place on Tuesday night, October 8, commencing at 8:30 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Charles Mess announced yesterday at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Gyro Club. All Gyros and their ladies are expected to join with the show cast in the social function

Gyros Louis Glazen and Frank Burton reported on plans for "Keep 'Em Smiling," which will hold the boards at the Royal Victoria on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, October 3, 4 and 5, and stated that there was a brisk demand for tickets. Rehearsals for the show are being held nightly.

Miss Mabelle Stick, of Chicago, who is directing the show, outlined the plot of the production, which revolves around the trials and tribulations of one Henry Trimble, in the firm of Bland & Bracken. The show abounds in comedy, mirth, singing, dancing and beautiful girls.

Following the luncheon, the Gyros paid a visit to the Dominion Government drydock at Esquimalt, where they were shown the various units by the dockmaster, Captain G. R. Parker. The clubmen greatly appreciated Captain Parker's courtesy in explaining the operations of the huge graving basin, and accorded him a hearty vote of thanks.

RUMSBY—STREETER

A pretty home wedding took place on Saturday night when Rev. Bruce G. Gray united in marriage Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Streeter, and Mr. George Ernest Rumsby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rumsby. The ceremony was performed under an arch prettily decorated with Autumn flowers and ferns. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming as she entered the drawing-room to the strains of the Wedding March, wearing her wedding gown of turquoise blue satin with hat en suite and carrying a bouquet of lily of the valley and Ophelia roses She was attended by Miss Harriet Bell, dressed in a gown of orchid satin and tulle, carrying a bouquet of mauve asters. Mr. Horace Rumsby, brother of the groom, was best man. During the signing of the register Mrs. Butterfield sang "Because," accompanied at the piano by Major W H Watts Following the service, a reception was held, the bride's table being centred with a three-tier wedding cake, from which were carried streamers of white satin ribbon and sweet peas The bride and groom were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. H. Streeter, mother of the bride, and Mrs. A. Rumsby, the groom's mother Mr and Mrs. George E Rumsby left on an auto tour for California. For traveling the bride wore a tweed silk dress and fawn camel hair coat, with fox fur and a chic felt hat to match. On their return Mr and Mrs Rumsby will reside on Linden Avenue.

A plan for providing good houses for the poorest sections of Capetown, South Africa, is being encouraged by the Governor-General.

CONVICT MAKES UNIQUE CLOCK

Having every part, even to the smallest wheel, composed of wood, a clock has been completed by a convict in Europe who recently completed a twenty years' sentence. It is built into a cupboard, runs without human supervision, and contains thirty watches which show simultaneously the correct time in the thirty largest cities in the world. Another watch in it shows the movements of the sun, moon and stars. A barometer predicts the weather. A calendar marks the passing of the days, weeks and months, overcoming, unaided, the irregularities of leap year.

FAMOUS VINE'S YIELD LARGE

The famous Hampton Court vine of London, planted in 1768, is expected to yield this year about 500 bunches of grapes which will be sold to the public at $1.25 a pound. The annual picking of the grapes is one of the unique events in London and is watched by local people and tourists who desire to purchase some of the fruit.

Society Notes From Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—The debut of several of Vancouver's beautiful young women into society was the outstanding event of last week here. On Friday evening a dance was given at Hotel Vancouver by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McMullen for their daughters, Miss Mary Griffin and Miss Naomi McMullen. Preceding the dance a number of dinner parties were held, chief among these being the dinner given by the dance hostesses. Their guests were Miss Marion Robertson, Miss Beatrice Merritt, Miss Dalton Marpole, Miss Kitty Tiffin, Miss Frances Bower, Miss Adele Herrmann, Miss Frances and Miss Gertrude Griffin, Mr. Cecil Merritt, Mr. Pat Burns, Mr. Theo Du Moulin, Mr. Philip Wootten, Mr. Martin Griffin, Mr. Walter Roberts, Mr. Leonard Du Moulin, Mr. Edward Mulqueen, Mr. Logan McLennan and Mr. Temple McMullen.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Spohn entertained at dinner in honor of their elder daughter, Peggy, who also made her debut at the dance that evening.

Another debutante who was hostess at dinner was Miss Jean McLennan who entertained at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. P. A. McLennan. Miss Susie Bushnell entertained at dinner for Miss Gwynedd Codd, who also made her bow to formal society that evening.

Among others who gave dinner parties preceding the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Shallcross who had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts, Miss Lila Malkin, Miss Mary Simms, Captain Van der Byl, and Mr. H. E. Molson.

Mr. and Mrs. Aeneas Bell-Irving gave a dinner when covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Pattullo, Miss Athol Carter, Miss Alison King, Mr. Donald King and Captain Rooke.

One of the larger dinner parties was given at the Hotel Vancouver in the Italian room, when the hosts were Major and Mrs. J. C. Ross. Their guests were General and Mrs. R. P. Clark, Mrs. Will Spencer, Mrs. Victor Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Lefvre Baker, Mr. and Mrs. George Kidd, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ghent Davis, Mrs. Alfred Maron, General and Mrs. A. D. McRae, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Macrae, Mrs. J. W. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Mayne Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lamb and many others.

Were Injured at Initiation

THE photographs here show, left, Alexander Wakefield, engineer salesman, Toronto, in whose behalf a suit for damages has been issued against Grand Orange Lodge of British America, Integrity Lodge, No. 2949, and D. F. Linton, right, and G. Carmichael. Wakefield alleges he was seriously injured about the head during lodge initiations. He declared that he seemed to slip and fall and was knocked unconscious, and later could not speak. He has been attending St. Michael's Hospital for two months for treatment. "Of course I will stay in the Orange Order," he is reported to have stated.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

BANISHING ASTHMA

In the past few years I have written many articles on the subject of asthma, and although thousands have written to me about their cures I still find that there are plenty of "wheezers" if I am to judge by the number of letters I receive from asthma sufferers alone.

It is remarkable what a high percentage of cures of this distressing ailment can be accomplished through home treatment. The number cured really depends upon the number who follow instructions implicitly. Many asthmatics who read this statement for the first time may doubt its truth, owing to the fact that they have been told that their trouble is incurable. I do not blame some asthmatics for believing that their case is hopeless after they have tried so many different remedies, with pills, vaccines, serums, smoking powders and unsuccessful changes of climates. However, I wish to assure my readers that asthma is curable through the methods I advocate, and that the treatment is simple enough to be understood by any schoolboy.

There are several different types of asthma, but the fundamental causes are essentially the same. There is always some restriction interfering with the diaphragm and other breathing muscles, and there is also usually a formation of excessive quantities of mucus in the lungs. The feeling of suffocation and tightness in the chest is because something is interfering with the function of inspiration. The diaphragmatic muscle is always too tight, either because of lack of development or because of the pressure of excessive amounts of stomach or intestinal gas.

A distended stomach from overeating can, of course, produce a temporary pressure, but in the chronic cases there is always a tendency to flatulence which still further retards the action of a poorly functioning diaphragm.

There are many contributing causes which may precipitate an attack. The patient's sensitiveness to certain kinds of foods, the breathing of an irritating odor from flowers, horsehair, etc., the retarding influence of moist climates upon skin elimination, local nose and throat infections—these must all be considered contributary causes, and always secondary to the restricted diaphragm and the excessive mucus.

During an acute attack, the difficult breathing may be relieved through injections of adrenalin, or the use of some smoking powder containing opiates. Such remedies, of course, do not produce a cure, and in fact make the chronic condition worse.

The type of sensitive asthmatic who cannot eat eggs or shell fish can always be cured so that these foods may be eaten without bringing on an attack. The reason for such sensitiveness will be found in a kind of acidosis which is removed as soon as the patient's blood stream is more thoroughly alkalinised through living on a carefully planned, well balanced diet. This is also true with the one who cannot smell certain flowers or come near an animal with certain kind of fur or hair.

More about asthma tomorrow.

Sue Carol has lovely skin

Movie Directors Decide Girls' Greatest Loveliness

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—39 movie directors say that the secret of a girl's attractiveness is exquisite skin. "It is a first essential for the screen star," says Clarence Badger, Paramount director. "Only marvelously smooth skin carries over to the audience," Sue Carol explains. "Lux Toilet Soap leaves my skin gloriously smooth." Nine out of ten screen stars are using this white fragrant soap. And all the great film studios have made it their official soap in all dressing rooms.

DIAMOND DYES are the finest dyes you can buy. They are made to give you real service. They contain the very highest quality anilines that can be produced. It's the quality of the anilines in Diamond Dyes that give such soft, bright, new-looking colors; that make them go on so evenly—without spotting or streaking; that enable them to keep their depth and brilliance through wear and washings.

Next time you have dyeing to do, try Diamond Dyes. See how easy and simple it is to use them. Then compare results. You will surely agree Diamond Dyes are better dyes.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the highest quality dye, prepared for general use. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye, for silk and wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. When you buy—remember this: The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

BARTHELMESS ON CAPITOL'S SCREEN

Betty Compson Supports Star in Latest Feature, "Weary River," Shawing All Week

Richard Barthelmess is now heard as well as seen. The etar of two-score features, famed for his "Broken Blossoms," his "Tol'able David" and his "Patent Leather Kid," is now being heard for the first time in "Weary River," his newest First National starring feature, which is at the Capitol Theatre.

In "Weary River" Barthelmess not only talks, but plays the piano. A Vitaphone test proved his voice of excellent quality for talking pictures and advance notices predict unprecedented success for the initial Barthelmess talkie.

"Weary River" is from the short story by Courtney Ryley Cooper, adapted to the screen by Bradley King and directed by Frank Lloyd.

The cast supporting Barthelmess is headed by Betty Compson, who recently played the feminine lead in Barthelmess' "Scarlet Seas." Others in the cast include William Holden, Raymond Turner, George Stone, Louis Natheaux, Robert O'Connor and others.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "Moulin Rouge," the feature now showing at the Columbia Theatre, was directed by E. A. Dupont, director of "Variety," and stars Chekova, a brilliant Continental star of the Moscow Art Theatre, who makes her bow in America for the first time. She is considered one of the most finished of European dramatic actresses and portrays her highly emotional role with vivid intensity.

AMUSEMENTS

Capitol—Dick Barthelmess in "Weary River."

Columbia—"Moulio Rouge," starring Chekova.

ON THE STAGE

Coliseum—The Mildred Page Players offer "Companionate Marriage."

Playbause—The Reginald Hincks Co. present "The Merry Widow."

PACKED HOUSES ENJOY NOAH'S ARK

Warner Bros. Superb Production Attracts Crowds to Dominion Theatre All Day

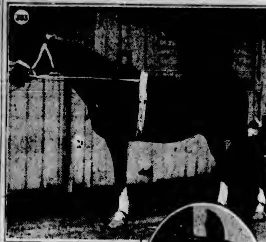
Ham, Shem and Japheth, eons of the patriarch, play prominent parts in the Biblical sequences of "Noah'e Ark," the Warner Bros. super-special, etarring Dolores Costello with George O'Brien and which packed the Dominion theatre from noon until almost midnight yesterday. This is without doubt the first time that the heroes of the Flood have been dramatized, if one makes the exception of the opera which was a sequel to the immortal Dryden's "Fall of Man"—"Noah's Flood; or the History of the General Deluge."

George O'Brien gives a magnificent portrayal of the fearless and fiery Japheth in "Noah'e Ark." This is a dual role, O'Brien in the earlier modern sequences of the stupendous spectacle, playing the part of an A.E.F. buddy of the World War. During a vivid story told by a chaplain in the midst of bombardment, the characters, Travis and his eweetheart, Mary—played by Dolores Costello, are wafted back to the daye of Noah, playing their parts in the tumult and terror of the days before the Deluge, Travis (Japheth) finally bearing Mary (Miriam) to the safety of the ark.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE The comedy of that able team, Will Marshall and Vivien Coombs as the Baron and Baroness in "The Merry Widow," is the acme of mirth. At the Playhouse this week with the Reg. Hincks Co. On the screen is "Behind the Doors," a myetery drama, starring Virginia Valli.

COLISEUM THEATRE A big cast of actors whose faces are well known on the motion picture screen is seen with Douglas MacLean in the production of "The Carnation Kid," which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre. MacLean himself playe the role of Clarence Kendall, a typewriter ealesman, who is also mistaken for the Carnation Kid, a famous gangster and an inventor. The real Carnation Kid is played by Francis McDonald, who was recently seen in Paramount'e "The Drag Net" and many other pictures.

Horses for Prince's Ranch



ALDEBARAN, Arab stallion, belonging to the Prince of Wales, was with Crusader, a Clyde stallion, a recent passenger on Canadian Pacific steamship Minnedosa, and went to the Toronto Exhibition as a break in their long journey across Canada to the Prince'e ranch at High River. Aldebaran, like his Royal master, is of democratic temperament and made no bonee about posing for the photographer. Inset is a close-up of the horse. The Prince has some high-class blood stock on his ranch and these horses, with a number of others that have come or are coming over to Canada in the near future, will have an effect on breeding all through the West that will be a boon to farmers and stock raisers.

Popular Couple Get Beautiful Home in "Keep 'Em Smiling"

Such was the esteem in which they were held by the general public and real estate promoters in particular anxious to get the socially prominent to live in their new subdivision that Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trindle were given a brand new model home costing $25,000 on the condition that they agree to live in it for a period of three years. This is just one of the many climaxes in "Keep 'Em Smiling," the musical comedy being put on by the Gyro Club at the Royal Theatre October 3, 4 and 5, and in which some of the best musical and dancing talent is incorporated.

LUXURY CRUISERS IN NORWAY

FILIPINO FILM STOPPED

Showing of "Patria Amore," a Filipino-produced film, has been stopped in Manila, P.I., by an injunction secured by Antonio de la Riva, a wealthy Spanish business man, on the ground that the picture slanders the Spaniards. NEW CROP REPORT IS ENCOURAGING

While Yields Are Low, Grades in All Prairie Provinces Much Better Than for Last Year

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 23.—The weekly report of the Canadian Pacific Railway Agricultural Department on the crop is most encouraging. Wheat is now 80 per cent threshed, oats 82 per cent and barley 84 per cent. Manitoba, Southern Saskatchewan and Southeastern Alberta report practical completion. Much of the wheat continues to grade 1 and 2, and very little yet marketed has gone below No. 3 Northern.

All ploughing and work on summerfallow is being carried on in a number of districts, especially in Manitoba, but soil is too dry for effective work. There is little labor shortage reported, farmers having combined their efforts to a greater extent together with the extensive use of the combine. Harvest feed for livestock is generally good, due to roughage in grain fields.

Manitoba reports 98 per cent wheat threshed, 96 per cent oats and 96 per cent barley. There is a feeling of satisfaction all over the province that the crop has turned out as well as it has, with higher prices prevailing. The season has been a good one for the eradication of sow thistle and quack grass.

In Saskatchewan, threshing is much ahead of that for the same date last year, with 85 per cent of wheat threshed, 82 per cent of oats and 85 per cent barley. Yields vary but grades show considerable improvement over the previous year. Wheat is grading mostly 1 to 3. Oats and barley are disappointing.

Except in the Peace River territory, Alberta is well away on the threshing, with 73 per cent wheat, 69 per cent oats and 71 per cent barley. Yields vary, but grade is of much better quality than last year.

Coarse grains are disappointing. Wheat threshing in Peace River is general, with 20 to 50 per cent threshed, the average grade being No. 2.

Cleanliness and quality of fruit is the feature in British Columbia, a greater percentage of higher grades being reported than in 1928.

ANSWER TO SUNDAY'S PUZZLE

Fireproof Walls and Ceilings at No Extra Cost

For Basements

MOST house fires start in the furnace room. It is there that fire usually gets a start and spreads unless stopped by fireproof walls and ceilings.

This hazard can be effectively eliminated by lining the basement walls and ceilings with Gyproc.

Why not remove this dangerous risk? And at the same time why not partition off the entire basement into extra rooms—a fruit closet, furnace room, workshop or children's playroom?

Doing so will make a clean, attractive basement and keep dust from going through the floors—the walls and ceilings will take any decoration, Alabastine, paint or wallpaper. The basement can be made as clean and attractive as any other floor in the house.

For Stores and Factories

HUNDREDS of modern stores and factories are reducing the fire hazard and adding protection to their stock by erecting ceilings and walls of fireproof Gyproc Wallboard. They are doing this not only because Gyproc is the best fire-proof Gypsum Wall Board on the market, but because it actually costs less than many materials that have no fire-resisting qualities whatever.

Gyproc cannot warp, shrink or buckle and takes any decoration. A perfectly smooth, flat surface is assured by filling the joints with Gyproc Joint Filler. No other wallboard offers such ease of application, labor saving and economy. Gyproc is 3/8 inch thick, 6 feet to 10 feet long and 48 inches wide.

Benny's expression was worried. "Whatta ya want to do, Honey?"

"I want to branch out," she cried, with more passion than petulance. "I want to see other places besides Topeka and Bloomington and Nawark. I've been living in a suitcase ever since I married you."

"Well, I carried it, didn't I?"

"Listen, if I hadn't married you—"

Benny lifted a defensive hand. "I know the answer!"

"I wasn't made for this kind of a life." Her blue eyes were sullen. "I'm ambitious. I've got the face and the figure to be somebody. And I'm going to be."

He grinned feebly. This sudden attack had upset him. It wasn't like Flo. Of course, they had had little domestic tiffs in the three years of their nomadic married life, but nothing like this.

She turned away now, with a shrug of annoyance. "Oh, what's the use of talking to you! You belong where you are. Look at your friends—Lew Lewis, a cheap song writer—"

"Lew's all right," defended Benny loyally.

"You expect me to waste my life listening to his wise cracks—and trying to be polite to that dumb blonde cabaret singer that trails around after him—"

"Blondes don't hafta be bright."

"No—you're satisfied with those kind of people. You've got no imagination. You don't try to get up in the world. You're a great help to a woman who wants to be somebody!"

And very quietly Benny said: "I taught ya to dance, didn't I?"

"Oh, I don't know; I wasn't so bad before I met you."

"Well, ya wasn't so good, either."

"Maybe you can dance," she admitted, "but what's it getting you?"

"The trouble with you, Honey"—he smiled patiently—"ya ain't had any breakfast."

"I don't want any breakfast."

"Oh, eat it, Baby—you'll like it."

"Well, where is it?"

"I dunno where they keep it till ya order it." He picked up the telephone. "Grapefruit, eh, Mamma?"

"Isn't there ever anything but grapefruit for breakfast?" murmured Flo wearily.

"I think I'll try prunes for a change. Hello," he called into the telephone. "Breakfast for two in Suite 710. One grapefruit, one stewed prunes—wait a minute—" He turned solicitously to Flo. "How about some oatmeal, Honey?"

Flo rewarded him with a dark look.

He put up a defensive hand. "All right." Then into the telephone: "No oatmeal. Fry two, an' turn 'em over . . . Yeh—all the way over—they're eggs! Wait a minute." To Flo, "How about a lamb chop?"

"I don't eat them in the morning," she answered crossly, "and you know it."

"No lamb chop," said Benny into the telephone.

"I'll have some coffee and toast." She sighed, as if the very thought of food was distasteful to her.

"Didja hear that?" said Benny into the telephone. "Coffee and . . . And what? Whatta ya think? Toast . . . O.K. An' get it up some time before dinner, will ya? Thanks." He put down the telephone, and turned to her with his cheeriest smile.

"Ya see, Baby, how a little breakfast changes everything?" Then, with a valiant effort to revive her drooping spirits, he continued. "I remember one time—before I met you—I was playin' one of them overnight towns in Oklahoma, an' the hotel an' all the boardin' houses was full up. It was county fair week! Couldn't get a room nowheres, not even a boardin' house. I thought I'd have to sleep in the dressin'-room—but it wasn't big enough to lay down in. So the manager of the theayter sends me over to the sheriff, an' whatta ya think the big bozo offers me? A cell, Mamma. Would ya believe it? A cell in the hoosegow!"

"And why not?"

"Well, I took it—see," went on Benny, undaunted, "an' all night I'm layin' there thinkin' 'Well, here y'are at last, kid—an' there's a lot worse guys outside!' An' when I get up in the mornin', whatta ya think this egg of a sheriff does? He charges me one buck for the room. Can 'a imagine how I felt when I got outa that dump? Well, Mamma—believe it or not—I goes an' gets myself some breakfast, see, an' everything is—" He finished with an expansive gesture expressing complete satisfaction.

"And what's all this leading to?" inquired Flo coldly.

"I'm just tryin' to point out to ya, Honey, that breakfast is a big thing when y'ain't feelin'—"

"Oh, turn it off!" snapped Flo. "I've been hearing this ragtime for three years!"

"All right, Baby!" He was still cheerful.

"Have you figured out how you're going to pay the hotel? You went ahead and took a suite here on the strength of our—Broadway engagement, didn't you?"

"But I thought—"

"You thought! With what? I never knew you to think since the day I married you."

"I couldn't of been thinkin' that day!"

"Here we've been rehearsing five weeks—spending our last nickel—and now all we get out of it is two weeks' salary—and lucky to get it. And you stand there giving me a ballyhoo about breakfast!"

"Well, what's the matter with breakfast?" He smiled with undimmed good nature.

A knock at the hall door.

"And there it is!" he exclaimed. "Right on the cue! Come in."

The door opened, and a tall, spare, young man with a doleful countenance, wearing a green suit and a cap, stood there.

"Hello, Lew!" called Benny, eagerly welcoming this interruption. "I thought you was breakfast."

"Wrong," observed the young man in a hollow voice. Hands in pockets, he sauntered indolently into the room, kicking the door shut after him. Salomy, the bull pup, sniffed at his heels suspiciously.

Along Broadway Lew Lewis was celebrated as a song writer and curbstone comedian. His humor took the form of satire and irony, spoken from the depths of a pessimistic soul. He had never been known to smile, and he seldom removed his cap, unless dining with a lady in a public restaurant.

"Well," began Benny cheerfully, "how'd ya like the show?"

Mr. Lewis made an indelicate gesture of holding his nose.

"As bad as that?" said Benny.

"I give it a week at the most."

"But the notices wasn't so bad," persisted Benny.

"Wrong again."

"Oh, what's the use of talking to Benny!" Flo turned away.

"She acts as if I wrote the show!" Benny grinned. "Had any breakfast, Lew?"

"I have." Lew nodded toward Flo. "She ain't."

"That's just what I been tellin' her. She'll feel better when—" He saw Flo start toward the bedroom. "Where ya goin', Baby?"

"To Palm Beach!" And she went out, slamming the door.

Benny started after her, bewildered. Mr. Lewis, with the look of a man who expects that sort of thing from women, sat down and languidly lighted a cigarette.

"She thinks the show's a bust," confided Benny.

"She's clever."

"I dunno what's wrong with 'er." Benny's cheerfulness had evaporated. "She's talkin' like she was sick of me."

"Yeh?"

Benny resented his friend's cynicism. "Well, Flo's diff'rent—"

"They all are," said Mr. Lewis.

"Whatta ya mean, they all are?"

The philosopher of Tin Pan Alley merely exhaled a smoke ring and watched it with mild interest.

"Gee," continued Benny, "ya gotta expect a bad break now an' then. The biggest artists in the profession gets 'em. What's the use of gettin' discouraged?"

"Why not?"

"The show got off to a bad start las' night. But lots of shows get panned—an' run a year. Look at—"

"Don't say Abie's Irish Rose."

"I'm sayin' we're good, Flo an' me. One show don't make ya or break ya."

"One broke me," sighed Mr. Lewis, recalling an ill-fated venture as a producer.

"Listen, Lew," demanded Benny very gravely, "dontcha think we're a good dance team?"

"I dunno about the team. The little woman acts like she was ready t' kick out of the harness."

"Ya don't really think so, Lew?"

"I was wrong once."

"Well"—Benny clutched at his old optimism—"This is twice! All that's the matter with Flo is she ain't had any breakfast."

This strained moment was relieved by the entrance of an elderly waiter, carrying a tray.

"Where ya been?" Benny greeted him.

"I don't cook it," wheezed the waiter gloomily.

"Lucky for us." Benny was making a new show of cheerfulness. "Hey, Mamma!" he called. "Here it is!"

With leisurely and ponderous movements, the waiter laid a cover upon the table, rattled the dishes into place, and drew up two chairs.

Flo came in then, dressed in a simple little blue frock, her nose powdered, her dark hair, with a glint of bronze in it, freshly waved.

"Say, Baby, ya look like a million!" Benny beamed at her. "Well, let's gather round the festive board!"

"Festive!" sniffed Flo, seating herself. She held up a piece of burned toast. "What's this?"

"Toast," answered the waiter gloomily.

"I thought it was a shingle." Flo flung it down.

"It's toast," repeated the waiter more gloomily.

"Don't argue with 'er," said Benny. "Don't pay no attention to 'im, Mamma. Maybe the coffee's good."

With the elaborate flourish of a sleight-of-hand performer, he lifted the silver cover off a dish. "Whatta ya know about that—eggs!"

"Give 'im a hand—he's good," said Flo witheringly.

The waiter stood by, tapping the check with a pencil.

"Pay the pelican," suggested Mr. Lewis.

The waiter turned a grieved glance upon him.

"Oh, yeh." Benny took the check and examined it. "For what?" he demanded. "Y'ain't gonna charge for that prop toast? Ah, well." He signed the check and handed the waiter a quarter.

The waiter stood looking at the coin in his hand.

"Well?" said Benny. "What's the matter with it?"

"I dunno—yet," murmured the waiter dismally, and took himself off.

Socially, too, the breakfast was a failure. Benny watched Flo covertly. Beneath her preoccupied manner he sensed an impending crisis in their domestic life. He did not understand her mood, but it worried him.

"Well, Baby," he began amiably, "whatta y'all dressed up for?"

"I'm expecting the Prince of Wales."

"Whatta ya gonna do—brush 'im off?" Benny laughed loudly at his own joke.

"Leave that one in the act," nodded Mr. Lewis.

Benny noticed that Flo was sitting motionless, staring down at her plate. He leaned toward her gently. "Whatsa matter, Baby? Y'ain't eatin' nothin'."

"I don't want any breakfast." With a sudden toss of her head, she rose and walked across to the window and stood gazing down into the bleak grey court. Her lips trembled; she appeared about to cry. Utterly miserable and helpless, Benny watched her. Then the uncomfortable silence was broken by a knock on the door.

"Come in," called Benny.

A little wide-eyed blonde girl, dressed like a stage ingenue in vivid blue, with white furs, paused in the doorway.

"Hello," said she, in a baby-talk voice, and smiled toothsomely.

"Hello, Peggy." Benny stood up. "How's things?"

"I called your room, Lew"—she came in, a studied cuteness in her walk—"an' they said you were up in seven-ten, so I come up. I wanta run over that new 'blues' number with you." She glanced around. Flo was staring out of the window; Benny was staring at Flo. "What's the matter with everybody?" Then something resembling an idea glimmered within Peggy Page's ornamental blonde head. "I forgot to congratulate you, Flo!"

Mr. Lewis appeared to slap his brow despairingly.

"Thanks," murmured Flo, with restraint.

"I thought the show was wonderful!" gurgled Peggy.

"Didja see it?" inquired Mr. Lewis with irony.

"Your dance was class!"

"There!" Benny exclaimed. "What did I tell ya?"

"Were the papers good?" Peggy wanted to know.

"The papers," Flo answered coldly, "said the show was rotten."

"Now, Baby," protested Benny, "there was one critic says—"

"Well,"—Flo turned on him—"what did he say? Come on—tell me."

"Wait a minute, Baby." He put up his hands in the comic attitude of an early nineteenth century pugilist. "Ya don't wanta spar a coupla rounds with me, do ya?"

"Don't be a fool!"

"Who, me?"

"Who, me? That's the only comeback anybody ever gets out of you. You're small-time," flashed Flo angrily, "and you'll always be small-time!"

"But I got a big heart, ain't I?" He grinned. "Aw, come on, Honey."

"Come on where?" She took a step toward him. "Where do we go after this show closes?"

"But it ain't closed yet!"

"How d'ya know?" interposed Lew from the sidelines. "Y'ain't been down t' the theayter this morning."

"Now, listen, Mamma—"

"And stop calling me Mamma!" In her outburst of temper she seemed to have forgotten that they were not alone. "Oh, I'm sick of the whole game. I want to get away."

"Away—where?" Benny gulped.

"I don't care."

"Well—uh—y'ain't forgettin' we got a contract with the show?"

"By Saturday night there won't be any show."

Miss Peggy Page, who possessed little tact and less delicacy, looked from one to the other. Then, in her baby-talk voice she remarked: "Gee, this is better than the heavyweight elimination fights! What's it all about?"

Benny looked pained. "It's over my head."

"Everything's over your head," his wife retorted briskly, "except your hat! I'll tell you what it's all about!" She confronted the unwelcome visitors, her cheeks flushed. "I'm through with this small-time stuff! I've got talent, and I've got personality—if I do say so myself—and I've seen a lot worse-looking women riding around in swell cars. And they're headliners! I'm tired of trouping around three-a-day circuits like a trained seal. I'm sick to death of cheap hotels and upper berths—and not having nice clothes and all the things I ought to have!" Her voice broke.

There was a tremulous pause.

"Well—" Benny swallowed hard—"whatta ya gonna to do, Honey?"

"You'll see!" she cried, and whirling swiftly, ran into the bedroom, and shut the door.

To Investigate Alleged Film Picture Combine

PROF. KENNETH W. TAYLOR

Of the Economics Department, McMaster University, who has been appointed by the Federal Minister of Labor to conduct, under the Combines Investigation Act, the preliminary investigation into the alleged combine in the motion picture industry in Canada. This preliminary inquiry is to decide as to whether or not a royal commission will be appointed to delve into the matter, and Prof. Taylor expects to submit his report to the Government in a couple of weeks.

NEED LARGE SUM TO AID FARMERS

REGINA, Sept. 23.—At least $1,500,000 will be required immediately to give assistance to the 5,479 families in the drought area, is the opinion of Hon. A. C. Stewart, Minister of Highways, who has just completed a series of conferences with the reeves, councillors and representative business men in the stricken districts.

In a large number of cases, help will be required immediately, and it is thought likely that a further large sum will be required to enable farmers to put in their crop next Spring.

Turkey plans to greatly increase its educational facilities.

Lovely ANITA STEWART guards the smoothness of her skin with LUX Toilet Soap

"It keeps my skin so velvety-smooth," says this famous actress

No matter how beautiful a girl may be in other ways, unless she has appealingly lovely skin she is not really attractive.

Thirty-nine leading Hollywood directors have found this to be true from their experience with motion pictures, and every screen star and stage star knows it from her own experience.

Of the 451 important actresses in Hollywood, including all stars, 442 use Lux Toilet Soap to guard the soft smoothness of their skin, and an overwhelming majority of the stars of the New York stage successes also depend on this delicately fragrant white soap.

All the great film studios in Hollywood have made Lux Toilet Soap the official soap in their dressing rooms, and leading theatres throughout the country have placed it in their dressing rooms. In New York alone, it is used in 71 of the 79 legitimate theatres.

You will be charmed with Lux Toilet Soap, too. Notice, after you have used it a little while how exquisitely soft and smooth your skin is. Order several cakes—today. Luxury such as you have found only in French soaps at 50c and $1.00 the cake—now 10c.

ANITA STEWART, one of the most famous among today's actresses, realizes so well that a clear, smooth skin is absolutely essential for attractiveness, and uses Lux Toilet Soap both in Hollywood and on tour. She says: "The more I use this delightful soap the better I like it. It keeps my skin so velvety-smooth and soft!"

Anita Stewart

Anita Stewart has the kind of appealing beauty which wins hearts both on the screen and on the stage. Not only does Lux Toilet Soap give her skin the gentlest care, but it lathers so very generously even in the hardest water. She is one of the many actresses who are enthusiastic about this white, daintily fragrant soap.

School Children's Swimming Gala to Be Held Oct. 4-5

Elimination Heats Will Be Swum on Friday Night at 7:30 o'Clock—Finals on Saturday—Entries Will Close Tuesday

Budding aquatic stars from the many schools in Victoria and District will be seen in action in the fifth annual school children's swimming gala at the Crystal Garden on Friday and Saturday, October 4 and 5. On the first mentioned day elimination heats for the fifty-yard races for boys and girls under twelve and up to fourteen years, will be carried out; also races over the same distance for boys under sixteen. The starting time will be 7.30 o'clock on both nights.

TWO FEATURE EVENTS

The feature events, as in previous years, will be the relay races; one for the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion Cup, and the other for the Pendray Cup. The former is confined to boys' teams of four under fifteen years, while the latter is for the budding mermaids attending elementary schools, with no age limit set.

Special interest is added to the relay events in view of the fact that the Jantzen Knitting Company has donated a cup for the British Columbia championships for boys' and girls' relay teams in elementary or junior high schools. This will permit the winners of the Pendray Cup to enter the British Columbia championship event, and the elementary school boys' team which finishes first in the Britannia Branch Cup, will also be afforded this opportunity. Just when and where these finals will be conducted, officials of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club could not say last night.

Entries for the coming gala will close at 7:30 o'clock on Tuesday.

THE PROGRAMME

The complete programme follows:

Anscomb Life-Saving Cup—Donated by His Worship Mayor Anscomb, of Victoria, B.C., to the Victoria Branch of the Royal Life-Saving Society and held for one year only. Competitors must hold the elementary and proficiency certificate of the Royal Life-Saving Society, and be boys or girls under sixteen years of age and must undergo the following tests:

Water Tests—(a) Each competitor to swim 25 yards, breast stroke; (b) each competitor to swim 25 yards, back stroke, using legs only; (c) swim to and carry by the Society's first method of rescue, for a distance of 15 yards, a patient selected by the Society; (d) demonstrate the second method of release from the clutch of a drowning person; (e) dive from the surface for a weighted object in a depth of five feet of water.

Land Tests—(1) Demonstrate the Schafer method of resuscitation of the apparently drowned; (2) demonstrate the restoration of the circulation in a person whose breathing has been restored.

50 yards, free style, boys under 12 years; elimination heats, October 4.

50 yards, free style, girls under 12 years; elimination heats October 4.

50 yards, free style, boys under 14 years; elimination heats October 4.

50 yards, free style, girls under 14 years; elimination heats, October 4.

50 yards, free style, boys under 13 years; elimination heats, October 4.

50 yards, free style, girls under 10 years.

50 yards, free style, boys under 10 years.

50 yards, free style, girls under 16 years.

Canadian Legion Cup (Britannia Branch)—Two hundred yards relay, four to a team, boys under 12 years; 200 yards relay, four to a team, girls under 13 years; 200 yards relay, four to a team, boys under 16 years; high schools only.

Diving—Boys under 13, from one-metre springboard, consisting of three compulsory and three optional dives: (a) running plain dive, (b) running jacknife dive; (c) back dive.

Diving—Girls under 16, from one-metre springboard, consisting of three compulsory dives as above and two optional dives.

200 yards relay race for Pendray Cup, four to a team, girls; elementary schools only; no age limit.

Diving competitors are requested to give a list of their optional dives along with their entry. A list of fancy dives may be seen on the notice board of the V.A.S.C. at the Crystal Garden, or in the new C.A.S.A. handbook, which may be obtained from the secretary, or at the Royal Dairy, 707 View Street.

HUNT CLUB IS FORMED HERE

Date of First Meet is Set for Saturday, September 28 — Applications for Membership Invited

FOXHOUNDS WILL BE BRED HERE

Many lovers of horseflesh in Victoria will be pleased to hear that there has been a movement on foot for sometime, to form a hunt club, and the movement is now near completion.

Victoria has long felt the need of such an organisation, and when the hounds arrive the club hopes to have many an exciting drag.

One of the objects of the club is to encourage that prince of sports—good riding. The first paragraph of the constitution says that the club is "to be of a sporting nature, and, above all, for the furtherance of the horse in and about Victoria and Vancouver Island."

The club rates are very reasonable. They are based on the facts that today few people own their horses, and in many cases feel that they cannot afford to ride. The membership will be open to approved applicants only.

Mrs. R. V. C. Bessonette, noted dog breeder, has lately been in connection with Montreal and New York with regard to bringing out some foxhound bitches. These will be bred, and placed at the disposal of the club, so that by this time next year the club should have a good-sized pack.

The club hopes to hold its first meet, and open the season on Saturday, September 28, from Williamson's Riding School. Further details will be gladly furnished by the honorary secretary, Mr. J. Bessonette, Phone 1303 or 5518 R.

BOWLING LOOPS WILL ORGANIZE

City and Commercial Leagues Will Meet Tomorrow Night at 2 o'Clock —Fivepin Players Meet Friday

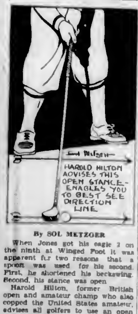
Organization of the five and ten-pin bowling leagues will get under way this week, according to a statement made yesterday by the officials of the various loops. The City and Commercial Leagues will meet at the Arcade Alleys tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, while the Fivepin League will hold its annual meeting Friday at the same time.

BANNER SEASON

Judging by the preseason interest, it looks safe to predict a banner year with the pin spillers. A number of new clubs in both the Commercial and Fivepin Leagues are assured, while the City League is expected to have at least four teams.

It is hoped to make two sections of the Fivepin League, one to play in the afternoons and one to play at night. At the conclusion of the playing of the regular league schedule in each section it is suggested to have the champions meet in a three-game play-off series. Should such action be taken it will eliminate the two halves in the schedule. During the season it is proposed to have the different sections roll each team once, with the points counting in the standing of the teams in their own league.

Jones Takes Open Stance for Spoon



By SOL METZGER

When Jones got his eagle 2 on the ninth at Winged Foot it was apparent for two reasons that a spoon was used for his second. First, he shortened his backswing. Second, his stance was open.

Harold Hilton, former British open and amateur champ who also copped the United States amateur, advises all golfers to use an open stance in order to simplify their problems. He advocates it on the ground that nearly all great golfers do so, thus putting the weight in evidence in its favor, and because it permits one to better see the direction line than does any other stance.

Tomorrow—Do we get our weight into the golf swing?

MERE $6,900 FOR WINNING PLAYERS IN WORLD'S SERIES

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—A cheque for approximately $6,000 will be handed each player eligible for "a full share of the winners' end of the world series money, and about $4,000 will be the reward to each member of the losing club.

Based upon indications of sell-outs in both home parks for the first four games, the only ones in which the players share financially, approximately $492,680 will be distributed—thirty per cent of which will be split among second, third and fourth-place clubs in each league—leaving about $345,000. Sixty per cent of the latter sum goes to the victorious club and 40 per cent to the runner-up.

TACOMA GIVEN NEXT P.N. MEET

1930 Tournament Will Be Held at Fircrest Club—W. Ellis Is Named as President

PUNCH BOWL PLAY TO BE ABOLISHED

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—Meeting here Saturday, the Pacific Northwest Golf Association elected Will Ellis, president of the Vancouver Golf and Country Club, president. The annual tournament will be staged next year on the latter course.

E. A. McLennan, of the Vancouver Golf and Country Club, who was vice-president, and therefore in line to succeed to the presidency, withdrew his name from consideration because of enforced absences from the country next year, and named Mr. Ellis. His selection was unanimously approved.

The 1931 regional tournament was awarded to the Fircrest Golf Club of Tacoma, with the Tacoma Country and Golf Club assisting.

PUNCH BOWL ABOLISHED

The fifty or more delegates who attended the meeting voted to renew the former custom of holding the regional open tournament just prior to and in conjunction with the amateur and women's events, but to hold it on the course of the assisting club. They also voted to abolish the punch bowl and class "B" tournaments.

Other officers elected were: Vice-president, G. Herb Raleigh, Fircrest, Tacoma; secretary, A. S. Smith, Marine Drive Golf Club, Vancouver; treasurer, E. M. McLean, Vancouver Golf and Country Club. Directors for three years: H. A. Fleager, Seattle Golf Club; A. C. McNickin, Portland Golf Club. Honorary director, A. S. Kerry. Holdover directors are J. E. Wilson, Victoria; R. Bell-Irving, Jericho; W. E. Pearson, Waverley, and H. I. Peyton, Spokane.

Included among the delegates attending the meeting were John Hart, Jericho; T. W. Fletcher and L. M. Diether, Shaughnessy Heights; W. Ellis and E. A. McLennan, Vancouver; E. D. Todd, Victoria.

BOWLING CLUB TO BE FORMED

Meeting Called for Tomorrow at Crystal Garden to Discuss Plans of Organising New Club

Announcement was made yesterday by T. H. Mayne, of the Capital City Lawn Bowling Club, that a meeting will be held tomorrow night at the Crystal Garden, at 8 o'clock, to discuss the proposition of organizing a club that is expected to operate at the Crystal Garden this Winter.

Last year Ivan Awde, who was then manager of the Garden, had three tables placed in the building and the Capital Club carried out the city championships on them with great success. As this sport is continually demanding more accommodation it is proposed to organise a new club this season, which will affiliate with the Capital City League and play in accordance with the rules of the Scottish Association.

The terms of the new club will be reasonable, and it is anticipated that there will be a large membership soon after its inception. It is intended to elect officers and committees and everyone interested is invited to attend.

The clubroom will be open every evening from 7:30 to 10.30 o'clock, except on Sunday, and interesting competitions will be continually in progress. Later on, arrangements will be made for the formation of a women's section.

JEWELL ENS TO MANAGE PIRATES

Former Acting Head Signs Contract Following Resignation of Owen J. Bush

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—Jewell Ens, acting manager of the Pittsburgh National League Baseball Club since the resignation of Owen J. Bush, Saturday signed a contract to manage the club in 1930.

Ens took over the managerial reins upon the resignation of Bush on August 28, shortly after the Pirates returned from an unsuccessful Eastern campaign. He had served as coach of the Pirates over a period of several years. Barney Dreyfus, owner of the Pirates, paid his new leader a big tribute in announcing the signing of Ens this afternoon.

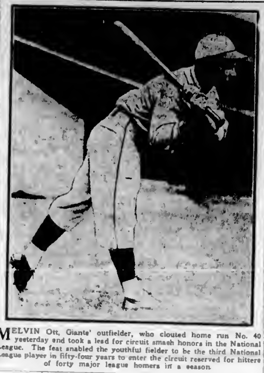
The new pilot, who is about forty years old, was a successful manager of the Houston team in the Texas League early in his career. He also was a hard-hitting infielder in the Texas League, later going to the international circuit.

Baseball Player Is Charged With Murder

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 23.—Sam "Red" Crane, former major league baseball player and Pacific Coast League star, went on trial on a charge of murder here today in connection with the slaying of his former sweetheart, Miss Delia Lyter, Harrisburg, and her companion, Jack Oren, New Cumberland, Pa.

Crane will be given two separate trials, being tried first for the killing of Miss Lyter and then for the fatal shooting of Oren.

Slams Out Forty Homers



MELVIN Ott, Giants' outfielder, who clouted home run No. 40 yesterday and took a lead for circuit smash honors in the National League. The feat enabled the youthful fielder to be the third National League player in fifty-four years to enter the circuit reserved for hitters of forty major league homers in a season.

Battalino Decisions Andre Routis to Win Featherweight Crown

Sturdy Little Italian Decisively Outpoints Frenchman in Fifteen-Round Bout—22,000 See Mix—Gate Receipts $25,000

By WALTER TRUMBULL
(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

HURLEY STADIUM, EAST HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 23.—Bat Battalino, the sturdy little Italian who never has fought outside his native New England, made his name known in far parts tonight when he won the featherweight championship of the world from Andre Routis, of France.

There was no doubt as to the justice of the decision. Battalino took twelve rounds, Routis two and one was so close it could have been called either way. Bill Conway, of Hartford, the referee, showed no hesitation at the conclusion of the bout, but instantly raised Battalino's hand, thus formally crowning him king of the 126-pounders.

The decision was vastly popular with the crowd of 22,000 who had come to see a local idol battle for the title. The spectators cheered the new champion to the echo.

ROUTIS TRIES HARD

Routis did not pass from the picture as that other champion, Terry McGovern, did in this same city of Hartford almost thirty years ago. Terry went out with the fog in his throat and the canvas at his back but Routis is a strong little Frenchman and was still fighting at the final bell.

It was simply a case of a veteran of twenty-nine on the down slope meeting a boy of twenty-one on his way up. Battalino was too young, too strong and too fast for his opponent.

With equal courage, more stamina, a little longer reach and a harder punch the Italian outfought and outwrestled the Frenchman. He did not knock him out or even knock him off his feet. In fact, it was Battalino who went down in the sixth round from a right swing to the head, although he bounced to his feet apparently unhurt.

Again in the tenth round Routis almost put Battalino down with a stiff left hook to the chin, but the recuperative powers of youth made this but a momentary setback. Before the end of the round "Bat" was tearing in again apparently as strong as ever.

Routis has been in many bouts in his time and experience aided him to catch many of Battalino's blows off his gloves and elbows, but the trouble was that he could not himself land effectively.

The Frenchman's plan of battle was plain. He walked in with his arms guarding his face and body, prepared to let his younger opponent wear himself out through his own efforts and then take him in the closing rounds.

REFUSED TO TIRE

The plan failed for the reason that Battalino refused to tire. He was swinging almost as lustily in the fifteenth round as in the first.

After the bout it was reported that Battalino had hurt his right hand in the fourth round in which he attacked Routis savagely with a flurry of right and left jolts to the head.

All during the bout Battalino was at his best at long range where his speed of foot and hand helped him. This was one reason why Routis continually tried to get in close where his longer experience at infighting counted.

It was a rough fight and in the later rounds Routis constantly complained of the manner in which "Bat" held his head. Frequently the new champion rushed in with fists flying like a charging ram and Routis couldn't get out of his way. Once Battalino rushed Routis out of a clinch so hard that Routis went through the ropes.

GATE RECEIPTS ATTACKED

As a climax to the evening's entertainment Dave Lumiansky, manager of Al Brown, attacked the gate receipts for $25,000, claiming a prior contract with Battalino. Jack Dempsey once said to me that the first thing a champion discovers is that anybody in the country has a right to sue him.

RIFLE TEAM FOR MAINLAND NAMED

Island Marksmen Will Compete Against Vancouver Next Week-End for Butchart Shield

The following men were selected to represent the Island in the Butchart Shield competition, which will be held at Vancouver September 22. This match will be the last held on the Richmond range at Vancouver as the Mainlanders now have a new range under construction. The team follows: Master Gunner H. Collings, Sergt. J. H. Regan, Lieut. D. Fyvie, Major F. Richardson, Sergt. B. Watson, A.Q.M.S. Evans, Capt. W. E. Tapley and Sergt. Asbe. Extras, Gunner S. S. Brown and B. Sergt. W. B. McKay.

The 5th Brigade held a prize shoot at Heals range on Saturday. Major Richardson carried away the major honors with a score of 102 out of a possible 105 and won half a ton of coal. Gunner Drysdale was second and won a silver cup. Gunner Carey was third, winning a shooting coat, and Gunner Hall, fourth, a cord of wood.

ROY HADLEY WINS MONTHLY MEDAL AT OAK BAY COURSE

Roy Hadley won the monthly medal round at the Victoria Golf Club Sunday when he turned in a card of 81, which with his 13 handicap deducted gave him a net 66. The winner finished a stroke in front of Harold Haynes, who had 72, 11, 67. There were thirty entries and the leading scores follow:

SONS OF FORMER LACROSSE STARS PAY VISIT HERE

Members of the New Westminster juvenile Salmonbellies, with V. Strople, their manager, paid a short visit here Saturday and took in the sights of the city. Included in the party was Bob Turnbull, the son of the famous "Dad" Turnbull; Bob Gifford, youngest son of Jimmy Gifford, Gordon "Shrieker" Rennie, a nephew of the famous Rennie brothers, Tom and George, Albert "Moosey" Spring whose dad they called "Grumpy," and, last but not least, young Ralph Latham, the son of Harry Latham, one-time captain of the famous Minto Cup holders, New Westminster Salmonbellies.

GOLF TROPHY CAPTURED BY UPLANDS TEAM

Local Club Defeats Point Grey in Second Half of Interclub Match to Win Suttie-Burton Forster Cup

WIN BY MARGIN OF 22 POINTS

The Uplands Golf Club will retain possession of the Suttie-Burton Forster Cup as a result of their victory over Point Grey here on Sunday in the second half of the match. Uplands emerged victorious by 22 points, five of which were gained in the first half on the Mainland in June and 17 in the second half.

The games were contested in four-ball matches, and the final score was: Uplands, 38½; Point Grey, 21½.

In the feature match, Walter Gravlin, professional at Uplands, and Bob Morrison, Uplands and city champion, defeated Dunc Sutherland, the Point Grey professional, and W. L. Waldie after some great golf. The local pair took the odd point of the three. Harold and Clarence Brynjolfson, Uplands second stringers, broke even with W. M. Bone and R. Watson.

The results, with visitors first mentioned, follow:

D. Sutherland and W. L. Waldie, 1; W. H. Gravlin and R. Morrison, 2.

W. M. Bone and R. Watson, 1½; H. Brynjofson and O. Brynjolfson, 1½.

E. T. Murray and J. A. McGeer, 1; A. C. Falk and J. Savident, 2.

R. W. Mackenzie and W. B. Knickerbocker, ½; C. N. Westwood and R. L. Challoner, 2½.

R. O. Moore and J. Welsh, 1; W. Pomeroy and L. Glazen, 2.

F. F. Kennedy and J. R. Borland, 0; A. G. Mackie and W. G. Leith, 2.

J. Howat and George Thomas, 2; C. Morrison and D. A. Macdonald, 0.

G. T. Cunningham and R. Henley, ½; George Pretty and G. G. Aitken, 2½.

W. F. Houston and W. Seaton, ½; J. A. Oddy and A. D. Findlay, 2½.

F. P. Archibald and J. J. Forster, 2; S. G. Peele and W. Newcombe, 0.

W. S. Charlton and H. S. Wilson, 1; J. B. Lambert and R. A. Semple, 2.

R. Mottishaw and T. Sorenson, 2; J. R. Hibberson and J. H. McConnell, 1.

J. Robertson and R. J. Borland, 0; R. Foulis, Jr., and R. M. Stokes, 2.

J. W. Buttie and J. Burton-Forster, 1; G. S. Carr and W. Wilkie, 2.

N. Bell and T. O. Ostrander, 1½; D. Randall and F. H. Partridge, 1½.

F. Day Smith and I. Eidson, 0; A. R. Henshall and E. Hanbury, 3.

G. E. Hancox and L. G. Macken, 0; W. L. Woodhouse and C. V. Scrivener, 2.

F. Dovaston and E. Mayon, 0; P. Austin and H. B. Combe, 2.

J. Srivener and F. T. Orchard, 2; S. J. Halls and F. H. Blashfield, 0.

R. W. Ellis and H. M. Kirkland, 1; D. M. Gordon and B. C. Trerise, 2.

Totals: Uplands, 38½; Point Grey, 21½.

CUBS WILL REST FOR FIVE DAYS

Break in Schedule to Give National League Champions Chance to Regain Stride

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Considerably bettered and mistreated since the National League pennant became theirs, the Cubs today had five days during which to pull themselves together for the finish of their season schedule and the world title struggle against the Philadelphia Athletics.

The exhibitions of Charlie Root and Guy Bush in the two final contests with the Giants showed them to be in need of something. If it is rest, five days are available due to the break in the schedule, although Joe McCarthy will take his band to Aurora, Illinois, Wednesday for an exhibition game with a semi-professional team. Regular practice sessions will be held on the other days, except for those whom complete idleness will help regain form.

The return yesterday to the line-up of Gabby Hartnett, ranked as the leading catcher of the senior league last season, who has been kept out of action by an ailing throwing arm this year, brought a measure of encouragement. Hartnett was not called upon to try his arm on base stealers, but in an attempt to snipe a runner off third base, Hartnett demonstrated that the injured member has not recovered.

Ball Magnates Fed Up on Long Playing Season

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Major league baseball magnates—those of the junior clan, at any rate—are about fed up on long playing schedules, in the opinion of E. S. Barnard, American League president, who is here looking over the Athletics and probably arranging for his world series tickets. He declared the club owners realize they have made a mistake.

"We agreed to the extended schedule before looking into the situation thoroughly," he said. "The National League suggested we start later and finish in October, and we agreed without giving the matter much thought. We are sorry now."

Forty Amateurs and Pros Will Tee-Off in Championship Today

Select Gathering From All Over Province After Title Held by Dave Black—Strong Local Contingent Will Try to Bring Crown Here

Close to forty of the best salaried and amateur golfers in the province will meet at the Victoria Golf Club this morning to compete in the first of two-days' medal play over seventy-two holes for the British Columbia open golf championship. Although the field is not as large as expected, it includes some fine mashie wielders from the Mainland and locally.

DAVE BLACK

Davie Black, stocky little Scot from the Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club, is defending champion, and will be on deck with hopes of retaining the title he won last year over his home course. Black is right on his game at present and it is predicted that he will be the man to beat if the other competitors wish to relieve him of his crown. The showing the Mainlander made in the P.N.W. open at Seattle this Summer is a good indication that he hasn't lost any of his old skill with the clubs. He came within an ace of capturing the honors when he shot a brilliant 68 in the final round.

Other Vancouver professionals here for the event are Jimmy Huish, Marine Drive Golf Club; Nat Cornfoot, Langara Golf Club; Dunc Sutherland, Vancouver Golf Club. Cecil Coville will head the Vancouver contingent of simon-pures and will be accompanied by Jack Fraser, Jack Hargrave, Harry Duker and a few more.

HILL UNABLE TO COME

Monty Hill, Vancouver, sent word yesterday to Phil Taylor that he would be unable to make the trip as previously announced. Freddy Wood, another Mainland star, failed to enter.

The local professional end will be upheld by Alex Marling, Colwood Golf and Country Club; Walter Gravlin, Uplands Golf Club; Freddy Burns, Macauley Point Golf Club; Phil Taylor, Victoria Golf Club. All four have been practicing hard and expect to have something to say as to who will be the next champion.

Bob Morrison, Uplands and city champion, is expected to be a strong contender for the crown held by Black. Other amateurs from various other clubs are Harold Brynjolfson, Harold Lineham, K. O. Allen, Art Beasley and J. E. Wilson, Seniors' Northwest camp.

The championship will be held over thirty-six holes medal play today and and another thirty-six tomorrow. The competitor with the lowest score at the finish will be declared provincial open titleholder. The first pair will get away at 8 o'clock and the remainder will follow at five-minute intervals.

One last minute entry was received last night in S. Rogers, of Vancouver.

THE DRAW

The pairs and starting times for morning and afternoon follow:

8 a.m. and 12 30 p.m.—Jack Fraser and Walter Gravlin.

8:05 a.m. and 12:35 p.m.—T. L. Swan and R. B. Francis.

8.10 a.m. and 12 40 p.m.—Harry Duker and J. Savident.

8 15 a.m. and 12 45 p.m.—Arthur Sheppard and H. Brynjolfson.

8 20 a.m. and 12:50 p.m.—A. Marling and C. Colville.

8 25 a.m. and 12:55 p.m.—E. Sharpe and C. I. Mackenzie.

8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m.—D. Sutherland and K. C. Allen.

8 35 a.m. and 1 05 p.m.—N. Cornfoot and F. Forbes Wilson.

8.40 a.m. and 1 10 p.m.—D. L. Black and R. Morrison.

8 45 a.m. and 1:15 p.m.—Ben Colk and W. Newcombe.

8.50 a.m. and 1:20 p.m.—F. Burns and J. Hargrave.

8 55 a.m. and 1:25 p.m.—Phil Taylor and M. Eastman.

10 a.m. and 1.30 p.m.—J. Huish and Art Beasley.

10 05 a.m. and 1.35 p.m.—Doug Newson and H. A. Muirhead.

10:10 a.m. and 1:40 p.m.—Don Sutherland and H. Lineham.

10.15 a.m. and 1 45 p.m.—J. E. Wilson and L. H. Appleby.

10:20 a.m. and 1:50 p.m.—H. McCall and J. P. Walsh.

10:25 a.m. and 1.55 p.m.—T. H. Chester and J. H. Lee.

10 30 a.m. and 2 p.m.—W. H. Snape and E. M. Boyd.

10 35 a.m. and 2 05 p.m.—S. Rogers and A. N. Other.

Foxx as Smart as His Name Implies

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Picking the most valuable ball player in the American League for the 1929 season is almost like going over the lineup of the champion Athletics. Jimmy Foxx, Al Simmons and "Lefty" Grove are all serious contenders for the mythical honor, now that the league has officially stopped awarding a prize.

Lou Fonseca, first baseman of the Cleveland Indians, is having a wonderful year and is the main reason they are up in the race. Heinie Manush, of the St. Louis Browns, comes mighty close to being the most valuable ball player in any man's league.

He tries the limit at bat and in the field and usually drives out more safe hits than any other batter in the league.

My personal choice is Jimmy Foxx. He is a great hitter, a versatile sort of fellow who can play any position on the team, and whose work has got results.

PHIL SCOTT WINS CLOSE DECISION OVER CAMPOLO

British Heavyweight Champion Given Call After Great Comeback

English Contender Survives Near Knockout in First Round to Give Huge Argentinian Boxing Lesson Towards End of Bout

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—After being on the verge of a knockout in the very first round, "Shufflin'" Phil Scott, the pale, blue-eyed British heavyweight champion, staged a remarkable comeback tonight to box his way to victory over Vittorio Mario Campolo, the "Galloping Gaucho" of the Argentine, in the battle of the leaning towers.

Scott carried off a close decision after ten bruising rounds of battling between a brace of the tallest and bulkiest heavyweights in the business. The verdict was 2-to-1 in favor of the Britisher, who gained the votes of the two judges, Harold Barnes and Charles F. Malhison, to offset the ballot which Arthur Donovan, the referee, cast for Campolo.

A crowd of 15,000 fans in Ebbetts Field, the Brooklyn National League ball park, paid $45,674 to see the fight and received the decision with a mixture of cheers and boos.

RALLY SWAYS VERDICT

Scott swayed the verdict in his favor by a rally which sustained throughout the last four rounds, outboxing and outsmarting the heavier, harder hitting Italian from the Argentine pampas, after withstanding severe body punishment throughout the first half of the bout. This rally by the crouching, shuffling Englishman, enabled him to show a margin of five rounds to four for Campolo, with one even.

The big Argentinian, weighing 223 3-4 to Scott's 215 1-2, and packing much the more dangerous wallop in his right hand, came close to scoring a knockout in the first round, but he found the Briton's defence difficult to penetrate after that and appeared tired at the close.

"It took me seven rounds to recover from that first right to the jaw," Scott said in his dressing-room after the battle.

To ringside observers it appeared on the other hand, that Campolo's short, crushing rights to the region under the heart were chiefly responsible for the Englishman's distress in the first few moments of the fight.

This opening rush of the Argentinian almost swept Scott off his feet. With both fists pumping furiously, Campolo had the Englishman's body buckling and his knees sagging. The crowd roared for a quick knockout, but "Shuffling Phil" hung on desperately, weak and groggy, until the bell saved him and sent him to his corner for the smelling salts and good advice from his chief handler, Jimmy Johnston.

ARGENTINIAN OUTBOXED

For the next five rounds, Scott boxed warily, employing a left jab and a choppy right to the head as he bounced in and out of Campolo's reach. The Argentinian stalked his foe persistently. Occasionally he landed the crushing right to the body, forcing the fight for the time, but he was clearly outboxed.

Twice, in the fifth and sixth, Campolo was warned for hitting low.

As if emboldened by his success in standing off Campolo's vicious rushes, Scott took the aggressive in the seventh round for the first time. This, as it developed, was the turning point of the fight. The Briton went so far as to slug it out with the Argentinian at several stages in the last few rounds, stabbing Vittorio off balance with his stinging lefts and battering him with a short right. Campolo's nose and left eye were cut in the ninth, and his attack, while always dangerous, had slowed up appreciably.

It was so close, however, that Scott needed to outpoint his man in the tenth and final round to gain the decision. The Briton, never throwing caution so far to the winds as to risk any prolonged exchange at close range, finished with a fine exhibition of boxing.

The defeat abruptly checked the rush of Campolo into the heavyweight picture, as the result of a recent victory over Tom Heeney, and at the same time boosted the stock of the British contender for heavyweight honors.

RACES AGAIN HALTED BY CALM

Stars Complete One Round of Course but Dinghies Are Forced to Abandon Race

Very light and fluky airs again made it necessary for the dinghies to abandon the race when the series for stars and sailing dinghies, which had had to be canceled Saturday for the same reason, took place at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club Sunday. The star yachts completed one round of the triangular course in a series of localized puffs and it was decided that this should count as the last race before the finals next Saturday. The race was won by Nick Blandy's Genie, sailed by G. Pite and C. Hennings, two junior members of the club. Nick Blandy brought in E. S. Heurtley's Blue Bird second. W. T. M. Barrett's Mintaka was third and the Robert Blandy's Boykin fourth.

Mintaka got away first but was overtaken during the first leg of the race by Genie and Boykin. By the time the boats rounded the Cadboro Beach Hotel mark the same order was maintained and it looked as though the finish would be a "procession." Just as Genie crossed the finishing line, however, Mintaka and Blue Bird took advantage of a puff which sent the latter over the line with a two-foot lead.

This state of affairs is regrettable as regards the dinghies, in view of the fact that "Ginger" Hotham's dinghy Puffin and Humphrey Golby's Tern are within a few points of each other in the struggle for leadership in the series, and the cancellation of Saturday's race may well make all the difference. With a respectable breeze next Saturday, however, it is probable that the sailing committee will arrange for this race to take place early in the afternoon before the finals of the series are sailed. The committee's decision in this respect will be published later in the week.

GENE TUNNEY FILES COUNTER CLAIM FOR $100,000 IN SUIT

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 23.—James J. "Gene" Tunney, retired heavyweight champion of the world, filed an answer and counter suit in superior court today to the $500,000 suit recently brought against him by John S. Fogarty, of Fort Worth, Texas, who charged Tunney with alienation of affections of his wife, Katherine King Fogarty. The latter is suing Tunney for $500,000, charging him with breach of promise to marry.

Tunney, in his counter action, asks damages of $100,000.

MILLER HUGGINS SERIOUSLY ILL

Veteran Pilot of New York Yankees Given Two Blood Transfusions During the Day

TEMPERATURE AT ALARMING POINT

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The condition of Miller J. Huggins, veteran manager of the New York Yankees, took so serious a turn today that a blood transfusion was considered necessary to check the spread of infection, growing out of an attack of influenza and erysipelas. Huggins was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital last Friday upon the insistence of Dr. King, after being affected first by a cold and then by a boil on the face. Complications quickly followed and his condition became so critical today that hurried consultation of specialists was called by Dr. King, resulting in the decision to try a blood transfusion.

MILLER HUGGINS

The news of the little Yankee pilot's relapse stirred baseball men generally, but especially the players and officials of the clubs which Huggins had led to six pennants and three world championships in the period of twelve years in which he has directed its destinies.

At 10:20 o'clock Dr. King issued a bulletin in which he said "Huggin's temperature had risen to 105."

BUNNY AUSTIN GOES UNDER IN SOUTHERN MEET

BETTY NUTHALL FIGURES IN WIN

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23.—Sidney Wood, Pasadena youngster, turned in a champion's brand of tennis today to wipe the name of H. W. "Bunny" Austin, England's young net sensation, from the singles of the Pacific Southwest tennis championships. He won in straight sets, 9-7, 6-3. Wood's win furnished the major thrill of the day's play, overshadowing the other upsets, among them being the stirring victory of Phil Neer, San Francisco, over Tamio Abe, Japanese Davis Cup captain, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2.

Wood's net rushing and his marvelous shot accuracy figured heavily in his triumph over Austin. He outrallied his opponent time after time, and played faultless tennis at crucial moments to win.

While Austin was losing to Wood, three members of England's Wightman Cup team turned in a victory apiece in the women's doubles and mixed doubles. Betty Nuthall, eighteen-year-old British star, in partnership with Mrs. Phoebe Watson, one of her Wightman mates, advanced to the second round of the women's doubles with a 6-0, 6-0 win over Louise Macey and Helen Winnett, Los Angeles. Miss Nuthall and Norman Farquharson, South African star, turned in a straight set triumph in the mixed doubles play over Helen Marlowe, of Hollywood, and Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena. The scores were 6-3, 6-4.

MRS. BARRON WINS

Mrs. D. C. Sheppard-Barron was the only member of the British Wightman team to play a singles match, and she had little trouble in disposing of Josephine Cruickshank, of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-1, to enter the quarter finals.

The world's champion doubles team was reunited today and its component parts, Johnny Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, started a determined drive to the doubles championship. With the arrival of Allison from Texas, the pair, within the space of a few hours, eliminated Everett Smith and Hal Braley, 6-1, 6-1, and Phil Hanna and L. Hall, 6-2, 8-5.

Two other matches were added to the column of upsets. The victory of Gladys Patz, Pasadena, Calif., over Marjorie "Midge" Gladman, one of the favorites in the women's singles, by scores of 6-3, 9-7, stunned the followers of the latter completely. The defeat of Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and Johnny Doeg at the hands of Dorothy Weisel, Sacramento, and Keith Gledhill, of Santa Barbara, and National junior champion, left another favorite position empty.

BOB McINNES TO LEAD BAYS AGAIN

Veteran Manager and Coach Will Handle J.B.A.A. Senior Ruggers —Frampton Is Captain

Bob McInnes, veteran coach and manager of the J.B.A.A. senior Rugby squad, was last night returned to this post at a monster meeting of Bay Rugby players held at the Central Building. Frampton was elected captain and Horace Goad vice-captain.

The Bays, who have won the Barnard Cup, emblematic of the city honors for a number of years, will be back in the fight with a strong club and one that looks to repeat the success of previous seasons.

In addition to the senior fifteen, the J.B.A.A. will have an intermediate and a junior squad ready for the season's opening.

LEO LOMSKI TO BATTLE McTIGUE

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—Mike McTigue, former light-heavyweight champion, will meet Leo Lomski, of Aberdeen, in a six-round bout here October 1. "Biddy" Bishop, Seattle boxing promoter, announced today. He said McTigue will leave New York immediately for the West Coast.

Wednesday Football League Teams Will Open Season Oct. 2

Four Clubs Will Play This Year—Navy to Meet Hudson's Bay—Saanich United Will Oppose Batchelor's in Initial Fixtures

Midweek soccer teams will usher in the 1929-30 season on October 2, following the decision made at the annual meeting last week. The draw for the opening games follows:

Navy vs. Hudson's Bay, at the Royal Athletic Park.

Saanich Thistles vs. Bachelor's Food Stores, at Beacon Hill.

Games will start at 3 o'clock.

The three first mentioned clubs are members of last year's association, while the latter has taken over the franchise of the Rennie & Taylor aggregation.

As far as could be ascertained last night very few new faces will be seen on the midweek line-ups this season. However, there is a possibility of a change in the playing personnel of the various clubs.

JOHNSTON TO PILOT STORES

Bachelor's Food Stores, who will be managed by Arthur Johnston, well-known figure in Wednesday Football League circles and one time head of Kirkham's eleven, are expected to field a number of the Rennie & Taylor team, but no definite statement to this effect was made at last night's parley, or after the meeting had adjourned.

Albert Hewison, former referee, was returned to office as president, while S. Thomas was re-elected secretary for his seventh term. D. Leemon was elected vice-president.

An innovation to be introduced this season will be the admitting of the fair sex free to all games at the Royal Athletic Park, providing, of course, such arrangements can be made with the proper authorities.

EDUCATIONAL SCHEME

An educational scheme, that of teaching the players to be on time, will also be introduced. All referees will be instructed by the league officials to start the matches right on time. It is thought that this will make the teams be on the field at the appointed hour. Such a move is in the best interest of the game, and the fans, in the opinion of the heads of the association.

Play will start for the Hayward Cup, in which each team will meet the others in home and home series. The team with the highest total of points at the completion of this series will hold the cup for one year. It is at present held by Rennie & Taylor's, but will not be defended.

Following the Hayward Cup series the regular league schedule will swing into operation. In this series the Pendray Cup is the trophy at stake.

The league decided to again affiliate with the British Columbia Football Association.

Alex Robertson, local representative of the B.C.F.A. and F. Reeves member of the L.I.F.A., attended the meeting.

A.O.F. SOFTBALL TEAM WILL STAGE ANNUAL BIG DANCE

Members of the A.O.F. softball team will act as hosts at a dance to be held in the Foresters' Hall, Cormorant Street, Thursday. The committee in charge has spared no efforts in making the event one of the biggest of the season. Spotlight, balloon and other novelty dances will be held. A first-class orchestra, playing all the latest toe ticklers direct from Broadway's Great White Way, will be on the job from 9 o'clock to 1 o'clock.

Judging by the advance sale of tickets, a bumper crowd will be on hand.

RUGBY MEETINGS

A meeting of the Oak Bay Wanderers' senior and intermediate Rugby teams will be held in the St. Michael's school gymnasium on the corner of Windsor and Roslyn Roads at 7:45 p.m., Wednesday.

All players who are interested are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

A Selling Plan for tires which saves you money

GOODYEAR Tires are delivered to you at less cost than ever because of the Goodyear Selected Dealer plan.

Because we have a "hand-picked" organization of the bigger tire dealers, our cost of doing business is less—savings go into Goodyear quality.

Because the dealer, by concentrating on one complete line of tires, gets faster turnover, he has a lower cost of doing business—can give you service with your tires.

The net result to you is greater mileage for your tire dollar than you have ever been able to buy before.

In every town in Canada large enough to support a good tire dealer, there is at least one Goodyear Selected Dealer.

VICTORIA CITY TO MEET WESTS

Great Soccer Battle Expected at Beacon Hill on Saturday — Dockers to Take on Five C's

WESTHOLMES WILL OPPOSE THISTLES

Saanich Thistles vs. Westholmes, at the Royal Athletic Park, referee, Robb.

Victoria West vs. Victoria City, at Beacon Hill; referee, Dowds.

Esquimalt vs. Five Cs, at Victoria West Park; referee, McMillan.

All matches will start at 3 o'clock.

As in the previous week, the feature attraction appears to be at Beacon Hill, where Victoria City will battle Victoria West. The former, with a win and a draw to their credit, are joint occupants for the league leadership with the Saanich Thistles, whereas the greenshirts have yet failed to chalk up a win. With the Wests fighting for their first victory and the City out to remain in top berth, this should be an interesting battle.

Saanich Thistles, who last week held Victoria City to a draw at Beacon Hill, are favored to upset the Westholmes when these teams meet at the Royal Athletic Park.

Five Cs, who last week humbled the greenshirts, 1-0, will be out to climb in the league standing at the expense of Esquimalt. This, however, will be no easy task.

VANCOUVER RIDER WINS BIKE RACE

Maurice Robinson First in Long Grind—Stan Johnson Captures Class "B" Event

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—Maurice Robinson, sixteen, of Vancouver, B.C., won the fifty-five-mile Magnolia Bluff bicycle marathon here yesterday in 3 hours and 35 minutes. Gil Crippen, another young Canadian, took second place. Several veterans were forced to drop from the race because of the fast pace.

The Class B event was won by Stan Johnston, fourteen, another Canadian. Tom Shankie, a fifty-seven-year-old Canadian veteran, was right behind the youth. Johnston won in 4 hours and 29 minutes. No riders finished in the Class C event. The Class D race was won by a thirteen-year-old boy, Bill Pruitt, in 5 hours and 24 minutes.

Jack Dempsey To Broadcast Coming Shows

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Jack Dempsey, former king of the world's heavyweight fighters who will present his first card as a Chicago promoter October 2, has decided to let radio listeners in on his shows. Dempsey has arranged with the National Broadcast Association to broadcast accounts of his offerings over a national hookup.

RENE LACOSTE IS ENGAGED TO FAMOUS GOLFER

PARIS, Sept. 21.—The engagement of Rene Lacoste, famous French tennis "musketeer," to Mlle. Simone Thion de la Chaume, equally famous French golfer, was announced today.

Rene Lacoste generally is regarded as one of the two best tennis players in the world, the other being Henri Cochet, also of France. Mlle. Thion de la Chaume won the French women's title in 1926 and 1927, and in the latter year the British women's championship as well.

YOUNG McCOY TO BATTLE JUDSON AT PORT ANGELES

Young McCoy, local pugilist, will journey to Port Angeles on Thursday to battle Eddie Judson, Seattle fighter. The latter was highly rated a few years ago, but has been idle of late. Just how this will affect his coming battle with McCoy remains to be seen. However, the youthful local battler is intent on showing Judson that his days in the realms of pugilism are numbered.

Kansas City Blues Win Baseball Title

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23.—The Kansas City Blues are the 1929 champions of the American Association. Victory over Indianapolis in the second game of a double-header here yesterday clinched the pennant for the local team. The championship is the first the Blues have won since 1923. Rochester, winner of the International League pennant this season, will come to Kansas City for the first four games of the Little World Series, October 2, 3 and 4. The Blues have eight games to play before the end of the season.

C. Bennett Captures Langford Net Title

LANGFORD, Sept. 23.—In spite of the drizzling rain, a wonderfully well contested match for the Langford Garage Cup for men's singles wound up the senior tennis tournament for the season here Saturday. The final game between C. Bennett and A. Norman Brown produced some brilliant play, the former winning 2-6, 6-4, 6-7, 6-4, 6-3. Bennett, with Mrs. A. F. Bayns, previously won the Wenger Cup for mixed doubles.

The Langford Tennis Club has had a successful season, having won nine out of ten matches played with other teams.

MISS COLLETT MEDAL WINNER

American Heads Field in Canadian Women's Open Golf With Five 77—Montreal Girl Second

ANCASTER, Ont., Sept. 22.—As was expected, the scores of thirty-two qualifiers in the twenty-fourth annual Canadian Women's Open Golf championship in the eighteen-hole qualifying round today, had to be close to 90. Seven players, with 81, playing off, went only one hole, Miss Edith Ellis, of the Ancaster Club, and Mrs. H. K. Stevens, of Waterloo, failing to equal the scores of the other five and dropping back to the first flight.

Miss Glenna Collett, of Pebble Beach, California, twice champion, won the medal for the qualifying round with 77, two under par, and she was followed, two strokes behind, with a par equaling 79, by Miss Marjorie Kirkham, of the Marlborough Club, Montreal.

Miss Ada MacKenzie, of Toronto Ladies Club, who won the Canadian closed title last Friday, and Miss Helen Hicks, of Long Island, winner of the recent Chicago Derby, tied for third place with 80.

BALMY BEACH ROMPS OFF WITH 13-1 WIN IN OPENING TUSSLE

TORONTO, Sept. 21. — Balmy Beach inaugurated the Rugby season today by handing a thirteen to 1 defeat to the invading Ottawa Senators in an exhibition game. The team from the capital totaled three points in the first half, while they failed once themselves. The third quarter was scoreless, but in the last session the beachers opened an offensive that netted ten points and cinched the verdict.

WILLIS SIGNED TO MEET LEO LOMSKI

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Tim McGrath, manager of Jack Willis, San Antonio cowboy fighter, announced he had signed for Willis to meet Leo Lomski in a six-round bout at Seattle, October 1. Willis, who makes the middleweight class will be slightly outweighed. He lost a close decision to Lomski in Los Angeles two years ago.

Ken Perry Pacific Golf Club Champion

Turning in a net 70 for the eighteen holes, Ken Perry won the Presidents' Cup, emblematic of the Pacific Club championship, at the Colwood Golf Course Sunday. W. J. Johnston finished next in line.

Sandy Marling Wins Colwood Junior Golf

With a net 79 Sandy Marling scored his second victory in the Colwood Golf Club competitions at the Colwood Golf Club Saturday. R. Murray finished second with a net 82, while Peter Parry was third with an 84.

PIERCE ARRIVES FULL DAY AHEAD

Twenty-four hours ahead of schedule on her voyage from Yokohama, Kobe, Shanghai, Hong Kong and Manila, the American Mail liner President Pierce, Captain Henry Nelson, arrived at Ritchey piers at 6 o'clock Sunday morning.

She averaged nineteen knots per day across the Pacific, and by steaming a little to the north of the regular course missed the heavy storms encountered by the Tokiwa Maru and Empress of Asia.

The Pierce carried eighty-six first class passengers, 223 third class, 1,200 tons of cargo, and 2,980 bales of raw silk. For this port she had 980 measurement tons of cargo.

RECLASSIFICATION OF CORNER SOUGHT

Reclassification of the northwest corner of Blanshard and Courtney streets from an apartment house district to that of an oil station classification was sought from the City Council in a letter from the British Columbia Land and Investment Agency, Limited, read before the council last night.

The reason given for the request was that it was believed that some day an hotel would utilize the old Methodist site and it would then be a necessity for the hotel to have a place to store cars and obtain gasoline. The matter was referred to the special zoning committee.

August Sales of

Rogers and Majestic Radios

Smash all Records

Over $500,000 in 30 Days

THE actual value of the new models of Rogers Batteryless and Majestic Electric Radios shipped to dealers in Canada during the month of August just passed, exceeded $500,000.00 !

This probably exceeds the combined sales of any three other Canadian companies and is undoubtedly treble the amount of sales of any other electric radio in Canada.

This remarkable sales record, during a summer month, is not an isolated instance. It follows on the heels of a 1000% increase in July and 500% increase in June over last year and brings the total value of the sales of this company since April, 1929, to

Over One Million Dollars

There is no company that can even approach these figures of tremendous growth—an overwhelming demand that has necessitated the erection of the largest radio manufacturing plant in Canada and the most modern in the British Empire. In choosing a Rogers or Majestic you KNOW you will get value and satisfaction.

Rogers Radio Record

For five years Rogers has made nothing but batteryless radio. During this period sales of Rogers have increased 4346% !

1926 — 86% over 1925
1927 — 114% over 1926
1928 — 85% over 1927
1929 — estimated by present orders 75% — 100% over 1928.

and this was all with batteryless radio — two years before others even entered the field.

Challenge the Rogers from any angle you wish.

Challenge the Rogers from the standpoint of public preference —

From the standpoint of annual sales —

From the number of big stores featuring it —

From the standpoint of research and creative facilities —

From the number of sets actually in use —

From the standpoint of assured satisfaction —

Rogers gladly accepts any pertinent radio challenge

A set that ranks first in an impartial laboratory test of the nine leading makes, as the Rogers does, presents its own best answer as to performance.

The Rogers was designed by the man who developed the whole basic principle of A.C. radio operation and is the standard towards which competitive research laboratories have striven. That man is E. S. Rogers, inventor of the first successful batteryless radio.

A set that has led the field, in Canada, for five successive years, as has Rogers, not only has the greatest measure of public confidence but sustained public confidence.

A set that has the only guaranteed A.C. Tubes—the Rogers—in conjunction with many other exclusive points of merit—commends itself to any thoughtful radio buyer. Radio satisfaction is assured by the Rogers.

The only guaranteed A.C. tubes.

Five years proven performance.

Creators of the first batteryless radio.

Probably the most outstanding record of yearly growth established by any radio in Canada.

Newest, most modern radio plant in the British Empire?

Invented, made and sold in Canada.

Any impartial test will prove the Rogers stands alone—unsurpassed by any other radio on the Canadian market.

Majestic Radio Record

Two years ago there was no Majestic Radio. Today it is the largest selling console radio in the world.

Merit did it. Majestic was created by men who knew Radio, who knew production methods never before put into operation in radio manufacture.

Majestic swept the country. Majestic grew in popularity daily. Majestic conquerors Up, up, up went sales and the present Majestic production schedule calls for 6,000 Majestic Electric Radio sets daily.

The world has had few, if any instances of such industrial growth (end sound, substantial growth it has proved to be) and certainly never has there been such a record in the radio or related industries.

We repeat, in choosing a Rogers or Majestic you KNOW you will get value and satisfaction and that your judgment is backed by the greatest number of people. 308-R

PIONEER DOCTOR CROSSES DIVIDE

Dr. L. T. Davis Succumbs in Parksville—Formerly Practised in Victoria

NANAIMO, Sept. 23.—Dr. L. T. Davis, sixty-seven, pioneer physician of Vancouver Island, died at his home in Parksville this morning. He was government physician for Nanoose and had been in ill health for some time.

He was the first doctor of Nanaimo hospital and, practised in Victoria after leaving here, before settling in the Nanoose district. He leaves his widow, a daughter, Mrs. D'Oyley Rochefort, and three sons, Gerald of Stewart, "Binty" of Nelson, and Herbert, residing in Parksville.

NANAIMO ASSIZES

Docket Includes Murder Trial and Number of Civil Cases—Will Open on October 7

NANAIMO, Nov. 23.—The Fall assizes will open here on October 7. Already Sheriff Trawford has issued summonses for jurymen and women for the assizes. Four criminal cases are on the docket, including one of murder, besides a number of civil cases. The cases are:

Rex vs. Lakha Singh, charged with the murder of a fellow Hindu, Bham Singh, at Nanoose Bay, on April 30.

Sarain Singh, of Nanoose Bay, charged with robbery with violence of a fellow countryman.

Al Marks, of Duncan, charged with theft in connection with the sale of mining shares.

Frederick Stephens, of Cumberland, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death on July 14, of William Hunter, who is alleged to have been killed by a car driven by accused.

FIRE DESTROYS NANAIMO HOME

NANAIMO, Sept. 23.—Fire on Sunday evening completely destroyed the dwelling owned by Mrs. Lowe, on the Five Acres. The house was owned by Mrs. Lowe, but at the time was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Mallard. No one was at home when the fire started, and nothing could be done to stop the progress of the flames. The door was broken in, but by that time the flames had grown so rapidly that it was impossible to enter the house. The only thing that was left after the flames had been extinguished was the chimney, and not a single piece of furniture was saved.

Chemainus Scouts Have First Meeting

CHEMAINUS, Sept. 23.—The First Chemainus Troop of Boy Scouts held its first meeting since the holidays on Friday evening in the Knights of Pythias Hall, under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster J. M. Woods, who is taking over the troop from Mr. H. E. Knight. There were eight boys present, and three promotions were made. Patrol Leader Gerald Allester was promoted to troop leader; Second Eric Knight to patrol leader, and Scout Thomas Cook to second. Owing to lack of time Mr. Knight has been forced to give up his work with the Scouts, and the above boys are particularly fortunate in having Mr. Woods, who in New Westminster, was Cubmaster and Assistant Scoutmaster, volunteer his services, and it is to be hoped that before long there will be many more boys join the Chemainus Troop. The next meeting will be held in the Knights of Pythias Hall on Tuesday. Those present were Frank Spurling, Gerald Allester, Tommy Allester, Eric Knight, Thomas Cook, Andrew Laidlaw, Norman Simmons and Gilbert Read.

"Eight-Day" Wilson Killed in Camp

COWICHAN LAKE, Sept. 23.—A very well-known logger, Mr. Jim Wilson, more widely known as "Eight-Day" Wilson, was killed at the International Timber logging camp at Campbell River last week. Mr. Wilson was a well-known figure in the logging camps at the lake. He gained his nickname by very rarely staying more than eight days at any one time in the same camp.

Service Is Held At Jordan River

Thanksgiving Service Held At Cobble Hill

COBBLE HILL, Sept. 23.—A large congregation attended the harvest thanksgiving service at St. John's Church yesterday morning. The building had been beautifully decorated with fruit, vegetables, flowers, and evergreens by Mrs. G. A. Cheeke, Mrs. J. M. Hughes, Mrs. D. McPherson and Miss E. J. Davidson. The vicar-in-charge, Rev. W. E. Cockshott, preached an eloquent sermon on the text, "Whose scattereth increaseth." At the conclusion of the service a solo, "If God So Clothed the Grass of the Field," was sung by Madame Alice Clifton, whose beautiful voice was heard to great advantage. She was accompanied by the organist, Mr. A. E. Wheelton.

Died at Nanaimo

NANAIMO, Sept. 23.—At 2.30 o'clock Sunday morning the death occurred in the Nanaimo Hospital of Mrs. William Allsopp, of North Wellington, at the age of seventy years. Deceased had been ill for some time. She is survived by her husband.

DOWNTOWN SITE SOLD FOR $22,500

Vancouver Firm Buys Property on Government Street Now Occupied by Foster Fur Store

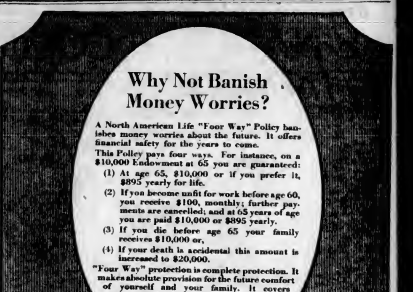
An important real estate deal which was effected two months ago was announced yesterday by Brig.-Gen. Duff Stuart, of the firm of Clarke & Stuart Co., Ltd., which has bought the Government Street property now occupied by the Foster Fur Store, for the sum of $22,500.

The transaction was handled by Mr. F. W. Tuffrey, of the firm of J. A. Walker & Co. The property lies on the west side of Government Street, between View and Yates Streets, and has a frontage of thirty feet and a depth of sixty-six feet. Mrs. Ida M. E. Steele, of 1746 Fort Street, was the vendor of the site, which is covered at present by a two-story building. The present leases on the property expire next February.

Inquirer Lived Here Nearly Forty Years Ago

Among the many distant people who are keenly interested in the opening of the new cathedral is Rev. J. B. Hewetson, of Foulsham Rectory, Norfolk, England, who has written to The Colonist asking for any particulars published relating to the consecration services and the attendant incidents. Rev. Mr. Hewetson was on Vancouver Island nearly forty years ago, in charge of one of the Island parishes, and although he has long since severed any actual connection with this country he still takes a great interest in its church history.

In a letter received yesterday he asks that, in view of the consecration of the new cathedral on September 28, he may be forwarded a copy of The Colonist describing the proceedings, together with any earlier edition in which details of the new edifice are given. "I do not want to miss the report of September 29," he emphasizes.



Why Not Banish Money Worries?

A North American Life "Four Way" Policy banishes money worries about the future. It offers financial safety for the years to come.

This Policy pays four ways. For instance, on a $10,000 Endowment at 65 you are guaranteed:

(1) At age 65, $10,000 or if you prefer it, $893 yearly for life.

(2) If you become unfit for work before age 60, you receive $100, monthly; further payments are cancelled; and at 65 years of age you are paid $10,000 or $893 yearly.

(3) If you die before age 65 your family receives $10,000 or,

(4) If your death is accidental this amount is increased to $20,000.

"Four Way" protection is complete protection. It makes absolute provision for the future comfort of yourself and your family. It covers every emergency.

Why not plan now to set aside a portion of your income each year on this North American Life policy that "Pays Four Ways."

VENICE TOTS SEE FIRST HORSE

Children of Venice, Italy, recently had the thrill of their young lives when they saw their first horse. Crowds of adult as well as young Venetians hung over the Ponte de Preglia and cheered when M. von Bronisel, a young Dutchman, arrived on the animal from Belgrade. It was the first horse to invade the city in many years.

FINANCE - COMMERCE - MARKETS

Higher Call Money Rates With Storm of Sales Are Cause of Drop in Prices

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—High call money rates again played havoc with speculators for the advance in today's stock market. Instead of the lower rate generally expected, call loans advanced from 8 to 10 per cent, and the market ran into another storm of selling, which carried more than a score of issues to new low levels for the year, despite the strenuous efforts of bull pools to revive speculative confidence by bidding up U.S. Steel common, Anaconda and an assortment of high priced specialties.

Before the end of an hour a long list of issues were selling 1 to 7 points higher.

Chrysler dropped 4 points to a new 1929 low at 51 1-2, but recovered a point of its loss. Nash, Graham-Paige, Studebaker, Hayes Body and Stewart Warner also sold at new lows for the year. Radio, which advanced to within a fraction of its high record of 114 3-4 less than two weeks ago, sold down to 89 1-4 and rebounded to 90 3-8, off 4 5-8 net. American and Foreign Power dropped 8 points and rallied 1.

Establishment of new high levels for the year by Atlantic Gulf & West Indies, Best & Company, Columbian Carbon, Fox Film, Underwood and Elliott Fisher were offset by the registering of new lows by an advance in Rumely common and preferred, Cluett Peabody, Eastern Rolling Mills, B. F. Goodrich preferred and others.

In the foreign exchange market, sterling cables advanced to $4.84 13-16 as against a ruling rate of around $4.84 5-8 last week, and Japanese yen moved up an additional 5 points to 47.85 cents.

The shadow of 8 per cent money hung gloomily over the bond market today and prices worked irregularly lower in a dull session. Interest was confined almost exclusively to three or four convertibles.

BUYING ARDOR NOT SLACKENED

CALL MONEY JUMP MAKES LITTLE DIFFERENCE TO SELECTIVE ISSUES

Advances in Mines Spotted—Blowing in of Associated Strengthens Oils

(Stobie, Forlong & Co.)

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—Buying ardor in selective issues was not materially slackened by a two-notch jump of call money to 10 per cent during the Standard Stock Exchange session today. Advances were spotted in mines, notably in the Lindsley issues, and oils were sectionally strengthened by the advent of a new well to the list of Turner Valley Producers, Associated, which is estimated to be blowing gas to the equivalent of approximately 800 barrels.

The blowing in of Associated, Saturday afternoon was of the greatest market influence. Associated opened under a week-end accumulation of buying orders at $4.50, up $2, and sold off irregularly to $3.70, a net gain of 80 cents. Of stocks in line for appreciation on this development, United, Home, Baltac and Lowery Petroleums gained from 10 to 25 points, and Southwest Pete advanced 40 cents. Alberta Pacific Consolidated and Calmont were buoyant, but have not yet had full influence of the new Associated well. For that matter none of the other stocks mentioned could be said to have derived their merited quota of strength.

In mines, Falconbridge gained 90, Sudbury Basin 45, Ventures 15. Amulet had a ten-point strength in a big business day, but closed only 3 points up. These were the performers of the mining issues.

The street is beginning to disregard bearish talk of Noranda. Having been satisfied by official denial of reported diminishing ore values, now attention is turned to possible future earnings and estimates run between $6 and $7 on the basis of 18-cent copper, which is probably conservative.

International Nickel today closed unchanged after slight fluctuation. Despite numerous theories for the stock's recent strength the apparent basis is confirmation of Frood ore, the certainty of greatly increased earnings, not this year, but starting around the middle of 1930.

Additional Rally Today Says Whitney

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Whitney, of the Wall Street Financial Service, today says: I am more optimistic now on the so-called general market than at any time since September 4, when you were warned to look out for trouble. Incidentally September 4 marked the absolute top for the market as measured by both the industrial and rail averages. The reason for the greater optimism is that the difficulty in the London market which was in the making in early September has now passed into history, and without doing much damage except to those individuals directly involved, plus the fact that we note a return of the right kind of bank buying in both the oil and rail groups, as well as in fairly substantial proportions of the industrial group, while selling at current levels, is coming from the general public to a fair extent, but to a greater degree from two or three organized bear groups which have neither the calibre nor the resources to give them other than temporary success when buying of the quality which has now appeared enters the market.

I expect two clearly defined group movements to higher levels, these groups being rails and oils, and I believe that the resumption of these two movements will be clearly indicated in today's market. With negligible exceptions there has never been any good selling in the utility groups. All that is said above does not alter the fact that the outlook is for a continuation of a highly confused market with about a fifth of the list headed for new high records and the balance simply retracing a substantial part of the ground which it has been covering since the beginning of September.

With preparations being made for the month-end, which this month is coincident with the end of the third quarter of the year, it is not to be expected that money will be other than temporarily high, but temporarily only.

Since the purchase of Allegheny Corporation is in effect the purchase of a number of rail stocks, the purchase of Allegheny Corporation is recommended at this time, particularly while it is available below 55, from which figure an approximate objective some 20 points higher is not unreasonable.

Continue the purchase of Erie, particularly while it is available below 90, and D. L. & W. below 160, and of Canadian Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio; in the oil group buy Standard of New Jersey below 75, Standard of New York below 45, Royal Dutch below 60, Pan American below 65 and Superior around 20, whereat these prices the stocks are bargains. For that matter they were bargains at many prices at which they have sold this year.

In the utilities buy United Gas Improvement, Consolidated Gas and Public Service of New Jersey; in the industrials buy U.S. Realty, the two previously mentioned rubber stocks, Canada Dry, White Rock, United Fruit, the two coal stocks and Mathieson Alkali, on which I believe we can use an objective of 85.

Earning—Saving—Investing

What is accrued interest?

When the average investor is informed that he paid par and accrued interest for his bond, he realizes what par is, but he is rather hazy as to what accrued interest means.

Bond interest is usually paid twice a year, say for example, January and July. If you buy a $100 bond from John Doe in December, is there any reason why you should get all that six months' interest which will be paid in January, when he held that bond five months of the period? Of course not. He deserves five months' interest, or $2.50, and if you hold the bond a month you deserve one month's interest or 50c at the time the coupon is paid in January.

When you receive $3 interest in January you can't conveniently run around the country looking for John Doe to give him the $2.50 you owe him, so the logical thing to do is to pay that $2.50 at the time you buy the bond. That is accrued interest. Next month when you receive the $3 it all belongs to you, because John has already been paid his $2.50.

ALBERTA FIELD MAKING RECORD

NOW PRODUCING MORE OIL THAN THREE STATES COMBINED

Little Fear of Overproduction, Says Expert, Although Output Increasing Fast

(Meharey, Roe & Co., Ltd.)

According to F. J. S. Sur, petroleum geologist, Alberta is now producing more oil than Colorado, New Mexico and Montana combined. Mr. Sur says he feels that it is doubtful whether there will ever be overproduction in Alberta, as Canada imports oil from Peru and Mexico in very large quantities. Also, he says the production of oil in Montana, New Mexico and Colorado is decreasing, while the production in Alberta is increasing now at a faster rate than these mentioned states ever increased, even in their boom days.

The management of the Homestead Oils advises that the fire at their No. 1 well is believed to have been caused by faulty wiring and that the loss to the company was almost entirely covered by insurance. Also that a new Emsco Steel derrick of the latest type has been ordered and is now in the course of erection.

As well as the 20 per cent dividend, payable to shareholders on record September 30, the Home Oil Company is planning to split the stock on a basis of six for one, and the new shares should be ready for distribution by October 1.

Calmont is planning an increase in its capitalization, and at a meeting of shareholders held last week the directors were authorized to increase the capital stock from 2,000,000 shares of $1 par to 10,000,000 of $1 par. Authority was also given at the meeting to declare a 400 per cent stock dividend, so that each registered shareholder of Calmont will receive four shares of $1 par value for each share now held. Calmont has a million-dollar drilling programme for this year, and by this week-end should have eight rigs in operation.

A.P. Consolidated No. 1 was down approximately 3,500 feet last week and No. 2 is at a depth of over 2,700 feet.

It is reported that trading started in the East in McDougall-Segur stock during last week.

Spooner No. 3 is scheduled to be spudded in early this week.

Ideal weather conditions prevail at present, the continued dry spell, interrupted only by an occasional shower, has left the roads in first-class condition, which means a minimum outlay for transporting equipment, fuel and other supplies to fields at a distance from a railway.

MARKET HEAVY AT THE START

ALL LOSSES MORE THAN REGAINED LATER IN THE DAY

Some Good Buying on Early Decline by Strong Interests—Rains Reported

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—Wheat: The market was rather heavy during the first half of today's session, when prices declined from 1 1-2 to 1 1-8 under the close Saturday, but all losses were more than regained later in the day when shorts were forced to cover due to an advance of 2 cents in Chicago, based on reported frosts in Argentina and to Babson's prediction that all grains were headed for higher levels.

However, the advance did not bring in any new buying, and, after the shorts were satisfied, the market again eased off. There was a small export business worked over the week-end, the U.K.A.Y. taking some No. 2 Northern and the continent a little No. 5, and there was a fairly good demand for cash wheat from shippers, who were taking practically all grades that were coming out, but the offerings were again light and spreads firm. Export sales and the cash demand are both considerably smaller than is general at this time of the year.

There was some good buying in the pit on the early decline by strong interests, which probably reflected the export business done, but, with the tremendous supplies in North America still getting larger, the bulges are bound to meet with heavy resistance, so long as export business is miserably slow. Rains were reported falling in both Argentina and Australia, which will be very beneficial, and light frosts would not harm the Argentina crop at the present stage.

Millers report a fair domestic business, but flour exports are practically nil. The market closed heavy.

Coarse Grains: Outside of a little domestic business in oats there was very little doing in coarse grains. There was no pressure on the oat market, offerings being extremely light, but export business is needed in both barley and rye.

Flax: This market continued draggy with the deferred months weak. No feature, with demand very poor.

With the recent rapid rise in the shares of the Sun Life, which have advanced from $6,000 a few months ago to the present price of $3,000, the attention of investors is again being attracted to insurance companies. While the stocks of some companies have advanced during the past few months, the shares of many companies have not.

Investors in the stocks of the well-established insurance companies have during the past ten years, received handsome returns on their investments. From the period 1918 to the end of 1928 analyses show that thirty-seven insurance companies would have shown the investor an annual return of 60 per cent per annum.

PRICES TAKE STRONG TREND AT VANCOUVER

Reports Received From Associated Well Gives Impetus to Values of General List of Oils

ALL PRICES SHOW IMPROVED TONE

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Confirmation of the report that a strong gas flow had been encountered at the Associated well over the week-end strengthened prices in the oil issues on the Stock Exchange today, the general list closing with gains ranging from 5 cents to $5. The mines, under a limited demand, were showing strength also.

Associated, starting at $4, compared with Saturday's close at $2.40, weakened under heavy offerings, closing with a net gain for the day of $1.36 to $3.76. Mill City was up 70 cents at $6.95, and Royalite $5 at $130 on light sales. C. & E. was in good demand and closed at 35 cents higher at $5.70. Mayland was up 25 cents to $8.95, and Home Oil 10 cents at $18.85. A.P.O. and Calmont were 8 and 5 cents firmer respectively. McLeod and Vanalta were off 15 cents and 8 cents.

In the mines, George Copper closed 5 cents up at $5.65; Golconda 4 cents at 81, and Orandview 1 1-2 cents at 31 1-2. The balance of the list was generally steady.

AIR OF CAUTION PERVADES MARKET

Confidence Develops as Session Gets Well Under Way on New York Exchange

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Following two trading days of reactionary prices the initial transactions of today were accompanied by an air of caution, but in the main a firming tendency was the rule. After the session got well under way a more confident mood seemed to develop, reflecting probably the concensus of various week-end reviews, which stressed the fact that the outlook for business remained encouraging.

The exception to the rule was again provided by the utility issues only today, as instead of being pushed into new high ground they were decidedly reactionary due, apparently, to withdrawal of aggressive support, which may, or may not, be a temporary phase of the current market.

Incidentally, the steel industry reported better inquiry from the equipment companies, which induced some brisk buying in several shares, particularly Pullman. U.S. Steel itself did not have to bear the brunt of bearish attack as in days past, and was able to score several points advance.

Perhaps the most conspicuous feature on the upside today was the strength in the copper shares, particularly Anaconda. This was probably a reflection on the neglect accorded them in recent sessions, although of Anaconda it was specifically stated that an increased dividend in some form was a near term probability.

The amusement shares, particularly Fox Film, were also strong, reflecting, no doubt, the possibility of more definite alignments to take place in that field of business endeavor in the near future. In the afternoon, with the advance in call money to 10 per cent, some irregularity was to be noted in some parts of the list that hitherto had held up well, but on the whole the market may be said to have displayed vital strength. Despite periods of reaction that may naturally develop, we believe that for the present trading operations may be more satisfactorily carried on from the constructive side, especially through the medium of the copper and rail shares and the conservatively priced oils.

STOCKS UNSETTLED BY NEW STRINGENCY

Bearish Professionals Make Further Drives—Some New Lows Forced

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Stocks were unsettled at the start of the new week by the appearance of renewed stringency in the demand loan market. Banks made large withdrawals of funds in connection with the semi-weekly adjustment of reserves. These requisitions forced the call rate to 10 per cent by early afternoon, compared with a renewal rate of 8 per cent.

Bearish professionals employed this situation as the basis for further drives on stocks, in which operations for the decline had recently been successful. New lows on the movement were forced in Radio Corporation, United Aircraft and Westinghouse Electric. However, attempts to spread the selling movement to the general list were frustrated by power support, which developed in various pivotal shares.

In view of the statement of Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank that there was no need to worry about brokers' loan and that the business and financial outlook of the country was good, strong confidence existed regarding the underlying soundness of standard stocks, and issues of this description met excellent demand on recessions.

STOCKS SHOULD MOVE FORWARD

UTILITIES EXPECTED TO COMMAND ATTENTION OF TRADING COMMUNITY

Rails' Reports Published Justify All Expectations—Mercantiles in Foreground

(B.O. Bond Corporation, Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Saturday's market moved closely within the range outlined, and gave definite signs of an improved technical position of the major body of stocks. With week-end reports highly satisfactory, and the prospects of all business well above the average, the market should open up in an optimistic mood and a goodly portion of the list should move forward.

A few individual issues should command the particular attention of the trading community, and chief among these should once more be the utilities, which apparently got the upper hand and are now in a good position to move upward again.

Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey, United Corporation, United Gas & Improvement and Columbia Gas offer excellent trading possibilities.

The few rails which have already published their reports, fully justified all expectations, and beginning with today many more reports will make their appearance, thus preparing the ground for a new advance of railroad stock.

The movement in this group, however, will not start before the other popular issues show signs of animation. But this should be a good time for accumulating rails like Baltimore & Ohio, New Haven, Union Pacific, Atchison, etc.

The mercantile group has done fairly well in the recent weeks, and after consolidating its gains it should be once more in the foreground. Initial stage, October to December, is the biggest period for this group, and the public will undoubtedly went to participate in its prosperity. Money should remain comparatively easy during the early part of the week, but in view of the approach of the month-end, firmer tendencies should develop before the week is over.

Gillete Safety Razor usually has moves all of its own, and its recent action indicates a revival of buying which should carry Gillette into new high territory. Although its business is not seasonal, sales during the Fall and holiday period are at their height, and usually excellent profits are recorded during the last quarter of the year. The company apparently is able to meet all competition and is steadily increasing sales. Purchases of the stock promise good profits in the future.

Westinghouse Electric is over 40 points below the recent high, and should experience no difficulty in recovering the lost ground. Within a few weeks the company will report its sales during the past quarter and also inform the public about the unfilled orders it has on hand. Being a manufacturer of a variety of electrical appliances, which are in particular demand during the holiday season, it can be expected with certainty that the sales during the third quarter have been exceptionally large. A few individual orders, each amounting to a few million dollars, were recently reported, and those should greatly swell the total of unfilled orders on hand. With such prospects in the near future, all Westinghouse needs is an improved tone in the general market to stage a rapid recovery.

Woolworth lost practically nothing despite heavy week-end profit taking. It apparently established itself definitely above the 100 mark, and after a little profit taking is absorbed, it should forge ahead. Barring minor fluctuations, Woolworth should, from now on, be a one-way stock.

ENROLLMENT IN TECHNICAL CLASSES NOW TAKING PLACE

Enrollment in evening technical classes under the auspices of the City School Board is now taking place for class work which is to commence on October 3. Nominal fees are charged for instruction in a wide range of subjects and a detailed statement of the variety of courses open to night school students and other information may be obtained from Mr. W. H. Binns, supervisor of technical education for city schools, southwest wing of the City Hall, from 4 to 5 o'clock daily, Saturdays and Sundays excepted.

The classes will mostly be held this year on Monday and Thursday evenings, with some exceptions noted in the printed programme of the syllabus. The classes include commercial, technical and engineering courses, building trades, art courses and fine arts, household economics, dressmaking, millinery, home nursing and hygiene, cooking, languages, public speaking, matriculation subjects and continuation classes leading to high school entrance.

The temptation to try for an extra trick frequently assails the Declarer, who with a sure game in hand can see the possibility of an extra trick or two provided there be no unequal split of the outstanding cards of the trump suit. Such chances, however, should never be taken when they threaten loss of game should the split of the adverse trumps be unequal as is the case in the split of the four outstanding Hearts in the above hand.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Auction: South and West passing, North opens the bid Third Hand with one Heart, which concludes the bidding.

Contract: As in Auction, North opens the bid Third Hand with one Heart; which South with two high honors in Hearts and three and a half probable tricks increases to two Hearts in preference to showing his Spade suit. West passing, North with six and a half probable tricks bids four Hearts which concludes the bidding.

THE PLAY

East opens his fourth-best Club, the Six. Following this opening and the exposure of Dummy, North sees that he can make his four-odd surely by winning with the Ace of Clubs, trump a Club in Dummy; return a small Diamond to his Ace, trump his remaining losing Club with the Ace of Hearts. Next he should lead the Queen of Hearts overtaking with his King and thereafter exhaust the adverse Hearts. In this way, he is sure of six Heart tricks, two Club ruffs and two Aces, or, ten tricks in all.

While he might try to gain an added trick by endeavoring to set the Spade suit in Dummy, such endeavor could be defeated should the adverse Hearts be split 3-1 as was the case in this instance.

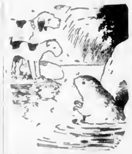
Flip Is Properly Introduced

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

E'en humble folk possessing skill,
In showing off get quite a thrill.
—Jerry Muskrat.



"I hope you'll excuse me for trying to catch you," said Flip politely

Bowser the Hound and Flip the Terrier were paying another visit to the Smiling Pool. Flip felt a little sheepish. Yes, sir, Flip felt a little sheepish. He hadn't forgotten his last visit to the Smiling Pool, when he had chased Jerry Muskrat all over it, not knowing that Jerry could dive and swim almost like a fish. You see, it was the first time he had ever seen Jerry.

"Do you suppose we will see Jerry Muskrat?" asked Flip as they approached the Smiling Pool.

"One never can tell about Jerry Muskrat," replied Bowser. "We may see him and we may not."

"Does he live in the water all the time?" inquired Flip.

"No," replied Bowser, "certainly not. He has to sleep sometimes."

"Well, why can't he sleep in the water?" demanded Flip.

"Because he's an animal, not a fish," retorted Bowser.

"Well, where does he sleep?" Flip inquired.

"Did you see that house among the rushes, where the Laughing Brook comes into the Smiling Pool?" inquired Bowser.

Flip shook his head. "No," said he, "I didn't. What kind of a house?"

"We'll see it when we get over there," said Bowser.

When they reach the Smiling Pool they both looked for Jerry Muskrat, but Jerry was nowhere to be seen. He wasn't on the Big Rock, he wasn't on his favorite log. "Probably he is taking a nap at his house over there," said Bowser.

Flip looked where Bowser was pointing. In among the rushes, but quite surrounded by water, was a big, brown mound that looked as if it had been made of dead rushes; and, indeed, it had. "Is that Jerry Muskrat's house?" inquired Flip.

Bowser nodded. "It certainly is," said he.

"Who built it for him?" Flip wanted to know.

Bowser turned to look at Flip to see if he were joking. "He built it himself," he replied dryly.

"Huh!" exclaimed Flip. "I didn't know there was a Rat in all the Great World who could do that much work."

"You don't know Jerry Muskrat," replied Bowser. "Jerry is the best little worker anywhere about here. I don't know his equal with the exception of Paddy the Beaver, over in the Green Forest. Hello, here comes Jerry now."

Sure enough, a brown head was moving up swiftly through the water from the lower end of the Smiling Pool. Bowser and Flip sat perfectly still. Just as Jerry was passing close to the bank where they sat, Bowser spoke. "Hello, Jerry Muskrat!" said he.

Jerry stopped swimming and looked up at Bowser. "Hello, yourself!" said he in a rather squeaky voice.

"I want you to meet a friend of mine who has come to live at Farmer Brown's," said Bowser. "His name is Flip."

"It seems to me that I have seen him before," replied Jerry, his eyes twinkling. "I believe he is quite a swimmer." Jerry chuckled as he said this. So did Bowser. Flip hesitated and then he chuckled, too. They were all thinking of how Flip had tried to catch Jerry in the water and how Jerry had just played with him.

"I hope you'll excuse me for trying to catch you," said Flip quietly.

"Oh, it didn't bother me at all," said Jerry Muskrat. "It just gave me a little exercise."

"You see, I thought you were one of the family of Robber the Rat," explained Flip.

REAL SOUND VALUE IN FOUR SECOND-HAND HOUSES
1913-14 MODELS

HOW VALUED—In appraising the value of these houses we have used the generally recognized system of taking the present-day replacement cost of the house and deducting therefrom a liberal allowance for depreciation for each year of its life. Furthermore we have allowed for a generous estimated cost of needed repairs. The result is sound value, which we are sure will satisfy the most careful buyer. AT THESE PRICES THEY MUST SELL, AND WE BELIEVE WE CAN DISPOSE OF THEM ALL WITHIN SIXTY DAYS. WE WANT YOU TO SEE THE SPLENDID VALUE IN THESE HOUSES, SO PLEASE ASK FOR AN APPOINTMENT TO INSPECT

(1) OAK BAY, ST. ANNE STREET—Nice locality, view of sea. A well-built house of 6 rooms, very compact, pleasing interior with hardwood floors, good-size dining-room, cosy den with fireplace. Excellent full cement basement and furnace. Price $4750

(2) GORGE, SELKIRK AVENUE—Substantial and attractive 9-room bungalow, full basement and furnace, new roof, stone fence, shade and ornamental trees, view of water, paved street, quiet locality. Special low price to settle an estate. Terms $2900

(3) GORGE—Adjoins No. 2—A really good story-and-half house, containing 7 nice rooms, large living-room opening into dining-room of about same size. These two rooms could be used as one, as there is another room off kitchen suitable for a dining-room. Full cement basement. Shade trees. Price $2700

(4) COOK ST. AND PRINCESS AVE.—Without doubt this is a really attractive bungalow. Contains five rooms. Interior in first-class shape. Basement, garage, no furnace. Fine situation, nice locality, within walking distance of town. Price $2800

NOTICE

These houses are ALL WORTH THE PRICE at which they are being offered. They have been properly valued and are recommended by us. Comparisons are invited with other offerings in this paper.

RETAIL PRICE OF EGGS GOES UP TWO CENTS

Due to Conditions in Eastern Markets—Beef and Pork Prices Lower—May Decline Further

FRUIT SUPPLY AND DEMAND IS ACTIVE

Due to lessened supplies on the Eastern markets during the past fortnight, the local egg prices took another two-cent jump upward yesterday. The increase occurred on the retail mart only and the vendors are now quoting the following prices: Extras, 54c; firsts, 52c and pullet extras 45c a dozen.

For some time the British Columbia markets have been under the influence of the large Eastern centres and will continue to be in that position until the Eastern market resumes its normal status. The market here, on the whole, has been very quiet lately and receipts of extras are now falling off rapidly as the old hens are coming into the moulting season and it will not be long before there will not be any great quantities of this grade available. Within a short while, firsts and pullet extras will become the chief grades from all British Columbia cities.

Conditions are very unsettled, and vendors report that small pullet eggs are selling a great deal more rapidly than the higher grades. How long this situation will remain cannot be predicted with certainty.

About the same time that eggs went higher a report was received that beef and hog quotations had dropped a cent per pound. Meat vendors state that another cent or two decline, which may take place within a week, will mark the end of the downward trend of meat for some time. The change was brought, it is understood, when the farmers had completed their harvesting work and began their Fall slaughtering operations, thereby causing plenty of meat to come to the wholesalers.

Jobbers report that fruit and vegetable lines are in the best possible conditions with the exception of a few commodities such as oranges and lemons, which still remain high in prices, especially the latter. At the present the mart is flooded with local and imported fruits of all varieties, but the inquiry is heavy and the operators are able to look after the situation.

Lemons are at the highest price for years, and will stay that way until crop conditions improve in the South and the consumption in the Middle and Eastern States decreases. A slight shortage of oranges in California has forced the distributors to raise their quotations.

A good consignment of Florida grapefruit arrived and the following varieties of grapes are on stock: Thompson, seedless, Ribier, Tokay, Lady Fingers and Red Malagas. Melons include cantaloupes, honeydews, watermelons and casabas. Local fruit supplies are made up of apples, prunes, plums, pears and crabapples.

PLAN PROPOSED FOR T.B. PATIENTS

Admission of Certain Cases to Tranquille Sanitorium Recommended by M.H. Officer

Dr. R. Felton, medical health officer, has recommended to the City Council the admission of city tuberculosis patients to Tranquille Sanatorium in cases where to educate discharged patients to help them maintain health, or to prevent spread of infection, if not completely cured, was the object. Last night the City Council referred the matter to the finance committee to make recommendations with regard to the policy to be adopted.

The object to which Dr. Felton referred was, he said, of immense portance. Even if the tuberculosis department of the local hospital were organized under a single tuberculosis specialist, and adopted a sanitorium routine, it might still, he suggested, be advisable to select certain cases for transfer to a strictly tuberculosis sanitorium, for the reason of prolonged occupational treatment.

Dr. Felton recommended that a suitable selection of city patients be admitted or transferred to Tranquille. In 1928, seventy-seven cases were admitted to the Jubilee Hospital, with an average of 147 days' treatment each. If all these cases, said Dr. Felton, had been sent to Tranquille, the cost to the city would have been $7,920. If a generous selection had been made, say of two-thirds, the cost would have been $5,280, and if a stringent selection, say one-third, the cost would have amounted to $2,640.

PHIL PERKINS WILL TAKE UP RESIDENCE IN UNITED STATES

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Phil Perkins, former amateur champion golfer of Great Britain, left for the United States today, where he is to take up a permanent residence. He has secured an appointment with a Wall Street firm.

EAGLES' CONCERT

A meeting of the Victoria Eagles Lodge will be held tomorrow night at 7.30 o'clock in the Eagles' Hall, Government Street. A concert will be held at 9 o'clock with Past President Charles Jasper in charge, and will be followed by a dance. Refreshments will be served by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Colonel Leonard P. Ayres, the economist and financier, said in a success talk in Cleveland:

"You can't keep a good man down. Look at Jonah. Look at Sir Augustus Harris.

"Harris wound up as the millionaire proprietor of Drury Lane Theatre. And how did he make his first entry into Drury Lane? Why, on his uppers. He was no Sir Augustus then. He was plain Gus Harris, hungry and shabby and looking for a job.

"'Bruce,' the boss of Drury Lane, glared at Harris from the heap of papers on his desk.

"'Well?' he said.

"'Do you want a stage manager?' said Harris.

"'No; I'm my own stage manager,' said Bruce.

"'Do you want an acting manager?'

"'No, I'm my own acting manager.'

"'Do you want a press agent?'

"'I'm my own press agent.'

"'Do you want an actor?'

"'No!' Bruce growled. 'No, I don't want nothing. For heaven's sake, man, clear out. Vamoose. Can't you see I'm so busy I don't know which way to turn?'

"'Then you want help,' said Harris, peeling off his coat. 'I'll stay and help you.'

"And stay he did and he soon owned the theatre."

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 23.—A fish collecting boat, owned by Mr. A. Nelson, of Haney, and containing 1,000 salmon, sank in the Fraser River, due, it is reported, to a plug in the bottom of the vessel not having been properly replaced.

Prince Rupert's Procathedral Is Made Cathedral

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Sept. 23.—A very important ecclesiastical change took place in Prince Rupert on Sunday, when the procathedral here was officially declared to have the full status of a cathedral and Rev. J. G. Gibson, the rector, was created dean.

The change took place at the jubilee service of the diocese, the announcement being made by Bishop Rix of Caledonia.

Rev. Oliver Thorne, of Kincolith, was at the same time appointed chaplain to the bishop.

Will Relieve Island Princess Tomorrow and Change Sailing Time on October 7.

CHANGE OF SHIPS ON TRIANGLE RUN

The Otter will go into commission on the Gulf Islands route tomorrow, continuing on the same service as the Island Princess until the announced date of the change of schedule for the Winter sailings. That date will be October 7, when, for the convenience of passengers, calls will be made twice daily at Sidney wharf.

This change will involve the withdrawal of the Island Princess from service this Winter.

While the Princess Charlotte is given an opportunity to take the Princess Elaine's run from Vancouver to Nanaimo, the latter ship will be withdrawn. This will be only a period of two or three days, as the Princess Charlotte is timed to take up the Princess Kathleen's sailing schedule on the triangle run on Sunday next. This change will not affect the Princess Marguerite, which will be continued until the end of November. There will, however, be a change in the departure time, as 2 o'clock will be the sailing time from Victoria for Vancouver.

Kumtuks Club Meets

A number of Kumtuks Club members at the usual supper meeting at the Y.W.C.A. last evening announced their intention of going to Vancouver next Saturday evening to attend the Vancouver Professional and Business Women's Club annual banquet that night.

At last night's meeting the chairmen of the various committees reported on their work for the past month. The club decided to assist the Y.W.C.A. at its fancy fair on October 2 and 3. A community card party is to be held during the week of October 14 to 19 at which members of the club will act as hostesses. Miss Jessie Morrison was elected a new member.

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—Bequests of nearly $200,000 to hospitals and other charitable organizations in Toronto are contained in the will of Sir Edward Kemp, K.C.M.G., former Minister of Militia in the Government of Sir Robert Borden. Application to have the will probated was made here today.

MAJOR LEAGUE OWNERS FACING HUGE DEFICITS

Several Owners Will Drop From $250,000 to $500,000 Before Present Season Closes

CUBS AND A'S ONLY CLUBS ON VELVET

Big-hearted baseball magnates are about to begin payment to the fiddler for a two weeks' dance through open dates toward two crowded week-ends, which may or may not entice sufficient fans to the parks to pay the ushers. William Wrigley, of course, is sitting pretty with the Cubs, and even the Athletics should prove no great financial drain upon the Messrs. Shibe and McGillicuddy in the dying days. But the rest of the boys face a deficit estimated in the aggregate at anywhere between $250,000 and $500,000.

If anything can bring a magnate to his senses it is a deficit, and for this reason alone it may be authoritatively stated that the schedules for 1930 will make use of the time-saving opportunities offered by Sunday baseball in Boston. With a few regularly scheduled double-headers played upon the chart for Philadelphia a full week could easily be cut from the 1929 programme, which covered twenty-five weeks of 196 playing days.

The poor business being transacted at the turnstiles at this moment is largely due, of course, to the two runaway races, about which magnates can do nothing. But if a race is going to be lopsided anyhow, the club owners certainly will lose less by moving toward them with the minimum of open dates.

Coroner's Jury Find Death Was Only Accident

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Evidence was given to a coroner's jury this afternoon that a street car, on Friday night, struck William Inwood, painter, employed on Granville Bridge track reconstruction, and hurled him through the open ties of the adjacent track allowance. Inwood died in the General Hospital on Saturday morning. A verdict of accidental death was returned by the jury, which stated he came to his death as the result of injuries received while working at his occupation as a painter.

A verdict of accidental death was returned at an inquest at Chatmsford on Miss Alice Winterbon, aged thirty-two, of St. Lawrence Bay, near Southminster, Essex, who was fatally burned when her hair caught fire. It was stated that she was brushing her hair when it was blown by a draught on to a lighted candle. A relative said that Miss Winterbon's hair was four feet long.

Son of Head of Donaldson Line Tells of New Ships For Service to This Port

Visiting the Pacific Coast for the purpose of acquainting himself with business conditions and the possibilities of cargo, whole or partial, in and out, Mr. C. Olen Donaldson, son of the head of the Donaldson Steamship Line, was in Victoria for several days last week. Originally intending to spend but a day in meeting local importers and exporters, Mr. Donaldson's stay was prolonged until Sunday afternoon, when he left for Seattle and the South to consult with agents of his company in the Sound cities, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles. From the latter point Mr. Donaldson expects to return to Glasgow, the home port of the Donaldson Line, by water, via the Panama Canal, on one of the company's ships voyaging eastward.

Seen aboard the Parthenia Sunday morning shortly after the vessel docked, Mr. Donaldson spoke enthusiastically of the manner in which he had been received by the heads of different firms locally, as a result of which it would give him great pleasure to report to the home office possibilities of future development in the way of carrying Old Country goods for local importers on boats of the Donaldson Line. His company had so much faith in the future growth of trade on the Pacific, and particularly this section, that the members were building and equipping boats especially designed to handle the business.

One of the newer boats was here recently, the Oregalia, and shortly the Solaria will arrive on her maiden voyage. This will make six boats in the trade, all equipped with the most modern refrigerating machinery. In a short time two more vessels will be added to this route, giving Victoria a fortnightly service from the Old Country. This regular twice-a-month service was recently decided upon and should be sufficient proof of his company's desire to give importers and exporters in this section of the Empire the best service possible. There was no doubt in his mind but that Pacific Coast shipping was on the eve of big developments, and his company would have a share in bringing them on.

Mr. Donaldson was accompanied by his wife, and during his stay here was made acquainted with local shipping men and others through the good offices of Messrs. H. T. Barnes and A. E. Shanks, of Rithets Consolidated, the local agents of the Donaldson Line. Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson went up over the Malahat in a "drive yourself" motor car when their friends were not looking and enjoyed the experience very much. Without being asked what he thought of Victoria, Mr. Donaldson said there was nothing strange to him about it, everything was so much like home he felt the same as being there.

Premier MacDonald Travels by Airplane

PREMIER Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and his daughter, Ishbel, completed their journey from Geneva by flying from Paris to London in an Imperial Airways air liner. The photographer here shows Ramsay MacDonald, accompanied by his daughter, Ishbel, shaking hands with Captain G. Rose, pilot of the airplane, on their arrival at Croydon, England. The Premier will sail for Canada on September 28.

Vancouver Tug Hits Reef in Porlier Pass

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—Caught in an eddy in Porlier Pass, Sunday morning, the tug Plunger was swept on a rock and is now being brought to Vancouver by the Pacific Salvage Company's work boat Hecla II. The Marpole Towing Company, operators of the Plunger, has received reports that she is in no danger.

Porlier Pass is north of Chemainus and is used by vessels plying between Vancouver and the Vancouver Island lumber port. Captain Moffet is master of the tug.

TWO SHIPS LOAD CHEMAINUS CARGO

CHEMAINUS, Sept. 23. — Ss. Orient City is here loading 1,500,000 feet of lumber. Ss. Diana Dollar is loading lumber from scows in the stream.

Ss. Texada entered on Saturday with a cargo of salt for the Reed and Galiano Island Salteries. Crews worked all Saturday night unloading the cargo, and on Sunday the Clayburn took out three scows loaded with the salt.

The tug Sadie brought in a boom from Osborn Bay, and Martha Fosse left on Sunday with a boom of logs for Seattle.

Twenty-one English clergymen, including the Bishop of Ripon, recently visited Germany as the guests of the German Council of the World Alliance.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock add [illegible] feet to the height of high water as above given.

TWO VESSELS LOCKED IN BY ARCTIC FLOES

Trading Ship Nanuk and Soviet Supply Craft, Stavatol, Held Fast Near Cape Siberia for Winter

PLANE MAY VOYAGE IN QUEST OF FURS

NOME, Sept. 23.—Another trading ship, the Nanuk, of the Swenson Trading Company, was reported today locked fast in the ice near Cape Siberia, with not a chance to escape before next Summer.

The Russian supply ship, Stavatol, also was caught in the ice, the report reaching here today, said.

Officials of the Alaska-Washington Airways Incorporated said there was a possibility that a plane would leave in the near future to bring back Olaf Swenson, owner of the ship, and his daughter, who were aboard the Nanuk. The officials also said several trips would be made to the Nanuk by air this Winter to bring out many thousands of dollars' worth of furs now aboard the icebound ship.

Anthia Steams At Top Speed To Ship Afire

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A fire aboard the British freighter Silton Hall, in the Southern Indian Ocean, has been reported by the steamship Anthia, which last night radioed that she was proceeding at full steam to the rescue. The Perth radio station received a message from Captain Tulloch, of the Anthia, dated September 21, reading as follows:

"Present position of ship 37 32 south, 21:58 east. Driving all speed, every effort being made to rescue those on board the Silton Hall which is on fire, 390 miles southeast of us."

The Silton Hall is 3,450 tons. She left Port Natal on September 5 for Adelaide.

SWEDISH STEAMER CARL JEKHWID STRANDS NEAR ELIZABETH, N.C.

Twenty-One Taken Safely Ashore Through Waves by Coastguardsmen

ELIZABETH, N.C., Sept. 23.—The crew of the Swedish steamer, Carl Jekhwid, which stranded a half-mile north of Devil coastguard station last night, was rescued today, it was announced at district coastguard headquarters. The twenty-one men and one woman aboard were brought ashore in breeches buoys in the face of heavy seas.

Opium Penalty To Be Changed By U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 23.—The Senate today voted to restore a House provision to the tariff bill, making the owner of a vessel, as well as the master, subject to a penalty of $25 an ounce for all smoking opium found unmanifested on a ship.

The Senate also turned down a committee amendment to strike out a House provision to make the penalties constitute a lien upon vessels, including common carriers.

COWICHAN BAY, Sept. 23.—The United States steam schooner, H. W. Baxter, arrived here on Friday to load cedar poles for San Diego.

TOKIWA MEETS TERRIFIC GALE

CAPT. SHIYGO, OF N.Y.K. VESSEL, REPORTS BAROMETER AT 28.8

Arrives Here Full Day Late From Japan With 132 Tons of Local Cargo

In from the Orient Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha SS. Tokiwa Maru, Captain M. Shiygo, tied up at Rithet piers and discharged 132 tons of freight for local merchants, leaving for Seattle at midday, for which port she carried two passengers.

The liner had a small cargo, eastbound freights falling off at this time of year, 1,815 tons in all. While small in tonnage, the cargo was a valuable one, there being, in addition to general freight, some 3,000 bales of raw silk and silk goods. Captain Shiygo stated that very heavy weather had been experienced until mid-Pacific was reached, when the weather got more favorable.

His vessel was a full day late in reaching Victoria on account of a particularly heavy gale which was encountered shortly after leaving the Japanese coast. It was the worst he had ever experienced, the barometer dropping to 28.08.

PARTHENIA DOCKS WITH FIFTY TONS

Donaldson Line Freighter Loads 100 Tons of Oat Feed for England

From the Old Country by way of Panama, Los Angeles and San Francisco, SS. Parthenia, of the Donaldson Line, Captain T. Phillip, tied up at Rithet piers Sunday morning at 7 o'clock and left at noon for Mainland ports. The Parthenia discharged fifty tons of cargo while here and loaded 100 tons of oat feed. T. W. Berridge, manager, steamship department of Balfour-Guthrie & Co., of Vancouver, agents for the line, was over from the Mainland city to meet the Parthenia.

Captain Phillip reported an uneventful voyage, with considerable fog in the vicinity of Los Angeles. This voyage of the Parthenia is Captain Phillip's first as her commander, he having been first officer of the Oracia, of the same line, when Captain A. B. Clark resigned from the command of that vessel in San Francisco. Being ordered to take the Oracia home to Glasgow, on arrival there Captain Phillip was given command of the Parthenia when her former captain was transferred to the Oracia.

Since their first trip it's always been

"The Cascade"

You could never induce them to break away from the "Cascade." It would be as difficult to persuade a golf enthusiast to give up his game.

On their first trip they found just what suited them. Nothing overdone, yet, being discriminating, they discovered on the "Cascade" the same distinction, the same good taste and attentive service that won them over to their favorite hotel or country club.

So now, it's always the "Cascade." And they've noticed that they are not alone in being "choosy" about trains. Every trip they see familiar faces—people they've seen before on this same train going to, or coming from, California.

Shower baths, barber, valet, ladies' lounge and maid; drawing rooms and compartments, en suite if desired.

Portland to San Francisco in 22 hours. Through sleepers Seattle to San Francisco; and from Portland to Los Angeles.

Cannot sleep

Do you dread the nights? The time when everyone else is abed? When the noise of the day becomes a murmur and the hours drag into eternities? Of course it's "nerves". Keeping every nerve in your body on edge.

What about your stomach! Any indigestion or acidity to irritate the nerves? Are kidneys and bowels regular? Because they must keep the system free of urea, uric acid and other waste products of digestion, or these poisons will inflame the nerves all over your body.

ABBEY's eases nervousness—not by any direct action on the nerves themselves—but by its beneficent action on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. ABBEY's takes away the poisons that upset the nerves. It sweetens the stomach, and promotes sound digestion, thus giving ease and rest to the nerves of the stomach. When you take ABBEY's in the morning, you sleep well at night.

BELOVED PADRE TO BE VISITOR

Archdeacon Scott Will Be Central Figure of Reunion of War Veterans

Archdeacon Scott, C.M.G. D.S.O., known to all members of the Canadian Corps as "Canon" Scott, will be the central figure at a reunion gathering which will be held in the auditorium of Pro Patria branch of the Canadian Legion, 625 Courtney Street, Monday, September 30, at 8 o'clock.

The gathering, which is under the auspices of the District Council of the Canadian Legion, is being arranged in order to enable the Canon and his old comrades to get together and renew the friendship which was cemented by years of service on the Western Front.

At that well-known place, "Somewhere in France," Canon Scott and all ranks of the 1st Division learned to know and esteem each other. The "brass hat" and mud-bespattered private were one and the same to him—they were his boys. And when the family gathering is held, on Monday, there will be a warm welcome for every ex-service man in Victoria.

And, because the Canon has a heart big enough to embrace the joys and sorrows of his boys, they are asked to bring their wives and give him an opportunity of telling the ladies of what kind of boys his family consists.

Sunset Programme

Radio listeners whose receiving sets are tuned to the wave-length of CFCT, Victoria's radio station, at 8:15 this evening, will enjoy an hour of chamber music, rendered by the pleasing combination of violin, 'cello and piano known as the Sunset Trio. Tonight's hour with the Sunset Broadcasters will be proclaimed opened with a charming suite from the pen of Amy Woodforde-Finden, entitled "A Lover in Damascus." This will be followed by a concert waltz, "The Sphinx," written by Francis Pope, and then the beautiful song, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from Saint Saens' biblical opera, "Samson et Delilah," will be offered for the approval and enjoyment of the unseen audience. A selection from Cuilliver's "The Lilac Domino," is also billed for this evening's "Sunset" programme over the local broadcaster, along with two choice compositions by Ethelbert Nevin, "A Venetian Love Song" and "Narcissus." Tonight's hour of instrumental trio music will draw to a tuneful conclusion with the rendition of a collection of gems from the musical comedy, "The Chocolate Soldier," by Strauss.

At 11 o'clock this evening, CFCT will again be on the air, and a programme of the latest dance music will be released from the south ballroom of the Crystal Garden. The orchestra will entertain patrons of jazz until the mystic hour of midnight, and then CFCT, Victoria's radio station, will be silent.

ANOTHER NIGHT CLUB IS SWEPT BY BLAZE

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Fire of undetermined origin yesterday swept the Club Richman, a night club in the Harlem bright lights district. The flames destroyed furnishings and decorations recently installed at a cost of $100,000, and damaged the building, including several apartments on the upper floors. No one was in the night club when the fire was discovered.

A movement to brick up all useless basements has been started in London in connection with the anti-rat campaign.

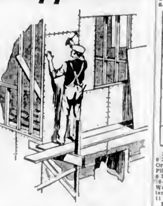
Hungry Furnaces lose their appetites



HOME building economy doesn't necessarily mean trimming down the first cost. Spend a few dollars on Beaver Insulating Board—save year after year in fuel and repairs. It's cheaper to build a warm home than to try to heat a cold one. You get cost-free year around comfort as an added bonus.

If the furnace of your present home has a voracious appetite, if Winter means shovel after shovel of costly fuel, better investigate Beaver Insulating Board. A skillful builder can install it in your home with little dirt or muss.

Roofs and Floors Too

Save Fuel and Repairs with Insulating Board

Beaver Insulating Board (five-ply, 6 sheets to a ply) places 34 barriers against the penetration of dampness, cold or heat. Floors stay smooth, tight, rafters and joists don't rot out; plumbing isn't ruined by corrosion; premature repairs are avoided.

Beaver Board for Interiors

For interior walls, partitions, ceilings, closets, additions to your home, use Beaver Board, the world known four-ply wood fibre board. Its smooth varnished surface decorates easily. Paneled to suit your taste.
